Unit description

Linguistic Theory and Practice is the capstone unit for the Bachelor of Linguistics and Language Sciences. As the capstone, it draws upon the skills and knowledge that students have acquired elsewhere in the course. Since the Bachelor of Linguistics and Language Sciences contains three specialisations: Theoretical and Descriptive Linguistics, Child Language Acquisition, and Applied Linguistics, this unit will offer a learning experience that is catered to each of the specialisations. Students will design a research project related to their specialisation, discuss the development of linguistic theories pertaining to their specialisation, and explore the pathways for employment and further study that capitalise on the skills and knowledge they have gained thus far in their studies.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Critically discuss a range of approaches to the study of language, showing an understanding of the ontological and epistemological differences between different theories of language.

ULO2: Communicate knowledge about key linguistic theorists using a variety of genres and modalities.

ULO3: Demonstrate an understanding of how linguistic research is conducted and the types of data and methods used in a range of fields of linguistic research.

ULO4: Apply your knowledge of linguistic theory and practice to research design aligned with your specialisation.

ULO5: Identify potential career pathways that utilise the skills and knowledge you have gained through studying linguistics and language sciences.

General Assessment Information

Grade descriptors and other information concerning grading are contained in the Macquarie University Assessment Policy.

All final grades are determined by a grading committee, in accordance with the Macquarie University Assessment Policy, and are not the sole responsibility of the Unit Convenor.

Students will be awarded a final grade and a mark which must correspond to the grade descriptors specified in the Assessment Procedure (clause 128).

To pass this unit, you must demonstrate sufficient evidence of achievement of the learning outcomes, meet any ungraded requirements, and achieve a final mark of 50 or better.

Further details for each assessment task will be available on iLearn.

Late Submissions

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (OF THE TOTAL POSSIBLE MARK) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a grade of '0' will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical concern.

For example:

| Number of days (hours) late | Total Possible Marks | Deduction | Raw mark | Final mark |
|-----------------------------|----------------------|-----------|----------|------------|
| 1 day (1-24 hours) | 100 | 5 | 75 | 70 |
| 2 days (24-48 hours) | 100 | 10 | 75 | 65 |
| 3 days (48-72 hours) | 100 | 15 | 75 | 60 |
| 7 days (144-168 hours) | 100 | 35 | 75 | 40 |
| >7 days (>168 hours) | 100 | - | 75 | 0 |

For any late submissions of time-sensitive tasks, such as scheduled tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, and/or scheduled practical assessments/labs, students need to submit an application for Special Consideration.

Use of Generative AI

Please refer to instructions from your lecturer on the use and the acknowledgement of use of Generative AI in your submitted assignments.

Assessment Tasks

| Name | Weighting | Hurdle | Due |
|---|-----------|--------|------------|
| Essay on the historical development of a linguistic phenomenon | 35% | No | 8/9/2024 |
| Poster presentation of your project | 20% | No | 13/10/2024 |
| Research proposal / Report | 45% | No | 3/11/2024 |

Essay on the historical development of a linguistic phenomenon

Assessment Type ¹: Essay

Indicative Time on Task ²: 20 hours

Due: 8/9/2024

Weighting: 35%

You will write an essay on the historical development of a particular linguistic phenomenon, and the theories associated with this phenomenon.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critically discuss a range of approaches to the study of language, showing an understanding of the ontological and epistemological differences between different theories of language.
- Communicate knowledge about key linguistic theorists using a variety of genres and modalities.
- Demonstrate an understanding of how linguistic research is conducted and the types of data and methods used in a range of fields of linguistic research.

- Apply your knowledge of linguistic theory and practice to research design aligned with your specialisation.

