Unit description

This unit introduces students to long-form narrative writing in the genre of the novel and novella. Students apply their previous learning of narrative writing technique and craft to the creation and planning of a new work, focusing on creativity and inspiration, research and planning, drafting the plot outline, developing characters, and building the story-world. Students engage in intensive writing practice each week, completing exercises that help them to develop the bones of their novel or novella. Students are also introduced to current industry practices and conditions. At the conclusion of this unit students will have produced the opening to a novel or novella, and an outline of the work.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Produce the opening of a long-form narrative, either a novel or novella, and an outline of the work.

ULO2: Practice a range of methods of improvisation and drafting that support the creative development of the novel or novella.

ULO3: Employ close reading skills and technical creative writing terms, vocabulary and narrative studies concepts to discuss and analyse craft and technique.

ULO4: Collaborate in the analysis and discussion of the work of others in writing workshops.

ULO5: Research and select potential publication or funding opportunities.

General Assessment Information

Late Assessment Submission Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of, 0 (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue.

This late penalty will apply to non-timed sensitive assessment (incl essays, reports, posters, portfolios, journals, recordings etc). Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs etc) will only be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special consideration application. Special Consideration outcome may result in a new question or topic.

Delivery and Resources

Lectures

Lectures begin in Week 1 in the form of Live Zoom lectures. Please consult the ENGL3035 iLearn site to access the Zoom lecture link. These lectures will be recorded and made available to students through Echo360 on the ENGL/ENGX3035 iLearn site.

Listening to the lectures is expected before participating in the weekly tutorial. Missing lectures will reduce your opportunities for learning and probably result in poor marks across the unit.

Tutorials

Depending on your mode of enrolment, internal students in ENGL3035 must participate in the weekly on-campus tutorials or via Zoom. For internal students enrolled in the Special Circumstance mode, please access the the weekly Zoom tutorial links via the ENGL3035 iLearn site.

External/OUA students enrolled in ENGX3035 will participate in the weekly tutorials via the iLearn Discussion Forums beginning in week 1.

Required text

Alan Watt, The 90-Day Novel: Unlock the Story Within. 90-Day Novel Press, 2014.

An e-book version is available from Booktopia.com.au, while Amazon.com.au has a paperback version.

A copy will also be available in the MQ library.

Hsu-Ming Teo, Behind the Moon. Allen and Unwin, 2005. This is optional as background context to the lecture in Week 7.

Any other unit reading will be accessible through the ENGL/ENGX3035 iLearn site.

Recommended texts:

Walter Mosely, This Is The Year You Write Your Novel. Little, Brown, 2009.

Stephen King, On Writing: A Memoir of the Craft. Hodder & Stoughton, 2010.

Hsu-Ming Teo, Love and Vertigo. Allen and Unwin, 2000. This is optional as background context to the lecture in Week 4.
