Unit description Studies in Network Culture focuses on the social and cultural impact of the Internet and digital media. Issues addressed include digital disruption; online networks and democracy; mobile phone network culture; the transformation of media culture, including screen culture, by streaming technologies; downloading and remix culture; issues of authorship and copyright; 'transformative' online practices such as fan fiction.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

- ULO1: deploy advanced disciplinary knowledge of the principles, methods and concepts within the field of network culture.
- ULO2: identify, analyse and evaluate key issues and debates related to transformative online practices.
- ULO3: apply and critically assess research practices that address the social and cultural impact of digital media.
- ULO4: communicate effectively and incorporate academic conventions.

General Assessment Information

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of 0 (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted.

Submission time for all written assessment is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experienced a technical issue.

This late penalty will apply to written reports and recordings only. Late submissions of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs) will be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special Consideration application.
