Unit description

Social impact assessment (SIA) is an important assessment tool which applies social science methodologies to the evaluation of a wide range of public policy proposals, including those relating to land use planning, social policies and public health. This unit addresses the theory and methods of SIA, discusses the public policy processes which use this assessment, and applies a critical perspective to the ethical dilemmas facing the SIA practitioner. There is a practical focus to the unit through the use of current case studies, and this provides students with an insight into pressures and political difficulties frequently encountered. Students will learn how to recognise and respond to these problems, and present issues to non-specialist audiences.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

- ULO1: Explain the theory underpinning SIA and its role and use in practice
- ULO2: Recognise key social impact issues that occur in land use development and public policy assessment
- ULO3: Apply knowledge and key concepts from social impact assessment to critical evaluation of planning and policy decisions
- ULO4: Identify and discuss ways of integrating social issues into public sector discourse and practice
- ULO5: Research and discuss complex ideas about social change, social process and assessment of social impacts
- ULO6: Recognise ethical issues and risks in evaluation and impact assessment

General Assessment Information

All assignments are in written form and must be submitted via Turn-it-In. Relevant readings and other source materials, detailed assessment descriptions and assessment criteria are provided. Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of '0' (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue. This late penalty will apply to non-time sensitive assessment (incl. essays, reports, posters, portfolios, journals, recordings etc). Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs etc) will only be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special Consideration application. Special Consideration outcome may result in a new question or topic.
