Unit description

This unit covers the theory and practice of designing games, using an iterative, player-centric approach. Students will be introduced to different aspects of game design and will develop their game design skills through hands-on creation and evaluation of their own games.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

- ULO1: Apply the process of iterative, player-centric game design to produce intermediate-level games.
- ULO2: Analyse and critique existing games according to the principles of game design.
- ULO3: Prototype novel level-design implementations within an existing game engine.
- ULO4: Collaborate with fellow designers to imagine game experiences and design gameplay mechanics to achieve them.
- ULO5: Communicate design goals and reasoning through appropriate documentation.
- ULO6: Evaluate game prototypes by playtesting, and use the results to refine the design.

General Assessment Information

Requirements to Pass this Unit

To pass this unit you must:

- Achieve a total mark equal to or greater than 50%.

Late Submissions

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day an assessment task is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a grade of '0' will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all assessments is set at 11:55 pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical concern.

For any late submission of time-sensitive tasks, such as scheduled tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, and/or scheduled practical assessments/labs, students need to submit an application for Special Consideration.

Assessments where Late Submissions will be accepted

In this unit, late submissions will be accepted as follows:

Design Task: No mark received for absence from, or non-participation in, class. Weekly mark will be waived if Special Consideration is approved.

Weekly Quizzes: Late Submissions will NOT be accepted unless Special Consideration is approved.

Game Analysis: Late Submissions will NOT be accepted unless Special Consideration is approved. As this is a group task, students are expected to prepare and compensate for a group member falling ill or being otherwise unable to complete their task.

Level Design: Late Submissions WILL be accepted in accordance with the policy above.

Tabletop Game Design: Late Submissions WILL be accepted in accordance with the policy above. As this is a group task, students are expected to prepare and compensate for a group member falling ill or being otherwise unable to complete their task.

Game Playtesting: Late Submissions WILL be accepted in accordance with the policy above. As this is a group task, students are expected to prepare and compensate for a group member falling ill or being otherwise unable to complete their task.

Special Considerations

The Special Consideration Policy aims to support students who have been impacted by short-term circumstances or events that are serious, unavoidable and significantly disruptive, and which may affect their performance in assessment. If you experience circumstances or events that affect your ability to complete the assessments in this unit on time, please inform the convenor and submit a Special Consideration request through ask.mq.edu.au.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply the process of iterative, player-centric game design to produce intermediate-level games.
- Analyse and critique existing games according to the principles of game design.

Game Analysis

Indicative Time on Task <sup>2</sup>: 15 hours

Due: In class

Weighting: 15%

Students will analyse a game based on the design principles taught in lectures and present their analysis to their tutorial class in a 10 min pre-recorded video presentation. Students are expected to be able to analyse a game according to the experience it conveys, and how that experience is rooted in the mechanics and dynamics of the game. Students will be assigned specific weeks in which to present. The presentation will focus on the topic of previous week's lecture.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Analyse and critique existing games according to the principles of game design.

Level Design

Indicative Time on Task <sup>2</sup>: 20 hours

Due: Mid-Session Break

Weighting: 20%

Design, implement and document a game level using a commercial game engine. Students are expected to demonstrate an understanding of the principles of challenge, reward, progress and spatial and temporal arrangement amongst other design considerations. As well as producing the level students will also be required to submit accompanying design documentation justifying their design decisions.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply the process of iterative, player-centric game design to produce intermediate-level games.
- Prototype novel level-design implementations within an existing game engine.

Changes from Previous Offering

Changes to Assessments

- Hurdles have been removed from the Quizzes, which now have an increased weighting.

- Participatory Task has been removed as an assessment, replaced by Design Task.
Design Task is not a hurdle, and has a weighting attached to it.
