Unit description

The unit provides the knowledge and skills necessary to teach Stage 6 Social Sciences with a specific focus on Society and Culture as a second teaching subject. Participation in the course will highlight the important role Social Sciences play in developing secondary school students who understand and promote positive participation in community life and raise global awareness through attainment of social and cultural literacy. The course aims to develop research capacity, critical and independent thought with student-centred learning strategies modelled, practiced and discussed. The need to implement collaborative, cooperative and inclusive education is also demonstrated. The course examines different approaches to programming, lesson planning and forms of assessment. It also develops awareness of the professional role of the teacher.
