Unit description
In competitive service markets, offering consistent quality and satisfying services are key challenges. These challenges drive intangibility, heterogeneity, credence qualities and high similarity among competing service offerings. Because of the nature of services, service marketers have to adopt strategies to market their service offerings which are different from tangible goods. There is a growing range of touchpoints, where customers experience service marketing techniques. Therefore, services marketers require a deep understanding of issues such as service design and delivery, service quality measurement and internal marketing. The focus of this unit is on developing students’ knowledge of the specific characteristics of service offerings and service markets. Students will critically analyse and evaluate service offerings and service delivery processes with a focus on creating strategic options to improve service quality, satisfaction, firm performance and brand services competitively.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates

Learning Outcomes
On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Evaluate service marketing theories to solve services problems and communicate your solutions.
ULO2: Analyse and justify different strategic options to improve collaboration, service quality, customer satisfaction and firm performance.

ULO3: Critique and explain the specific characteristics of service offerings and service markets.

General Assessment Information

Late Assessment Submission Penalty

Unless an application for Special Consideration has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a grade of '0' will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical concern.

For any late submissions of time-sensitive tasks, such as scheduled tests, exams, performance assessments, and/or scheduled practical assessments/labs, students need to submit an application for Special Consideration.

Video presentation on service problem solution

Assessment Type: Media presentation
Indicative Time on Task: 12 hours
Due: Week 5
Weighting: 20%

Students will submit a video of up to 3 minutes. Services marketing theories and problems will be addressed.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Evaluate service marketing theories to solve services problems and communicate your solutions.
Report

Assessment Type: Report
Indicative Time on Task: 24 hours
Due: Week 8
Weighting: 40%

Students will write a 2000 word report that analyses a selected service organisation. Collaboration processes and practices will be assessed in conjunction with different strategic options for service improvement.

On successful completion you will be able to:
- Analyse and justify different strategic options to improve collaboration, service quality, customer satisfaction and firm performance.

Case Study Analysis

Assessment Type: Case study/analysis
Indicative Time on Task: 24 hours
Due: Week 13
Weighting: 40%

In order to capture opportunities facing a service organisation, students are required to apply theoretical and practical knowledge to critique, analyse and solve challenges. Length: 2000 words

On successful completion you will be able to:
- Critique and explain the specific characteristics of service offerings and service markets.

1 If you need help with your assignment, please contact:
  - the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
  - the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

2 Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation.
Delivery and Resources

This unit is delivered in a combination of weekly seminars/lectures and workshops. Students are expected to be active and engaged learners, contributing to workshop activities and discussions.

Learning activities include individual and group tasks that are to be completed during private study and in the workshops.

Students need to read in advance of seminar sessions/workshops, complete preparatory work, be prepared to work in small groups and discuss the materials assigned.

Attendance is important and attendance will be taken in class (whether online or on campus).

Students are expected to arrive on time and not to leave until the class ends.

The seminar/lecture notes will be posted on iLearn at https://ilearn.mq.edu.au. This is also where required reading material will be listed.
