Unit description

Property law lies at the heart of our legal system. Jeremy Bentham once aptly observed: 'Property and Law are born together and die together. Before laws were made there was no property; take away law, and property ceases'. This unit provides a contextual analysis and outline of the Anglo-Australian law on property and covers such topics as the history and theory of property law; systems of title to, and resolution of competing interests in, property; concurrent ownership of property; native title; and mortgages, leases, easement and covenants in relation to real property.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Explain the historical development of Australian property law and the major historical and theoretical principles that underlie it.

ULO2: Critically analyse the way in which native title has been placed in the framework of Australian property law.

ULO3: Critically analyse the major forms of title to land in Australia and appreciate the fundamental difference between the creation and transfer of property rights in law and in equity.

ULO4: Critically analyse complex priority disputes between competing claimants to the same property through the application of doctrinal and procedural rules of law and equity.

General Assessment Information

Late Assessment Submission Penalty

- Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends).
- After the 7th day, a mark of, 0 (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted.
- Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue.
- This late penalty will apply to non-time-sensitive assessment (incl essays, reports, posters, portfolios, journals, recordings etc).
- Late submission of time-sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs etc) will only be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special Consideration application.
- Special Consideration outcome may result in a new question or topic.
