Unit description
This unit is primarily concerned with the economic analysis of individual decision-making agents, the behaviour of firms and industries within markets. Students learn how a market-based economy works, what type of problems households and businesses face, and how the economic framework can be used to analyse the policy environment within which they operate. The unit also examines how technology spreads globally, social interactions and dilemmas, and concepts of fairness and ethics. The concepts are taught through a mix of tutorial questions that examine business and social trade-offs, and authentic practical examples. Students will gain business and economic skills and incorporate an appreciation of global, ethical and environmental context and social responsibility. Overall, the unit provides a platform for students to apply an economic framework across disciplines within the Business School.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates

Learning Outcomes
On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Identify and describe the contribution of economics to the appropriate management of contemporary business and social issues.
ULO2: Analyse and explain how principles of economics are relevant in analysing and describing decision-making by individuals, businesses and government.

ULO3: Communicate solutions and apply theories and cost-benefit considerations to real-life economic problems and trade-offs.

ULO4: Understand and evaluate economic outcomes and policy from broad business ethical, sustainability, and equity perspectives.

General Assessment Information

Late Assessment Submission Penalty (written assessments) Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a grade of ‘0’ will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55 pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical concern. For any late submissions of time-sensitive tasks, such as scheduled tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, and/or scheduled practical assessments/labs, students need to submit an application for Special Consideration.
