Unit description
This unit introduces students to contemporary debates about how public policy problems are addressed. It does this by tracing the change from government to governance and considers the range of policy instruments now regularly used to respond to policy problems. This includes, for example, the use of market based solutions in a range of policy areas. Students are also introduced to key actors and institutions, as well as to relevant theories for analysing public policy.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates

Learning Outcomes
On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Explain and critically analyse the way in which power and politics impact on public policy and the policy process
ULO2: Identify the range of actors and institutions involved in the policy process, using the Australian example as the basis for comparison with other policy environments
ULO3: Analyse the role of different actors and institutions in influencing policy in networks, subsystems or communities
ULO4: Identify, critically analyse and discuss the major debates and controversies involved in this subject, including debates around the proper role of government, the shift from government to governance, the impact of globalisation, and the role of public and interest group participation in the policy process

ULO5: Recognise, understand and apply the most common theoretical approaches used in studying politics and policy, and identify differences and similarities between them

ULO6: Analyse the policy-making process using several different models, or theories, and critically evaluate these by applying them to real-world case studies, and demonstrating their strengths and weaknesses

General Assessment Information

Late Assessment Submission Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of 0 (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue.

This late penalty will apply to non-timed sensitive assessment (incl essays, reports, posters, portfolios, journals, recordings etc). Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs etc) will only be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special consideration application. Special Consideration outcome may result in a new question or topic.

Participatory Tasks

Assessment Type 1: Participatory task
Indicative Time on Task 2: 20 hours
Due: June 2, 11:59 pm
Weighting: 10%

Discussions and activities provide an opportunity to make connections between the broad principles and theories covered in lectures and contemporary political issues and events

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Explain and critically analyse the way in which power and politics impact on public policy and the policy process
- Identify the range of actors and institutions involved in the policy process, using the Australian example as the basis for comparison with other policy environments
- Analyse the role of different actors and institutions in influencing policy in networks, subsystems or communities
• Identify, critically analyse and discuss the major debates and controversies involved in this subject, including debates around the proper role of government, the shift from government to governance, the impact of globalisation, and the role of public and interest group participation in the policy process

Email Exchange
Assessment Type 1: Simulation/role play
Indicative Time on Task 2: 30 hours
Due: March 24, 11:59 pm
Weighting: 40%

Students simulate an email exchange with a colleague to advocate a policy change that benefits an interest group and reflect on their experience and relevant skills and knowledge they utilise during this activity.

On successful completion you will be able to:
• Explain and critically analyse the way in which power and politics impact on public policy and the policy process
• Identify the range of actors and institutions involved in the policy process, using the Australian example as the basis for comparison with other policy environments
• Analyse the role of different actors and institutions in influencing policy in networks, subsystems or communities
