Unit description

This unit provides an examination of the fundamentals of the Australian taxation system. A critical approach is emphasised throughout. Students will be encouraged to think beyond the traditional categories and to pursue an approach which contextualises an appreciation of taxation law issues in their wider societal and technological context. Topics covered include:

- A broad overview of the self-assessment system and how tax is administered;
- The interaction between various taxes;
- Residence and source;
- The concept of income and assessable income;
- Capital gains and their inclusion in assessable income;
- Allowable deductions including the general deduction rule and deduction regimes that supplement the general deduction rule;
- Taxation of capital gains made through partnerships, trusts and corporations, the basic rules for capital gains tax (CGT), main residence exemption and small business concessions under the CGT regime;
- The basic rules of goods and services tax (GST) including adjustments for GST, GST free supplies, input taxed supplies and property issues in relation to GST; and
- Anti-avoidance.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Explain and analyse the fundamental values and principles that relate to taxation in Australia in their societal and technological context.

ULO2: Identify tax law issues and be able to apply the Income Tax, GST, tax administration regimes and the provisions dealing with tax avoidance for the purposes of giving professional advice.

ULO3: Develop tax management and planning strategies for individuals and businesses at various stages.

ULO4: Analyse the way that taxation laws impact Australian individuals and businesses from the perspective of revenue raising and distribution, taxation accountability and tax administration in tackling current taxation challenges in modern Australia.

General Assessment Information

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – 10 marks out of 100 credit will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted seven days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments - e.g. quizzes, online tests.

All assessments are submitted electronically. Turnitin plagiarism detection software is used to check all written assessments.

Students should carefully check that they submit the correct file for an assessment as no re-submissions will be accepted after the due date and time, including instances where students upload an incorrect file in error.

Word limits are strictly applied. Work above the word limit will not be marked. Footnotes are to be used only for referencing. Referencing must conform to the requirements set out in the Australian Guide to Legal Citation.
