Unit description

More than seventy years after the end of the Second World War, fascism and Nazism continue to fascinate. In this course, we will explore Italian fascism and German Nazism as broadly understood in Europe and beyond to better understand the appeal of their conservative, reactionary, and militaristic ideology. We will read the key literature on definitions of fascism in order to understand the concept as more than a pejorative. Through a close examination of the governments of Fascist Italy and Nazi Germany we will investigate how fascist regimes controlled everyday life, mobilized political support, shaped men and women's bodies, built cults of personality around their leaders, silenced the press, defeated leftist student organizations and unions, and organized repressive systems of militaristic expansion. We will also concentrate on the way that people learned to resist, survive, and even thrive under fascism through the formation of armed bands, clandestine intellectual networks, and organizations for non-violent struggle.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Demonstrate an understanding of a variety of conceptual approaches to interpreting the history of fascism as well as an understanding of the history of fascist movements in the nineteenth and twentieth century.

ULO2: Contribute to contemporary debates about fascism with an informed and critical understanding of the relationship between past and present.

ULO3: Analyse primary and secondary historical evidence, scholarship and changing representations of the past.

ULO4: Examine historical issues by undertaking research according to the methodological and ethical conventions of the discipline.

ULO5: Construct an evidence-based argument or narrative in audio, digital, oral, visual, or written form.

ULO6: Reflect critically on the knowledge and skills developed in their study of history.

General Assessment Information

Late Assessment Submission Penalty:

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of, 0 (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue. This late penalty will apply to non-timed sensitive assessment (incl essays, reports, posters, portfolios, journals, recordings etc). Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs etc) will only be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special consideration application. Special Consideration outcome may result in a new question or topic.

AI and LLM:

Students may use AI/LLM in their assessments, but they should note that they must exercise oversight over mistakes, confabulations, and omissions. These tools are better at editing writing than at drafting original arguments. Mistakes that are characteristic of these tools (making up citations, confabulating facts, or producing vague and unresponsive answers to specific questions) will lower student grades significantly.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Participation	20%	No	Ongoing
Project Proposal and Annotated Bibliography	20%	No	Week 5
Secondary Source Analysis	20%	No	Week 10
Research Paper	40%	No	Week 13

Participation

Assessment Type ¹: Participatory task

Indicative Time on Task ²: 15 hours

Due: Ongoing

Weighting: 20%

Students are expected to participate in and lead discussions throughout the semester. They should be prepared to share their ideas about the readings and questions that these may have raised, as well as resources relating to the readings that they have discovered.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate an understanding of a variety of conceptual approaches to interpreting the history of fascism as well as an understanding of the history of fascist movements in the nineteenth and twentieth century.
- Contribute to contemporary debates about fascism with an informed and critical understanding of the relationship between past and present.
- Analyse primary and secondary historical evidence, scholarship and changing representations of the past.
- Examine historical issues by undertaking research according to the methodological and ethical conventions of the discipline.
- Construct an evidence-based argument or narrative in audio, digital, oral, visual, or written form.
- Reflect critically on the knowledge and skills developed in their study of history.

Project Proposal and Annotated Bibliography

Assessment Type ¹: Annotated bibliography

Indicative Time on Task ²: 15 hours

Due: Week 5

Weighting: 20%

This assessment has two required components. Component One: In the proposal, students must design a research essay question focusing on any aspect of fascism and resistance to fascism. Component Two: In the Annotated Bibliography, students will generate a bibliography of at least five secondary sources that supports their research project.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate an understanding of a variety of conceptual approaches to interpreting the history of fascism as well as an understanding of the history of fascist movements in the nineteenth and twentieth century.
- Contribute to contemporary debates about fascism with an informed and critical understanding of the relationship between past and present.
- Analyse primary and secondary historical evidence, scholarship and changing representations of the past.
- Examine historical issues by undertaking research according to the methodological and ethical conventions of the discipline.
- Construct an evidence-based argument or narrative in audio, digital, oral, visual, or written form.

Secondary Source Analysis

Assessment Type ¹: Literature review

Indicative Time on Task ²: 15 hours

Due: Week 10

Weighting: 20%

For this assignment, students must examine a monograph (i.e. book) of their choosing. This monograph should be related to their final paper topic.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate an understanding of a variety of conceptual approaches to interpreting the history of fascism as well as an understanding of the history of fascist movements in the nineteenth and twentieth century.
- Contribute to contemporary debates about fascism with an informed and critical understanding of the relationship between past and present.
- Analyse primary and secondary historical evidence, scholarship and changing representations of the past.
- Examine historical issues by undertaking research according to the methodological and ethical conventions of the discipline.
- Construct an evidence-based argument or narrative in audio, digital, oral, visual, or written form.

Research Paper

Assessment Type ¹: Essay

Indicative Time on Task ²: 30 hours

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 40%

Essay: self-designed from your research project proposal.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate an understanding of a variety of conceptual approaches to interpreting the history of fascism as well as an understanding of the history of fascist movements in the nineteenth and twentieth century.
- Contribute to contemporary debates about fascism with an informed and critical understanding of the relationship between past and present.
- Analyse primary and secondary historical evidence, scholarship and changing representations of the past.
