Unit description

In this unit you will develop an advanced conceptual knowledge of breakthrough discoveries relevant to a range of topics within the field of medical research. Through mentoring by senior research-active staff and postdoctoral researchers within the Faculty of Medicine, Health and Human Sciences, you will gain discipline-specific knowledge that will be relevant to your future research career. You will attend seminars and lectures focused on ongoing research projects from the Faculty of Medicine, Health and Human Sciences and from invited speakers from leading national and international research institutes. You will also participate in self-directed and group tasks in which you will learn to conduct research, read and critically review seminal research findings that have shaped contemporary thinking, and to disseminate these findings in written and oral form.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Explain the ethical and practical requirements for research with humans and animals.

ULO2: Synthesise and analyse information regarding medical/health research from a wide variety of sources.

ULO3: Identify and discuss complex problems and issues in medical research with intellectual independence

ULO4: Articulate cogent arguments in written and oral form for a variety of audiences.

ULO5: Apply skills in research literacy and research related information technology.

General Assessment Information

Grade descriptors and other information concerning grading are contained in Schedule 1 of the Macquarie University Assessment Policy, which is available at: <https://staff.mq.edu.au/work/strategy-planning-and-governance/university-policies-and-procedures/policies/assessment>.

Further details for each assessment task will be available on iLearn.

All final grades are determined by a grading committee, in accordance with the Macquarie University Assessment Policy, and are not the sole responsibility of the Unit Convenor. Students will be awarded a final grade, which corresponds to the grade descriptors specified in the Assessment Procedure (clause 128).

To pass this unit, students must demonstrate sufficient evidence of achievement of the learning outcomes, meet any ungraded requirements including professionalism, and achieve a final mark of 50 or better.

Further details for each assessment task will be available on iLearn.

Indicative Time on Task ²: 19 hours

Due: Week 4

Weighting: 20%

Popular science article of a recent publication.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Synthesise and analyse information regarding medical/health research from a wide variety of sources.
- Identify and discuss complex problems and issues in medical research with intellectual independence
- Articulate cogent arguments in written and oral form for a variety of audiences.
- Apply skills in research literacy and research related information technology.

Journal Club Presentation

Assessment Type ¹: Presentation

Indicative Time on Task ²: 24 hours

Due: Week 7

Weighting: 25%

Presentation of seminal research paper in journal club format.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Explain the ethical and practical requirements for research with humans and animals.
- Synthesise and analyse information regarding medical/health research from a wide variety of sources.
- Identify and discuss complex problems and issues in medical research with intellectual independence
- Articulate cogent arguments in written and oral form for a variety of audiences.
- Apply skills in research literacy and research related information technology.

Critical Review Essay

Assessment Type ¹: Essay

Indicative Time on Task ²: 33 hours

Due: Week 12

Weighting: 35%

Critical essay on selected topic from the unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Synthesise and analyse information regarding medical/health research from a wide variety of sources.
- Identify and discuss complex problems and issues in medical research with intellectual independence
- Articulate cogent arguments in written and oral form for a variety of audiences.
- Apply skills in research literacy and research related information technology.

Seminar attendance and critique

Assessment Type ¹: Participatory task

Indicative Time on Task ²: 18 hours

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 20%

Attendance log and critical review of seminar presentations.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Explain the ethical and practical requirements for research with humans and animals.
- Synthesise and analyse information regarding medical/health research from a wide variety of sources.

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

Classes

The weekly format of MEDI7011 will be: 2 hour lectures every Monday, 10am-12noon. Classes will predominantly be onsite. However, online or recorded lectures will be made available as needed.

Resources

Throughout the semester students will be provided with references to various journal papers which they will be expected to read and reflect on. Students are also encouraged to expand their knowledge and understanding of topics presented by further reading of the current literature (using databases such as Scopus and PubMed).

Technology used

Active participation in learning activities throughout the unit will generally require students to have access to a tablet, laptop or similar device. Students who do not own their own laptop computer may borrow one from the university library.

Policies and Procedures

Macquarie University policies and procedures are accessible from Policy Central (<https://policies.mq.edu.au>). Students should be aware of the following policies in particular with regard to Learning and Teaching:
