Unit description

This unit is a Capstone for the Master of Applied Economics. It is designed to create a bridge between the knowledge and skills acquired in the course, and the broader society, including business and government. The unit attempts to provide students with a practical understanding of how theories, methods and knowledge of economics can be relied upon to understand and solve issues in the real world. The unit is primarily based on a specific economic project chosen from the students' own business or social environment. Students work in teams to nominate a problem, and to undertake appropriate research and analysis so as to ultimately propose solutions. The scope of the economic project can be microeconomics or macroeconomics; this will depend on the nature of the chosen problem, and the theories and techniques selected in response.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Apply advanced knowledge of key economic ideas to the problems faced by economic decision makers.

ULO2: Synthesise and creatively adapt learning to complex economic issues in preparation for professional practice.

ULO3: Effectively communicate complex economic ideas and solutions to specialist and non-specialist audiences.

ULO4: Interpret and apply ethical dimension of business practice to economic and policy decision choices.

ULO5: Collaborate with peers to prepare and present research findings on current real-world issues.

General Assessment Information

Late Assessment Submission Penalty (written assessments)

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a grade of '0' will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical concern.

For any late submissions of time-sensitive tasks, such as scheduled tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, and/or scheduled practical assessments/labs, students need to submit an application for Special Consideration.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Research project proposal	40%	No	Week 6
Presentation	20%	No	Week 13
Research project	40%	No	Week 13

Research project proposal

Assessment Type ¹: Presentation

Indicative Time on Task ²: 21 hours

Due: Week 6

Weighting: 40%

The research project proposal, due in week 6, consists of two parts. Part A, worth 20%, is an individual literature survey of the team's proposed topic which will include background, relevance and impact. Part B, worth 20%, is a 3 minute individual pitch followed by a 5 minute team challenge.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply advanced knowledge of key economic ideas to the problems faced by economic decision makers.

- Synthesise and creatively adapt learning to complex economic issues in preparation for professional practice.
- Effectively communicate complex economic ideas and solutions to specialist and non-specialist audiences.
- Interpret and apply ethical dimension of business practice to economic and policy decision choices.

Presentation

Assessment Type ¹: Presentation

Indicative Time on Task ²: 15 hours

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 20%

Formal presentations will take place in Week 13. Students present the findings of their group project. However, students will be assessed based on their individual presentation of their assigned section.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply advanced knowledge of key economic ideas to the problems faced by economic decision makers.
- Synthesise and creatively adapt learning to complex economic issues in preparation for professional practice.
- Effectively communicate complex economic ideas and solutions to specialist and non-specialist audiences.

Research project

Assessment Type ¹: Essay

Indicative Time on Task ²: 25 hours

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 40%

The written team report will provide an analysis of the chosen topic based on existing literature. Students are expected to work in groups to offer a critique of the theories and methods employed for these analyses and propose solutions to problems and issues encountered in their chosen area. The group report will be due in Week 13.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply advanced knowledge of key economic ideas to the problems faced by economic decision makers.
- Synthesise and creatively adapt learning to complex economic issues in preparation for professional practice.
- Effectively communicate complex economic ideas and solutions to specialist and non-specialist audiences.
- Interpret and apply ethical dimension of business practice to economic and policy decision choices.
- Collaborate with peers to prepare and present research findings on current real-world issues.

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

The most important aspect of this Capstone unit is the Team Project, designed to enhance your employability. The main activity is group work and class participation in discussions and other interactive activities based on the common Unit theme and on the Team Project. This will take place under the broader umbrella of the Course theme of the UNSDGs and this Session's theme of "the Energy Crisis and the Role of Renewable Energy" under Goal 7 (Affordable and Clean Energy).

Throughout the Session, we will discuss the importance of the Course theme, Unit theme and the project focus, that ultimately define the team's

- research question,
- relevant data for analysis,
- appropriate theoretical and methodological approaches, and
- results-centred policy recommendations.

While group work is paramount to the successful completion of this unit, a major component of the Project is your individual contribution. There is great emphasis on individual and experiential learning, and your contribution to group work and class participation. It is mandatory that you attend, participate and collaborate in weekly learning activities that take place on Thursdays (6-9pm), either via synchronous Zoom or a 'hybrid' active learning space. You are also required to work both independently on your individual contribution to the project.

The unit will be organised as three modules of learning activities, covering

1. Discovery and Research – teamwork activities such mock trials, debates and employability challenges
2. Formulating the Project - formulating and synchronising the project tasks
3. Finalising the Project - formalising and finalising the final project.

A schedule of the learning activities is provided on iLearn. Details of activities will be posted weekly in the learning modules. You are encouraged to login to the ECON8030 iLearn site at least once a week.
