Unit description

This unit covers the social, moral and political relationships that underpin 'justice' and 'punishment'. Students will explore the purpose, aims and operation of criminal justice in New South Wales. The 'cycle of justice' is unpacked, including: concepts of justice; the politics of justice; what happens in court; how people are punished and what we expect to happen afterwards. Students re-examine the socially constructed nature of both justice and punishment, questioning the purpose of law, the rule of law and the social contract. Students will analyse the role of these concepts in maintaining, or disrupting, established notions of justice. Students will observe justice in action and report back on their findings.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

- ULO1: demonstrate a scholarly understanding of the criminal justice system
- ULO2: distinguish between personal opinion and scientifically verified evidence
- ULO3: use social research skills to identify, analyse and assess the quality of different data sources and types of evidence
- ULO4: express key concepts clearly and accurately in both spoken and written format
- ULO5: conduct independent non-participant observations in the field, then combine theory with both primary and secondary data to write up a formal report
- ULO6: prepare for and engage effectively in online and classroom activities

General Assessment Information

More information on each of the assessment tasks can be found in Assessments section of the iLearn space for this unit.

You will also find - in the Assessments section of iLearn - more detailed information for each task, along with several Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) guidance documents. Please refer to these documents (especially the FAQs) before emailing academic staff with questions about your assessments.

If you have questions that are not answered in the FAQs you can also post in the General Discussion Forum on iLearn in the 'Assessment Questions' forum thread. We will add your answers to an updated FAQ as appropriate.

More information on general support for your studies is listed in this unit guide, in the Policies and Procedures section. This includes general information on Study Skills, Writing Support, Student Services and Special Consideration.

The main Active Participation activities for Online-Flexible students are the weekly Discussion Forum activities. Detailed weekly instructions are provided via iLearn.

The weekly Active Participation tasks have been aligned with the content of lectures and the learning outcomes of both the unit and the Criminology major. This ensures that content delivery works with your needs, better building the required key skills that you will use in each assessment. It is important that you:

1. complete all of the active participation tasks;
2. read the activity instructions before listening to the lecture
3. complete any weekly readings before listening to the lecture
4. complete any activity preparation before listening to the lecture
5. complete any activity preparation before attempting the Forum Activity (for online-flexible students).

This gives you the best chance of meeting the learning objectives of the unit as a whole.

The main student information resources for this unit can be found in iLearn. Students should familiarise themselves with the iLearn site, particularly the Assessment section and FAQs.

Late Assessment Submission Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of '0' (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue.

*This late penalty will apply to non-timed sensitive assessment (incl essays, reports, posters, portfolios, journals, recordings etc). Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs etc) will only be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special consideration application. Special Consideration outcome may result in a new question or topic.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Reading Reflection	25%	No	PART 1. 25/08/2023 PART 2. 29/09/2023
Online Quiz	15%	No	01/09/23
Justice Report	50%	No	03/11/2023
Active Participation	10%	No	See each task (in iLearn) for weekly due date

Reading Reflection

Assessment Type ¹: Reflective Writing

Indicative Time on Task ²: 14 hours

Due: PART 1. 25/08/2023 PART 2. 29/09/2023

Weighting: 25%

Students will submit 2 reflections during the session. Reflection is a means to separate opinions from evidence. Students will engage with deep reflection on the topics of readings and explore how they have changed from exposure to new knowledge.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- demonstrate a scholarly understanding of the criminal justice system
- distinguish between personal opinion and scientifically verified evidence
- use social research skills to identify, analyse and assess the quality of different data sources and types of evidence
- express key concepts clearly and accurately in both spoken and written format
- prepare for and engage effectively in online and classroom activities

Online Quiz

Assessment Type ¹: Quiz/Test

Indicative Time on Task ²: 4 hours

Due: 01/09/23

Weighting: 15%

The online quiz will test basic knowledge on the course content for the first 6 weeks of the unit. Students will spend 1 hour on the quiz, plus at least 1 hour of preparation (including focused reading and online research).

On successful completion you will be able to:

- demonstrate a scholarly understanding of the criminal justice system
- use social research skills to identify, analyse and assess the quality of different data sources and types of evidence
- express key concepts clearly and accurately in both spoken and written format

Justice Report

Assessment Type ¹: Report

Indicative Time on Task ²: 40 hours

Due: 03/11/2023

Weighting: 50%

Reports are often used as assessment tasks because well-developed report writing skills are important in many professional contexts. Reports are written based on gathering and analysing information using a discipline-specific methodology and format. If courts are open to the public students will visit court to gather primary data, if courts are closed to the public they will research using secondary data. Updated FAQs will be provided in iLearn

On successful completion you will be able to:

- demonstrate a scholarly understanding of the criminal justice system
- distinguish between personal opinion and scientifically verified evidence
- use social research skills to identify, analyse and assess the quality of different data sources and types of evidence
- express key concepts clearly and accurately in both spoken and written format
- conduct independent non-participant observations in the field, then combine theory with both primary and secondary data to write up a formal report
- prepare for and engage effectively in online and classroom activities

Active Participation

Assessment Type ¹: Participatory task

Indicative Time on Task ²: 12 hours

Due: See each task (in iLearn) for weekly due date

Weighting: 10%

Students must read in preparation for their active participation activity. This may include: preparation by reading and note-taking and engaging in online learning activities (e.g. wiki/discussion board) Active participation (15 skill-based tasks over 13 weeks) is used in this unit with a strict marking rubric and a careful alignment of each activity to the skills needed for the unit assessments.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- demonstrate a scholarly understanding of the criminal justice system
- distinguish between personal opinion and scientifically verified evidence
- express key concepts clearly and accurately in both spoken and written format
- prepare for and engage effectively in online and classroom activities

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

Lectures in this unit follow the standard 2 hour format and are delivered weekly. These will be live-on campus (pending student attendance levels). Lectures are Live-streamed (when delivered live) and recordings of the lectures will be available (where possible) within a few hours of the live recording.

Updates on delivery and resources during the session (e.g. on lectures, tutorials, assessments and all general study information) will be provided via the Announcements section in iLearn. Please make sure to check your MQ student email account for updates. NOTE - if you do not use your MQ student email as your primary email account you should make sure to check it regularly, or manually set up a redirect for MQ emails from there to your preferred email account. This way you ensure you stay up-to-date with your studies and any announcements we make.
