Unit description
This unit brings a philosophical lens to some of the great social and existential challenges of our times. We examine some of the key sources of existential meaning in human life, such as: personal freedom, identity, work, and a sense of belonging. We look at some of the prevailing ways in which these sources are currently threatened in contemporary society. The unit also considers some concrete ethical and political options for dealing with these challenges. Some examples of questions that may be explored in the unit include: What is the meaning we look for in our lives? Is spiritual belief an important or even a necessary element of human life? How does work fit in our idea of a good life? How can we live well together given our different gender, cultural and ethnic identities?

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates

Learning Outcomes
On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:
ULO1: explain the history and meaning of concepts in existentialist and social philosophy.
ULO2: analyse arguments in the relevant literature.
ULO3: apply existentialist and social-philosophy approaches in broader social, cultural,
and political debates.
ULO4: investigate and theorise ideas clearly, cogently, and convincingly through critical analysis and philosophical discussion.

General Assessment Information

Submission of Assessments
All assessment pieces are to be submitted via Turnitin portals that will be made available the unit's iLearn site. Written assessment pieces will be run through the Turnitin software system which detects unoriginal work.

Special Consideration Extensions and Penalties
All work must be submitted on time unless an extension has been granted. Requests for extensions must be made in writing and will only be considered on serious grounds. Extensions will not be given unless good reasons and appropriate evidence (e.g., medical certificates, counsellor's letters) are presented at the earliest opportunity. Please note that work due concurrently in other subjects is NOT an exceptional circumstance and does not constitute a legitimate reason for an extension.

Late Assessment Penalty
Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of, 0 (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue.

This late penalty will apply to non-timed sensitive assessment (incl essays, reports, posters, portfolios, journals, recordings etc). Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs etc) will only be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special consideration application. Special Consideration outcome may result in a new question or topic.

Special Consideration Policy
The University classifies a disruption warranting special consideration as serious and unavoidable if it:
• could not have reasonably been anticipated, avoided or guarded against by the student; and
• was beyond the student’s control; and Participation

Assessment Type 1: Participatory task
Indicative Time on Task 2: 15 hours
Due: Ongoing
Weighting: 20%

Movement in discussion and associated activities either in-class or online. Students should be prepared for the discussion by reading set papers in advance, and formulating questions for discussion with their fellow students.

On successful completion you will be able to:

• explain the history and meaning of concepts in existentialist and social philosophy.
• apply existentialist and social-philosophy approaches in broader social, cultural, and political debates.
• investigate and theorise ideas clearly, cogently, and convincingly through critical analysis and philosophical discussion.

Reflective tasks
Assessment Type 1: Reflective Writing
Indicative Time on Task 2: 15 hours
Due: 23:55 07/04/2023 Week 7
Weighting: 20%

On successful completion you will be able to:
• explain the history and meaning of concepts in existentialist and social philosophy.
• analyse arguments in the relevant literature.
• apply existentialist and social-philosophy approaches in broader social, cultural, and political debates.
• investigate and theorise ideas clearly, cogently, and convincingly through critical analysis and philosophical discussion.

Online quizzes
Assessment Type 1: Quiz/Test
Indicative Time on Task 2: 15 hours
Due: 23:55 Sundays fortnightly from Week 3
Weighting: 20%

On successful completion you will be able to:
• explain the history and meaning of concepts in existentialist and social philosophy.

Philosophical Essay
Assessment Type 1: Essay
Indicative Time on Task 2: 30 hours
Due: 23:55 04/06/2023 Week 13
Weighting: 40%

An argumentative essay analysing and responding to key problems and theories from the unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

• explain the history and meaning of concepts in existentialist and social philosophy.
• analyse arguments in the relevant literature.
• apply existentialist and social-philosophy approaches in broader social, cultural, and political debates.
• investigate and theorise ideas clearly, cogently, and convincingly through critical analysis and philosophical discussion.

