| Unit description | TESOL Methodologies is a highly practice-oriented unit. It focuses on designing and implementing classroom English language learning activities and developing the skills and knowledge to teach language skills, plan effective language lessons and units of work. The practical sessions also cover classroom management; selecting adequate materials for language teaching and learning and assessment. The unit is based on the essential skill of reflective teaching practice and facilitates this through regular microteaching sessions. |

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Apply current theory and practice of English language teaching to the evaluation, modification and/or design of language learning resources, activities, lessons and units of work to meet the demands of the teaching context

ULO2: Apply current pedagogical and English language teaching theory to teaching specific groups of language learners

ULO3: Apply principles of reflective practice in using classroom management techniques for diverse learners in a variety of modes

ULO4: Demonstrate competence in assessment and feedback literacy as applied in language teaching and in their own learning

ULO5: Utilise a range of communication skills to communicate knowledge about TESOL practice in order to solve problems, review and revise resources, and collaborate with peers

When using the University’s IT, you must adhere to the Acceptable Use of IT Resources Policy. The policy applies to all who connect to the MQ network including students.

Inclusion and diversity

Social inclusion at Macquarie University is about giving everyone who has the potential to benefit from higher education the opportunity to study at university, participate in campus life and flourish in their chosen field. The University has made significant moves to promote an equitable, diverse and exciting campus community for the benefit of staff and students. It is your responsibility to contribute towards the development of an inclusive culture and practice in the areas of learning and teaching, research, and service orientation and delivery. As a member of the Macquarie University community, you must not discriminate against or harass others based on their sex, gender, race, marital status, carers' responsibilities, disability, sexual orientation, age, political conviction or religious belief. All staff and students are expected to display appropriate behaviour that is conducive to a healthy learning environment for everyone.

Professionalism

In the Faculty of Medicine, Health and Human Sciences, professionalism is a key capability embedded in all our courses.

As part of developing professionalism, students are expected to attend all small group interactive sessions. As an adult learner, we respect your decision to choose how you engage with your learning, but we would remind you that the learning opportunities we create for you have been done so to enable your success, and that by not engaging you may impact your ability to successfully complete this unit. We equally expect that you show respect for the academic staff who have worked hard to develop meaningful activities and prioritise your learning by communicating with them in advance if you are unable to attend a small group interactive session.

Another dimension of professionalism is having respect for your peers. It is the right of every student to learn in an environment that is free of disruption and distraction. Please arrive to all learning activities on time, and if you are unavoidably detained, please join activity as quietly as possible to minimise disruption. Phones and other electronic devices that produce noise and other distractions must be turned off prior to entering class. Where your own device (e.g., laptop) is being used for class-related activities, you are asked to close down all other applications to avoid distraction to you and others. Please treat your fellow students with the utmost respect. If you are uncomfortable participating in any specific activity, please let the relevant academic know.