Poster presentation of your project

Assessment Type ¹: Poster

Indicative Time on Task ²: 16 hours

Due: 13/10/2024

Weighting: 20%

You will create a poster presentation that introduces your research question/report focus and the literature that provides the background to the project.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critically discuss a range of approaches to the study of language, showing an understanding of the ontological and epistemological differences between different theories of language.
- Communicate knowledge about key linguistic theorists using a variety of genres and modalities.
- Demonstrate an understanding of how linguistic research is conducted and the types of data and methods used in a range of fields of linguistic research.
- Apply your knowledge of linguistic theory and practice to research design aligned with your specialisation.
- Identify potential career pathways that utilise the skills and knowledge you have gained through studying linguistics and language sciences.

Research proposal / Report

Assessment Type ¹: Project

Indicative Time on Task ²: 38 hours

Due: 3/11/2024

Weighting: 45%

You will prepare and submit either a report that applies linguistic knowledge beyond academia, or a research proposal you have designed over the course of the unit. The aim of the research proposal is to propose a research question and describe its conception, background, and implementation. The aim of the report is to explore an application of linguistics to the real-world.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critically discuss a range of approaches to the study of language, showing an understanding of the ontological and epistemological differences between different theories of language.
- Communicate knowledge about key linguistic theorists using a variety of genres and modalities.
- Demonstrate an understanding of how linguistic research is conducted and the types of data and methods used in a range of fields of linguistic research.
- Apply your knowledge of linguistic theory and practice to research design aligned with your specialisation.
- Identify potential career pathways that utilise the skills and knowledge you have gained through studying linguistics and language sciences.

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

The delivery of this unit is primarily by on-campus lectures and tutorials for internally enrolled students. If the lecture is to be delivered online in any given week, you will be advised of this via iLearn announcement. The sessions are interactive seminars. Students are expected to actively participate in class. Students are also expected to do independent research using academic sources.

Resources are available through the iLearn website for this unit. Technologies used include video, Echo360 and other online resources.

Active participation in the learning activities throughout the unit will require students to have access to a tablet, laptop or similar device. Students who do not own their own laptop computer may borrow one from the university library.

Policies and Procedures

Macquarie University policies and procedures are accessible from Policy Central \(https://policies.mq.edu.au\). Students should be aware of the following policies in particular with regard to

Inclusion and Diversity

Social inclusion at Macquarie University is about giving everyone who has the potential to benefit from higher education the opportunity to study at university, participate in campus life and flourish in their chosen field. The University has made significant moves to promote an equitable, diverse and exciting campus community for the benefit of staff and students. It is your responsibility to contribute towards the development of an inclusive culture and practice in the areas of learning and teaching, research, and service orientation and delivery. As a member of the Macquarie University community, you must not discriminate against or harass others based on their sex, gender, race, marital status, carers' responsibilities, disability, sexual orientation, age, political conviction or religious belief. All staff and students are expected to display appropriate behaviour that is conducive to a healthy learning environment for everyone.

Professionalism

In the Faculty of Medicine, Health and Human Sciences, professionalism is a key capability embedded in all our courses.

As part of developing professionalism, students are expected to attend all small group interactive sessions including clinical, practical, laboratory, work-integrated learning (e.g., PACE placements), and team-based learning activities. Some learning activities are recorded (e.g., face-to-face lectures), however you are encouraged to avoid relying upon such material as they do not recreate the whole learning experience and technical issues can and do occur. As an adult learner, we respect your decision to choose how you engage with your learning, but we would remind you that the learning opportunities we create for you have been done so to enable your success, and that by not engaging you may impact your ability to successfully complete this unit. We equally expect that you show respect for the academic staff who have worked hard to develop meaningful activities and prioritise your learning by communicating with them in advance if you are unable to attend a small group interactive session.

Another dimension of professionalism is having respect for your peers. It is the right of every student to learn in an environment that is free of disruption and distraction. Please arrive to all learning activities on time, and if you are unavoidably detained, please join activity as quietly as possible to minimise disruption. Phones and other electronic devices that produce noise and other distractions must be turned off prior to entering class. Where your own device (e.g., laptop) is being used for class-related activities, you are asked to close down all other applications to avoid distraction to you and others. Please treat your fellow students with the utmost respect. If you are uncomfortable participating in any specific activity, please let the relevant academic know.
