Unit description
This unit serves as a broad introduction to archaeology, where students become familiar with its fundamental principles and concepts. Students will study the emergence of archaeology as a discipline, its purpose and aims. This unit will provide students with a foundation in the various methods and analytical techniques used to study archaeological evidence by using a combination of theory and practical case studies drawn from all periods of archaeology. Students will explore the various ways of interpreting archaeological remains, taking into account the multidisciplinary nature of the discipline.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates

Learning Outcomes
On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:
ULO1: Acquire knowledge of the archaeological discipline
ULO2: Analyse source material, including archaeological records, ancient sources, and modern scholarship
ULO3: Identify fundamental developments, theories and techniques of archaeology
ULO4: Communicate archaeological information and concepts through oral, visual and written formats
ULO5: Demonstrate critical thinking in reading of the literature and interpretation of the data

General Assessment Information
Rubrics and other guidance for the Assessments will be posted on our iLearn site and discussed in class. To complete the unit successfully you will need a minimum mark of 50% overall, and you will have to attempt all the assessments. F / FA: 0-49% P: 50-64% CR: 65-74% D: 75-84% HD: 85-100%

LATE SUBMISSION OF ASSESSMENT TASKS: Please always let one of us know ahead of time if you are having difficulty completing an assessment or if you will not be able to attend class or complete the online tutorial task. It’s just good for us to know what is going on with you -- it is not necessary to give specifics of your situation -- but it helps to hear from you, partly because Special Considerations get be delayed in busy times.

Most importantly though, please make sure to apply for a Special Consideration if you are not able to submit a task on time. That will help us to help you. I highly recommend that you become familiar with the procedure before you are in the position of having to use it - so that it does not become another challenging hurdle when you are already experiencing difficulties.

Here is the link to the webpage that will talk you through the requirements and process of Special Considerations. At the bottom of this page you will find an "Apply Now" button.

https://students.mq.edu.au/study/assessment-exams/special-consideration

LATE ASSESSMENT SUBMISSION PENALTY: Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day an assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of 0 (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55 pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue. This late penalty will apply to non-timed sensitive assessment (incl essays, reports, posters, portfolios, journals, recordings, etc.). Late submission of time-sensitive tasks (such as quizzes, tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs, etc.) will only be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special Consideration application. The Special Consideration outcome may result in a new question or topic.

IMPORTANT NOTE ON MARKS:
Grading decisions for each assessment task will be moderated against the set criteria and standards before task results are released.

Delivery and Resources
DELIVERY

Lectures will be delivered in person! I like to have some discussion during the lecture, so please come along to class. I will be very happy to see you there! You will also be able to access the lectures on the Echo360 platform via our iLearn site. Lecture and Tutorial slides will be posted after the respective classes.

Tutorials for Internal students will be held face-to-face. The tutorials will often build on our discussions from the lecture, so make sure to engage with the lectures before coming to your tutorial.

Online forums, which will replicate as far as possible the content that we cover during the in-person tutorials, will be held each week for Online/Flexible (External) students. Please post to the forums by the Sunday of that week's lecture. I look forward to reading your posts!

Please note that quiz questions and essay questions for the Final Exam will be taken from the readings, the lectures, and the tutorial materials.

RESOURCES

Required Text:

Recommended Texts:
You will find these texts helpful for this class and for those you take in the future. The Encyclopedias are good places to start your research for assessments and they are easily available through our library on MultiSearch:

Supplemental Readings:
We will also assign or recommend supplemental readings whenever we find an article or chapter that particularly supports what we are doing in the lecture and tutorial. Please Note: All readings for class should be completed before the lecture, and must be completed before attending the tutorials and taking the quizzes. Real learning, which is based on independent, active learning, depends on coming to the tutorials prepared to discuss the material from the lecture and the readings.

UNIT WEBPAGE AND TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED

This unit will use the iLearn system (https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/login/MQ/) to communicate with the students, so you will need access to a computer and a good internet connection. Basic computer and word-processing skills are also required.

Unit Schedule
Please see our iLearn page for this unit for details on our weekly topics, readings, and tutorials/online forums.
