Unit description
How can disruptive strategic thinking be deployed to develop or protect competitive advantage? The most innovative and successful companies today have all managed to fundamentally disrupt and reshape existing industries, or create completely new ones. What are the strategies, business models, and technologies that lie behind this? Is the strategic thinking that is required to successfully compete in today’s digital world actually different? And how could you deploy disruptive strategic thinking to reshape your own company and industry?

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Define a range of disruptive technologies and their implications on organisations and industry sectors
ULO2: Develop strategies and approaches to create innovative business models
ULO3: Apply strategic thinking and tools to evaluate the impact of new innovations and the plausibility of successfully adoption

General Assessment Information
Late submissions of assessments
Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, no extensions will be granted. There will be a deduction of 10% of the total available assessment-task marks made from the total awarded mark for each 24-hour period or part thereof that the submission is late. Late submissions will only be accepted up to 96 hours after the due date and time. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g., quizzes, online tests.

Special Consideration

To request an extension on the due date/time for a timed or non-timed assessment task, you must submit a Special Consideration application. An application for Special Consideration does not guarantee approval.

The approved extension date for a student becomes the new due date for that student. The late submission penalties above then apply as of the new due date.

Word limits

Anything beyond a stated assessment word limit (other than your reference list) may not be marked. Seek any further clarification from the unit convenor.
