Unit description

This unit provides foundational study in practices and technologies used in media production. Students will examine creative expression and communication, as well as current techniques for digital and online media production. Students in this unit will explore developments in media and communications practice and production. They will create, produce and present media content across a range of formats and platforms involving video, performances, writing, image, and sound. Emphasis is placed on originality, design thinking, and responding to a creative brief.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: analyse and demonstrate the principles and techniques underlying contemporary media production and practices.

ULO2: evaluate and critique the development of contemporary media forms.

ULO3: synthesise the historical developments in media and communications practice and production.

ULO4: communicate using appropriate styles and techniques across different formats and platforms.

General Assessment Information

Late Assessment Submission Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of '0' (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue.

This late penalty will apply to non-timed sensitive assessment (incl essays, reports, posters, portfolios, journals, recordings etc). Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs etc) will only be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special consideration application. Special Consideration outcome may result in a new question or topic.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Collaborative Media Production	40%	No	11:55pm 15/09/23
Individual Media Production	60%	No	11:55pm 3/11/23

Collaborative Media Production

Assessment Type ¹: Creative work

Indicative Time on Task ²: 28 hours

Due: 11:55pm 15/09/23

Weighting: 40%

Students will be allocated a group. In small groups, students will write, plan, and acquire images and sound for a media production of any genre and form exploring a topic that each group will decide collectively. Students will have individual roles such as director, producer, cinematographer, production designer, sound recordist/designer and editor. An Individual Production Diary will also be submitted, outlining students' individual contributions to the project. Refer to iLearn for further information.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- analyse and demonstrate the principles and techniques underlying contemporary media production and practices.

- evaluate and critique the development of contemporary media forms.
- synthesise the historical developments in media and communications practice and production.
- communicate using appropriate styles and techniques across different formats and platforms.

Individual Media Production

Assessment Type ¹: Creative work

Indicative Time on Task ²: 50 hours

Due: 11:55pm 3/11/23

Weighting: 60%

Students will work individually on the development of a media work in a time based recorded medium of their choice (screen, sound, music, radio/podcast piece). Students will also submit a critical evaluation analysing and evaluating the ways technical and aesthetic considerations have combined to realise the original concept, including a production portfolio of documents demonstrating technical and creative research, preparation and process undertaken (for example, scripts, script breakdowns, colour charts, storyboards). Refer to iLearn for further information.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- analyse and demonstrate the principles and techniques underlying contemporary media production and practices.
- evaluate and critique the development of contemporary media forms.
- synthesise the historical developments in media and communications practice and production.
- communicate using appropriate styles and techniques across different formats and platforms.

¹ If you need help with your assignment, please contact:

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

Seminars begin in Week 2.

Seminars will be delivered on campus (for in-person enrolments) and via Zoom (for online enrolments). Please see the iLearn site for more information.
