Unit description

This unit serves as a broad introduction to archaeology, where students become familiar with its fundamental principles and concepts. Students will study the emergence of archaeology as a discipline, its purpose and aims. This unit will provide students with a foundation in the various methods and analytical techniques used to study archaeological evidence by using a combination of theory and practical case studies drawn from all periods of archaeology. Students will explore the various ways of interpreting archaeological remains, taking into account the multidisciplinary nature of the discipline.

LATE SUBMISSION OF ASSESSMENT TASKS:

Please always let one of us know ahead of time if you are having difficulty completing an assessment or if you will not be able to attend class or complete the online tutorial task. It's just good for us to know what is going on with you -- it is not necessary to give specifics of your situation -- but it helps to hear from you, partly because Special Considerations get be delayed in busy times.

I should also say to please make sure to apply for a Special Consideration if you are not able to submit a task on time. That will help us to help you. I highly recommend that you become familiar with the procedure before you are in the position of having to use it - so that it does not become another challenging hurdle when you are already experiencing difficulties.

LATE ASSESSMENT SUBMISSION PENALTY:

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of, 0 (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue.

This late penalty will apply to non-timed sensitive assessment (incl essays, reports, posters, portfolios, journals, recordings, etc). Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as quizzes, tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs etc) will only be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special consideration application. Special Consideration outcome may result in a new question or topic.

IMPORTANT NOTE ON MARKS: Grading decisions for each assessment task will be moderated against the set criteria and standards before task results are released.

Delivery and Resources

DELIVERY

Lectures will be delivered in person! I like to have some discussion during the lecture, so please do come along if you are able. You will also be able to access the lectures on the Echo360 platform via our iLearn site.

Tutorials for Internal students will be held face-to-face.

Online forums, which will replicate as far as is possible the content that we cover in the in-person tutorials, will be held each week for Online/Flexible (External) students. Please post to the forums by Sunday of that week's lecture.

Please note that quiz questions will also be taken from the tutorial materials!

RESOURCES

Required Texts: The unit will be based on these required text books. It is best if you own your own copy (particularly the Renfrew and Bahn):

- Gamble, C., 2015. Archaeology. The Basics, 3rd ed London, New York, Routledge.
- Renfrew, C. and Bahn, P., 2020. Archaeology: Theories, Methods and Practice, 8th ed. London, Thames and Hudson.

Recommended Texts: You will find these texts helpful, particularly as places to start your research for the assessments. The Encyclopedias are easily available through our library on MultiSearch:

- Bahn, P., 2012. Archaeology: A Very Short Introduction, Oxford, Oxford University Press.
- Pearsall, D. M., 2008. Encyclopedia of Archaeology, San Diego, Elsevier.
- Smith, C., 2014. Encyclopedia of Global Archaeology, New York, Springer.

Supplemental Readings: We will also assign or recommend supplemental readings whenever we find an article or chapter that particularly supports what we are doing in the lecture and tutorial.

Please Note: All readings for class should be completed before the lecture, and must be completed before attending the tutorials and taking the quizzes. Real learning, which is based on independent, active learning, depends on coming to the tutorials prepared to discuss the material from the lecture and the readings.

UNIT WEBPAGE AND TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED This unit will use the iLearn system (<https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/login/MQ/>) to communicate with the students, so you will need access to a computer and a good internet connection. Basic computer and word-processing skills are also required.

Unit Schedule

Please see our iLearn page for this unit for details on our weekly topics, readings, and tutorials/online forums.
