Unit description This unit provides students with an introduction to theoretical and empirical research approaches informed by qualitative methods of inquiry within the business and economics discipline. It seeks to develop students' understanding of the contexts in which qualitative research can be undertaken, and the ability to analyse, conduct, and evaluate qualitative forms of research.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

- ULO1: Explain the role of research philosophy in selecting suitable research methods for a particular study
- ULO2: Consider the relative advantages and disadvantages of a diverse range of qualitative research methods used in management research in developing a research design
- ULO3: Address any ethics issues that may arise as part of a research design that involves qualitative methods
- ULO4: Conduct qualitative research using a basic understanding of different coding strategies, and a range of typical qualitative methods

ULO5: Develop a basic research proposal based qualitative methods that links the suitability of the proposed method to the nature of the research question, as well as the relative advantages and disadvantages of the proposed method

General Assessment Information

Late submissions of written assessments

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a grade of '0' will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical concern.

For any late submissions of time-sensitive tasks, such as scheduled tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, and/or scheduled practical assessments/labs, students need to submit an application for Special Consideration.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Critique your preferred method	20%	No	Week 7
Qualitative research design	40%	No	Week 10
Weekly reviews	40%	No	Week 12

Critique your preferred method

Assessment Type ¹: Case study/analysis

Indicative Time on Task ²: 31 hours

Due: Week 7

Weighting: 20%

Select three recent (within the last 5 years) empirical research papers from three different top academic journals that have used a particular research method that you are interested in exploring more deeply, and write a 1,500 word critique of the three papers through critically comparing them on your assessment of the following: 1) Suitability and justification of the chosen method in relation to the research question 2) Technical adequacy of the method application in terms of data collection and analysis

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Explain the role of research philosophy in selecting suitable research methods for a particular study
- Consider the relative advantages and disadvantages of a diverse range of qualitative research methods used in management research in developing a research design
- Develop a basic research proposal based qualitative methods that links the suitability of the proposed method to the nature of the research question, as well as the relative advantages and disadvantages of the proposed method

Qualitative research design

Assessment Type ¹: Qualitative analysis task

Indicative Time on Task ²: 40 hours

Due: Week 10

Weighting: 40%

Prepare a 2,500 word research proposal that is based on a qualitative research design. The report should contain: 1) Your research problem and research question(s) 2) A justification of your choice of qualitative method(s) in relation to your research question(s) based in a literature review of relevant methodological literature 3) The relation of your choice of qualitative method(s) to your onto-epistemic research philosophy 4) An explanation of how you will conduct your analysis 5) A significant example of actual data collection and analysis, including a summary of your main findings 6) A discussion of limitations and next steps

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Explain the role of research philosophy in selecting suitable research methods for a particular study
- Consider the relative advantages and disadvantages of a diverse range of qualitative research methods used in management research in developing a research design
- Conduct qualitative research using a basic understanding of different coding strategies, and a range of typical qualitative methods
- Develop a basic research proposal based qualitative methods that links the suitability of the proposed method to the nature of the research question, as well as the relative advantages and disadvantages of the proposed method

Weekly reviews

Assessment Type ¹: Participatory task

Indicative Time on Task ²: 40 hours

Due: Week 12

Weighting: 40%

For each of the sessions from weeks 2-12, write a 500 word review that: 1) Summarises what you believe to be the most important learnings from the seminar and readings in each week, and 2) Critically discuss how the materials covered could relate to your own research project e.g. how might you use some of the points discussed to improve, critique, and/or justify your research project?

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Explain the role of research philosophy in selecting suitable research methods for a particular study
- Consider the relative advantages and disadvantages of a diverse range of qualitative research methods used in management research in developing a research design
- Address any ethics issues that may arise as part of a research design that involves qualitative methods
- Conduct qualitative research using a basic understanding of different coding strategies, and a range of typical qualitative methods
- Develop a basic research proposal based qualitative methods that links the suitability of the proposed method to the nature of the research question, as well as the relative advantages and disadvantages of the proposed method

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

Please see iLearn for details.

Unit Schedule

WEEK	Date	Title	Topic
------	------	-------	-------

1.	20 February	Introduction	Introduction to the unit
2.	27 February	Philosophy of social science	Epistemology and qualitative research
3.	6 March	Designing qualitative research	Research design, sampling, and ethics
4.	13 March	Methods: Interviews and Focus Groups	Interview paradigms, approaches (e.g. semi-structured) and techniques.
5.	20 March	Methods: Case studies	Selection, motivation, generalising from cases.
6.	27 March	Methods: Ethnography	Ethnography and participant observation, autoethnography
7.	3 April	Methods: Action Research	Qualitative questionnaires and document research, action research, arts-based methods Hand-in assessment: critique your preferred method
RECESS (2 weeks)
8.	24 April	Methods: Content analysis.	Analysing documents and images, including e-research.
9.	1 May	Data analysis: Interview coding methods	Including types of coding (e.g. axial) and coding hierarchies.
10.	8 May	Data analysis tools	NVIVO, e-coding strategies and techniques Hand-in assessment: qualitative research design
11.	15 May	Writing qualitative research	Using quotes, developing a story.
12.	22 May	Contemporary issues and debates	Current debates on designing, theorising and using qualitative research in business. Assessment deadline: weekly reviews
13.	29 May	Summary and your research	Wrap up and moving your own project forward.

Policies and Procedures

Macquarie University policies and procedures are accessible from Policy Central \(https://policies.mq.edu.au\). Students should be aware of the following policies in particular with regard to Learning and Teaching:
