Unit description

Faced with an increasingly interconnected world, disciplines across the humanities and social sciences have taken a “global perspective” in recent decades. This unit brings in a diverse group of scholars and experts to introduce students to some theoretical frameworks associated with the study of cultures and cultural texts. It showcases and analyzes how culture relates to the development of global systems and globalization, for example, from early writing, artifacts, and literature to the transnational avant-garde, to popular culture and new media. This unit adopts a transdisciplinary approach, with analysis of a wide range of cultural forms, and diverse methods for theoretical, cultural and historical knowledge, using varied sources. Students will work towards the development of independent research capabilities while bringing their backgrounds and research interests to bear in class and assessments.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO2: identify and reflect on different approaches to studying cultures and/or cultural texts in globalization, including how societies and cultures have connected in the past and over time (eg., cultural and/or economic interactions, colonial encounters, and technological transformations).

ULO1: explain and evaluate different theoretical models available for understanding cultural production in various contexts in the pre-modern and modern worlds.

ULO3: communicate advanced multidisciplinary perspectives on global cultural production across a range of genres and media.

ULO4: formulate, research and write a transdisciplinary research project on an aspect of global cultures, identifying appropriate frameworks, approaches and sources/data.

General Assessment Information

Late Assessment Submission Penalty

*Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of '0' (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue. This late penalty will apply to written reports and recordings only. Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs will be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special consideration application.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due

Delivery and Resources

TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED

Login is via: <https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/>

Is my unit in iLearn?: https://unitguides.mq.edu.au/ilearn_unit_status/ to check when your online unit will become available.

Technology

Students are required to have regular access to a computer and the internet. Mobile devices alone are not sufficient.

For students attending classes on campus we strongly encourage that you bring along your own laptop computer, ready to work with activities in your online unit. The preferred operating system is Windows 10.

Students are required to access the online unit in iLearn by the end of Week 1 and follow any relevant instructions and links for downloads that may be required.
