Unit description

This unit prepares students for professional practice as translators and/or interpreters. Students will be required to complete the fieldwork components (Practicum) required to complete the program. In addition to the fieldwork, the unit will cover a range of knowledge and skills that are essential to working as a freelance practitioner or as part of an in-house team of translators and interpreters. These include a profound understanding of translator and interpreter ethics, business creation and administration, marketing, building good client relationships, and lifelong learning.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Demonstrate a professional manner with or without supervision during a translation/interpreting job under practicum.

ULO2: Demonstrate effective communication with clients and good client relationship management.

ULO3: Analyse the scenarios during a translation or interpreting job and apply the AUSIT Code of Ethics in the activities of translation and interpreting practice.

ULO4: Demonstrate competent management of translation and interpreting tasks in a teamwork environment.

ULO5: Get in-depth knowledge on the translation and interpreting industry, including code of ethics/conducts for the translation and interpreting professionals, market composition, dealing with clients, industry associations and bodies, etc.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
End-semester portfolio	30%	No	Week 13
Interpreting and translation field work	50%	No	Various, along with the jobs
Seminar journals	20%	No	One week after the seminar

End-semester portfolio

Assessment Type 1: Portfolio

Indicative Time on Task 2: 3 hours

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 30%

Students are required to submit a portfolio by the end of Week 13 of the semester in which they enrol in the unit, enclosing all the activities they have done for the unit, including but not limited to: log sheets of translation projects, interpreting placements and court observations; journals of interpreting placements and observations, evidence of self-organised translation projects, client/self-evaluation reports of the translation tasks, and so on. Word count of the portfolio depending on the tasks each student takes.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate a professional manner with or without supervision during a translation/interpreting job under practicum.
- Demonstrate effective communication with clients and good client relationship management.
- Analyse the scenarios during a translation or interpreting job and apply the AUSIT Code of Ethics in the activities of translation and interpreting practice.
- Demonstrate competent management of translation and interpreting tasks in a teamwork environment.

- Get in-depth knowledge on the translation and interpreting industry, including code of ethics/conducts for the translation and interpreting professionals, market composition, dealing with clients, industry associations and bodies, etc.

Interpreting and translation field work

Assessment Type ¹: Field work task

Indicative Time on Task ²: 57 hours

Due: Various, along with the jobs

Weighting: 50%

Students are required to undertake practicum tasks by attending interpreting placements, completing translation tasks, observing professional work, etc., to complete the required practicum hours. Aside from the interpreting and translation tasks assigned by the unit, students are strongly encouraged to source practicum opportunities by themselves and complete the tasks after the final approval is obtained from the unit convenor. Students are required to keep log sheets of the practicum work they perform, along with reflective journals for interpreting placements and client/self-evaluation forms for translation tasks. Students are required to complete 75 practicum hours in total to complete the unit. Word count of the task: 250 per reflective journal on average. Number of journal entries depending on the tasks each student takes.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate a professional manner with or without supervision during a translation/interpreting job under practicum.
- Demonstrate effective communication with clients and good client relationship management.
- Analyse the scenarios during a translation or interpreting job and apply the AUSIT Code of Ethics in the activities of translation and interpreting practice.
- Demonstrate competent management of translation and interpreting tasks in a teamwork environment.

Seminar journals

Assessment Type ¹: Reflective Writing

Indicative Time on Task ²: 12 hours

Due: One week after the seminar

Weighting: 20%

The students are required to attend unit-organised seminars on various topics in relation to their professional practise, including but not limited to: code of ethics, legal interpreting, conference interpreting, etc. A journal is required to be submitted on iLearn for each seminar within one week after the seminar is delivered unless otherwise specified. For each seminar, the students are required to submit reflective journals with reference questions in relation to the topic of the seminar. Word count of the task: 300 per seminar journal.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Analyse the scenarios during a translation or interpreting job and apply the AUSIT Code of Ethics in the activities of translation and interpreting practice.
- Get in-depth knowledge on the translation and interpreting industry, including code of ethics/conducts for the translation and interpreting professionals, market composition, dealing with clients, industry associations and bodies, etc.

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

The unit seminars will be delivered in a face-to-face mode on campus with live streaming concurrently. The seminars are aimed to cover different topics of working as a professional translator and/or interpreter. Other than attending the seminar, the T&I Program is also liaising with the community to secure interpreting placement opportunities and translation projects for the students to practise in the real mode, with the final products supervised by qualified interpreters and/or translators. Students will also be encouraged to act as practising interpreters/translators for various clients sourced by the program or by themselves (pre-approval of the program is needed before the actual work is carried out).