1 If you need help with your assignment, please contact:

• the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
• the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

2 Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

This unit uses an iLearn website and Echo360 lecture recordings (https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/login/MQ/). The website contains links to the reading material, lecture notes, lecture recordings, and other learning materials such as video clips, weblinks, and images. Students will therefore require access to a computer and a good internet connection in order to access all the material and participate in the unit effectively. PHIL/PHIX3052 will be delivered using a combination of live lectures (recorded via Echo360) and tutorial discussions (in-class tutorials for 'in person scheduled' students; Zoom meetings for 'online scheduled' students; or asynchronous online forums for 'online flexible' students). Lectures are organised around key texts in which fundamental concepts and arguments are introduced and explained. The fortnightly quizzes are designed to practise the various skills required in philosophical writing. They will be scaffolded to help students in the preparation for tackling Assessment tasks. External students will engage in these activities online via dedicated iLearn discussion forums. For lecture times and classrooms please consult the MQ Timetable website: http://www.timetables.mq.edu.au. This website will display up-to-date information on your classes and classroom locations.
Lectures
Lectures will take place on Mondays 10am-11am (25 Wally's Walk, Tutorial Room A114) and Wednesdays 11am to 12noon (12 Second Way, Tutorial Room 201). All lectures will be recorded and made available via Echo360 Online Lecture Recordings shortly afterwards.

Tutorials
Weekly tutorial classes (for all students) will be conducted commencing from Week 2. Week 1 will be an Introductory session where students introduce themselves to each other and we discuss any issues relevant to studying this unit. Weekly Tutorial Discussion Questions will be posted before the Monday lectures. Students are required to respond to the Tutorial Discussion Questions and engage each other in discussion responding to issues raised in these responses. N.B.: Weekly tutorials will begin in WEEK 2 and will continue until WEEK 13 (Week 13 will be a discussion week focusing on the film Get Out).

Required and Recommended Texts and/or Materials
PHIL3052 Social and Existential Questions will be using electronically available readings available via Leganto on the iLearn website.

Unit Schedule
PART I - The Question of Existence [RS]

Week 1 Introduction: What is Existentialism?
What is the ‘problem of existence’? How does existentialism differ from other approaches to philosophy? What role do literature and art play in existentialist thought?

Week 2 - Existence, Absurdity, and Anxiety
Why the problem of existence matters. Camus on the experience of existential 'absurdity'. Heidegger on existential anxiety and what it reveals about ourselves and the world.
Required Reading: Albert Camus, The Myth of Sisyphus, chapter 1, extracts from Martin Heidegger, Being and Time, and Heidegger's 'What is Metaphysics?'

Week 3 - Mortality, Freedom, and 'Bad Faith'
What does it mean to be 'mortal'? What is existential freedom? Are we 'authentic' or do we exist in the condition of 'bad faith'?
Required Reading: extracts from Jean-Paul Sartre, 'Existentialism is a Humanism', Sartre, Being and Nothingness
Part II: Ethics and Politics as Existential Tasks [RS]

Week 4 - The Problem of the Other

What is the relationship between the Self and the Other? Is it possible to exist authentically in an 'inauthentic' world? What do these existential insights mean for ethical and political thinking?

Required Reading: Heidegger, “The They” (from Being and Time); Sartre’s “being-for-other” (from Being and Nothingness and No Exit); Maurice Merleau-Ponty, extracts from The Phenomenology of Perception.

Week 5 - Feminist Existentialism

An existentialist approach to gender - the Self and the Other understood in relation to how gender is lived. De Beauvoir on how one 'becomes a woman'. Implications of feminist existentialism for thinking gender today.

Required Reading:

Simone de Beauvoir, extracts from The Ethics of Ambiguity and from The Second Sex

Week 6 - Black existentialism

Existential approaches to the experience of 'race'. Fanon on the 'divided consciousness' of the black subject. Lewis Gordon's existentialist approach to the experience of 'antiblack racism', philosophy and colonialism, ethics and politics.

Required Reading:

Extracts from Frantz Fanon, 'The Fact of Blackness', from White Skin, Black Masks (1948), pp. 82-108 [121-147].

Lewis R. Gordon, 'Fanon as Critique of European Man' and 'Existential Phenomenology and History', from Fanon and the Crisis of European Man: An Essay on Philosophy and the Human Sciences.

Part III - Philosophical Approaches to Race [AH]

Week 7 - Social Constructionism about Race, Deconstructed

Required Reading:

Week 8 - Is Race a Social Kind?
Required Reading:

Week 9 - Is Race a Social Status? Or, is it Phenomenological?

Required Reading:
Extract from Ásta's Categories We Live By: The Construction of Sex, Gender, Race, and Other Social Categories (New York: Oxford University Press, 2018), pp. 93-108.

Week 10 - Is Race Cultural? Or, is it Technological?

Supplementary Text:

Week 11 - Replacing Race: Racialisation and Racialised Groups

Required Reading:

Week 12 - Racial Identity and Transrace

Required Reading:

Recommended reading:

Week 13 - Film: Get Out (Peele, 2017) [AH and RS]
