Unit description

In this unit, students will gain a thorough understanding of the nature and aetiology of disorders of voice, and fluency, in adults and children. Speech pathology assessment practices, including the use of instrumental and perceptual measures, identification of typical and unusual characteristics, and analysis and interpretation of results will be critically explored. Speech pathology interventions for these disorders, and the research evidence supporting them, will also be critically explored.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Analyse and evaluate accounts of the aetiology of voice and fluency disorders, focusing on their implications for diagnosis.

ULO2: Identify, analyse, and describe signs of voice and fluency disorders, and their implications for communication, health, and social participation.

ULO3: Select and justify appropriate, evidence-based speech pathology assessment and intervention for voice and fluency disorders.

ULO4: Utilise a social, collaborative, client-centred model of assessment and intervention for people with voice or fluency disorders.

ULO5: Critically appraise the research evidence supporting speech pathology assessment and intervention for people experiencing voice and fluency disorders, and employ it appropriately to promote client-centred care.

General Assessment Information

Grade descriptors and other information concerning grading are contained in the Macquarie University Assessment Policy.

All final grades are determined by a grading committee, in accordance with the Macquarie University Assess

Students will be awarded a final grade and a mark which must correspond to the grade descriptors specified ssessment Procedure (clause 128).

To pass this unit, you must demonstrate sufficient evidence of achievement of the learning outcomes, meet a Further details for each assessment task will be available on iLearn.

Case based assessment - voice disorder	50%	Yes	Mid-session break
Case based assessment - fluency disorder	50%	Yes	Week 15

Case based assessment - voice disorder

Assessment Type 1: Case study/analysis Indicative Time on Task 2: 38 hours

Due: Mid-session break

Weighting: 50%

This is a hurdle assessment task (see assessment policy for more information on hurdle assessment tasks)

In this assessment task, students will be provided with case information relating to people who have voice disorders. They will also be provided with clinical scenarios, and asked to develop plans relating to speech pathology assessment and intervention for these people. The assessment task will require students to integrate and synthesise case information, case data, theory, research evidence, and routine speech pathology practices in order to formulate plans.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Analyse and evaluate accounts of the aetiology of voice and fluency disorders, focusing on their implications for diagnosis.
- Identify, analyse, and describe signs of voice and fluency disorders, and their implications for communication, health, and social participation.
- Select and justify appropriate, evidence-based speech pathology assessment and intervention for voice and fluency disorders.
- Utilise a social, collaborative, client-centred model of assessment and intervention for people with voice or fluency disorders.
- · Critically appraise the research evidence supporting speech pathology assessment and intervention for people experiencing voice and fluency disorders, and employ it appropriately to promote client-centred care.
