Unit description
This unit helps students understand the customer and the value they add to an organisation as well as how an organisation can benefit a customer. It introduces theories and techniques of marketing analytics in the context of various marketing decision-making environments. Students will explore the nature and role of digital and social marketing for generating customer value. The unit will introduce students to customer analytics and methods of segmentation to determine a customer's lifetime value to an organisation. Topics are reinforced by the use of actual marketplace data and analytics to measure and estimate the effects of an organisation's marketing effort.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates

Learning Outcomes
On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULL1: Analyse the concept of customer value and its importance to an organisation.
ULL2: Explore the types of customer data that are collected, both by traditional and digital methods.
ULL3: Examine the tools used and determine what works best to solve which problem.
ULL4: Use customer data to both understand the current situation and develop and drive strategy.
ULO5: Critically assess various digital and social marketing and their role in creating and measuring value.

General Assessment Information

Referencing

Please use the American Psychological Association (APA) 6th edition reference style. This means that when referring to an article or book etc, you indicate the author’s name followed by the year of publication (Jones, 1989). For multiple authors include all names (Jones, Smith, & Wilson, 1990). If you use a direct quote put the quoted words in “quotation marks” and include the page number with the reference (Jones, 1989, p. 76). A reference list should be presented in alphabetical order at the end of the paper. Further information on APA style is available at http://libguides.mq.edu.au/content.php?pid=85232&sid=634282

Late Assessment Submission Penalty (written assessments)

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a grade of ‘0’ will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical concern.

For any late submissions of time-sensitive tasks, such as scheduled tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, and/or scheduled practical assessments/labs, students need to submit an application for Special Consideration.

Developing a customer journey

Assessment Type: Case study/analysis

Indicative Time on Task: 10 hours

Due: Sep 7, 11:59 PM AEST

Weighting: 40%

Length: 1,000 words (excl. references) for the activity analysis, plus a copy of your persona and your customer journey map. Format: PDF document including the information above in one file.

Task: The purpose of this assignment is for you to examine how consumers use digital and traditional channels together as part of the purchase process. There are three parts to this assignment: You will need to select a product or service to analyse, determine a key target segment and develop a representative persona, and create a customer journey map based on that persona.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Explore the types of customer data that are collected, both by traditional and digital methods.
- Examine the tools used and determine what works best to solve which problem.

Refining a customer journey

Assessment Type: Case study/analysis
Indicative Time on Task: 14 hours
Due: Sep 28, 11:59 PM AEST
Weighting: 60%

Length: 1,800 - 2,000 words (excl. references) for the analysis, plus a copy of your updated persona and your updated customer journey map. Format: PDF document including the information above in one file. Task: The purpose of this assignment is to help you develop a deeper understanding of how consumers use digital and traditional channels together as part of the purchase process. There are three parts to this assignment: Taking the persona and customer journey map you developed in the first assignment, you will need to conduct primary research in order to refine those outputs, analyse the results, and update your persona and customer journey map with the new information.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Analyse the concept of customer value and its importance to an organisation.
- Explore the types of customer data that are collected, both by traditional and digital methods.
- Use customer data to both understand the current situation and develop and drive strategy.
- Critically assess various digital and social marketing and their role in creating and measuring value.

If you need help with your assignment, please contact:

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
• the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

2 Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

Required text
There is no required textbook for this unit. Please refer to the weekly required readings in your online unit. All readings are available via the Macquarie University library and do not need to be purchased separately.

Delivery method
This unit will be delivered entirely online via the Coursera Learning Management System. Access to a personal computer is required to access the resources and learning materials on Coursera.

Unit Schedule
For this unit, Live Events (via the web conferencing software Zoom) will take place once a week starting in Week 1 and ending in Week 6. The links to the events are available via Live Events in the online unit. Students are strongly advised to attend the Live Events. Recordings of the live events will be made available within 24 hours of the event and can be accessed via Resources in the online unit.

Attending the Live Event each week is an opportunity to engage with the unit content, your Unit Convenor and classmates. Students are encouraged to complete specified Live Event preparation learning activities prior to each scheduled Live Event in order to get the most value out of these sessions.

Please note: The teaching schedule is subject to change. Please refer to your online unit for the latest schedule.
