Unit description

Research Frontiers 1 is a year-long unit that will expose Bachelor of Philosophy students to the range of topics that are currently dominating their chosen disciplines and the Humanities and Social Sciences more broadly. It will equip students with the skills to critically appraise the emerging research trends in their area of study, and prepare students to undertake independent research by allowing them to craft their own study program, tailored to their developing research ideas, and which incorporates the reading and thinking time necessary for the development of a research topic. Students will also participate in Department and Faculty research communities and cultures by attending research seminars, and deepen their learning through critical reflection on their developing skills, knowledge and experiences. Students will acquire disciplinary knowledge at a high level and learn how research is carried out in the disciplinary area of their choice so that by the end of the course they can demonstrate competence in articulating and applying key research skills in their field.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Explain the relevant research questions and approaches to research in their chosen discipline area.

ULO2: Apply a high level of oral, written and technological communication skills in the preparation of a portfolio documenting their learning.

ULO3: Use well developed judgement to responsibly ask research questions.

ULO4: Provide evidence of the ability to be an independent learner.

General Assessment Information

Late Assessment Submission Penalty

University Assessment Policy is as follows:

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of 0 (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue.

This late penalty will apply to non-timed sensitive assessment (incl essays, reports, posters, portfolios, journals, recordings etc). Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs etc) will only be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special consideration application. Special Consideration outcome may result in a new question or topic.

As this is a Pass/Fail unit, the usual 5% penalty does not apply in the same way; please contact the Unit Convenor, Dr Kirstin Mills, if you are experiencing problems that will result in late submission of your assessment, and submit a Special Consideration.

Delivery and Resources

FOAR7002 is a year long unit focused on researcher development. Students will attend 2 introductory lectures at the start of Session 1, which will explain how the unit and assessments work, and another at the end of Session 1 in preparation for moving into Session 2. Students will also undertake a personalised program of activities throughout the year designed to support the transition from undergraduate to postgraduate research, developing this program from a list of department-specified options that suit their own research needs (including department research seminars, reading groups or auditing a unit, development workshops, research skills workshops and independent reading).

Full details of each department's program for this unit are on the FOAR7002 iLearn site.
