Unit description
This unit enables students to gain an understanding of the implications and impacts of information and communication technology (ICT) in business. The aim of the unit is for students to understand the concept of the digital economy, the impact business pressures play on the organisation, and their responses and adaptations to these pressures, and the role ICT plays both inside and outside the organisation in the context of globalisation and future trends. The focus is on understanding the creation of business value by enabling business processes using information and communications technologies. Students will analyse contemporary case studies and examples to critically evaluate and recommend specific ICT solutions for each topic. Students develop report writing skills by researching a current topic, such as cybersecurity or digital ethics, analyse the issues and provide recommendations to management.

The unit is offered in two delivery modes. Students can choose between a face-to-face, on campus offering, over the full session, or an external offering comprising six modules, each of one week's duration, with a workshop on campus prior to the start of session.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates

Learning Outcomes
On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:
ULO1: Explain and critically evaluate the impact of Information and Communication Technology on an organisation’s environment and business model, and how it supports data analysis and decision making.

ULO2: Evaluate the significance of information to organisational success by explaining the business benefits of a reliable IS infrastructure, and how to successfully leverage information with an appropriate level of security.

ULO3: Explain how enterprise-wide systems support information and how business decisions are made by the users of that information.

ULO4: Research and evaluate the issues relating to information ethics and privacy, including the implications for social media use.

General Assessment Information

Late Assessment Submission Penalty

From 1 July 2022, Students enrolled in Session based units with written assessments will have the following late penalty applied. Please see https://students.mq.edu.au/study/assessment-exams/assessments for more information.

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a grade of '0' will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11:55 pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical concern.

Assessments where Late Submissions will be accepted

In this unit, late submissions will be accepted as follows:

Weekly Assessment, NO
Report, YES, Standard Late Penalty applies
Take-Home Essay, YES, Standard Late Penalty applies

For any late submission of time-sensitive tasks, such as scheduled tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, and/or scheduled practical assessments/labs, students need to submit an application for Special Consideration.

Self-Plagiarism: Macquarie's plagiarism policy (see link below) does not allow this, there are no exemptions on similarity for these type of situations and the similarity number will only increase once both are in the Turnitin database and match with each other. Tread very carefully if this situation applies to you, your discussion points will have to be almost completely different in each unit. Consider this early fair warning.

Take Home Essay
Assessment Type ¹: Examination
Indicative Time on Task ²: 30 hours
Due: Week 14
Weighting: 50%

A set of questions will be released that could be your final take home essay. Students will need to prepare for each question, and will need to submit a maximum one page summary for the chosen take home essay question advised by the lecturer.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Explain and critically evaluate the impact of Information and Communication Technology on an organisation’s environment and business model, and how it supports data analysis and decision making.
- Evaluate the significance of information to organisational success by explaining the business benefits of a reliable IS infrastructure, and how to successfully leverage information with an appropriate level of security.
- Explain how enterprise-wide systems support information and how business decisions are made by the users of that information.
- Research and evaluate the issues relating to information ethics and privacy, including the implications for social media use.

Report
Assessment Type ¹: Report
Indicative Time on Task ²: 10 hours
Due: Week 7
Weighting: 20%
The assessment task is to write a 2,500 report with scholarly references that will address a contemporary topic relating to information systems.

On successful completion you will be able to:
• Explain and critically evaluate the impact of Information and Communication Technology on an organisation’s environment and business model, and how it supports data analysis and decision making.
• Research and evaluate the issues relating to information ethics and privacy, including the implications for social media use.

Weekly Assessment
Assessment Type: Participatory task
Indicative Time on Task: 30 hours
Due: Week 4/ 6/ 8/ 10/ 12
Weighting: 30%

A variety of activities will be assigned each week from weeks 3 to 12, completed in class. Students are expected to complete readings and research as required prior to the class.

On successful completion you will be able to:
• Explain and critically evaluate the impact of Information and Communication Technology on an organisation’s environment and business model, and how it supports data analysis and decision making.
• Evaluate the significance of information to organisational success by explaining the business benefits of a reliable IS infrastructure, and how to successfully leverage information with an appropriate level of security.
• Explain how enterprise-wide systems support information and how business decisions are made by the users of that information.

1 If you need help with your assignment, please contact:
• the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
• the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

2 Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

Classes

This unit uses a flipped classroom learning approach. Students will be expected to read the textbook chapter, read lecture notes and complete activities prior to attending class. The class will involve interactive activities involving case studies, working in groups and other activities.

Mode of delivery is online. ACCG8022 is taught via lectures and tutorials.

There is one class per week that will consist of three (3) hours. The timetables portal is available here: http://timetables.mq.edu.au
