Unit description

This unit introduces students to various aspects of translation and interpreting theories and their application to translation and interpreting practice. Theories relevant to translation practice are discussed, focusing on linguistic theories, functionalist theories, and discourse-based approaches. The overview of interpreting theory covers equivalence, comprehension, issues relating to language proficiency, and interpreting processes in diverse modes. The various approaches adopted in the unit aim to broaden students' perspectives on translation and interpreting and inform their studies.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Demonstrate an understanding of the nature and role of theory.

ULO2: Demonstrate familiarity with a range of theories relevant to translation and interpreting.

ULO3: Reflect on the relevance of translation and interpreting theories.

ULO4: Apply theoretical knowledge to translation and interpreting tasks.

ULO5: Communicate theoretical concepts orally and in writing to a variety of audiences.

General Assessment Information

For assessment task 1 (to be submitted in week 8), students will choose to use their interpreting or translation practice as basis for the project.

For assessment task 2 (to be submitted in week 14), students will use their translation practice as basis for the essay. The essay and reference list should follow the APA style.

Extension to assignment due date

Students are expected to submit all work by the due date. Applications for assessment task extensions must be supported by appropriate evidence and submitted via www.ask.mq.edu.au. For further details, please refer to the Special Consideration Policy available at <https://students.mq.edu.au/study/my-study-program/special-consideration>.

If you haven't been approved for an extension and you submit your assessment task late, penalties are applied. You should consult your unit convenor if you are in this position. Late submissions will receive a 5% per day penalty. If you submit the assessment task 10 days or more beyond the due date, without an approved extension, you will be awarded a maximum of 50% of the overall assessment marks. Weekends and public holidays are included.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Problem-solving task	50%	No	Week 14, June 8
Action research project	50%	No	Week 8, April 26

Problem-solving task

Assessment Type ¹: Practice-based task

Indicative Time on Task ²: 40 hours

Due: Week 14, June 8

Weighting: 50%

Students are required to apply 1 or more theories to a practical translation task in an essay format. The word length for the essay assessment is approximately 2,000 words.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate an understanding of the nature and role of theory.

- Demonstrate familiarity with a range of theories relevant to translation and interpreting.
- Reflect on the relevance of translation and interpreting theories.
- Apply theoretical knowledge to translation and interpreting tasks.
- Communicate theoretical concepts orally and in writing to a variety of audiences.

Action research project

Assessment Type ¹: Project

Indicative Time on Task ²: 40 hours

Due: Week 8, April 26

Weighting: 50%

Students are required to identify a problem in their interpreting, devise and implement a strategy based on theories studied, monitor and report on progress. Students are required to submit the assignment in a multimedia video format (6-8 minutes).

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate an understanding of the nature and role of theory.
- Demonstrate familiarity with a range of theories relevant to translation and interpreting.
- Reflect on the relevance of translation and interpreting theories.
- Apply theoretical knowledge to translation and interpreting tasks.
- Communicate theoretical concepts orally and in writing to a variety of audiences.

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

Classes will be delivered in a blended mode. Students will cover weekly pre-recorded lectures made available on iLearn and will attend a tutorial where activities will allow them how to discuss and apply the concepts dealt with in the lecture to their translation and interpreting practice.

Attendance and participation

In the Translation and Interpreting program, professionalism is a key capability embedded in all our courses. As part of developing professionalism, students are expected to attend all classes and small group interactive sessions including tutorials. When attending a class via Zoom, students are expected to turn on their camera and participate actively to proposed activities and discussions. They must ensure their IT set up and connectivity allow for such participation.

Prescribed textbooks for this unit are:

Munday, Jeremy (2016): Introducing Translation Studies (4th edition), Routledge (New York/London)

Pöchhacker, Franz (2016): Introducing Interpreting Studies (2nd edition), Routledge (New York, London).
