Unit description

This unit introduces a psychological perspective into the study of language. We explore models of the perceptual and cognitive processes that are involved in acquiring and using linguistic knowledge, considering evidence from typical language users and people with language disorders. Specific topics will be drawn from a set that includes: word recognition and understanding; sentence comprehension; language production; aphasia; first language acquisition, skilled reading and reading development, second language acquisition, bilingualism and multilingualism.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Describe and evaluate theories and research in psycholinguistics

ULO2: Identify questions and issues raised in the field of Psycholinguistics.

ULO3: Identify the methods of data collection that psycholinguists use

ULO4: Critically analyse empirical research articles in psycholinguistics.

ULO5: Interpret empirical data in relation to theoretical questions/issues

ULO6: Analyse language disorders, including linguistic disorders in reading.

ULO7: Evaluate psycholinguistic theories of typical language processing using data from people with disordered language

General Assessment Information

General Assessment Information

Grade descriptors and other information concerning grading are contained in the Macquarie University Assessment Policy.

All final grades are determined by a grading committee, in accordance with the Macquarie University Assessment Policy, and are not the sole responsibility of the Unit Convenors.

Students will be awarded a final grade and a mark which must correspond to the grade descriptors specified in the Assessment Procedure (clause 128).

To pass this unit, you must demonstrate sufficient evidence of achievement of the learning outcomes, meet any ungraded requirements, and achieve a final mark of 50 or better.

Further details for each assessment task will be available on iLearn.

Late Submissions

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (OF THE TOTAL POSSIBLE MARK) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a grade of '0' will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical concern.

For example:

Number of days (hours) late	Total Possible Marks	Deduction	Raw mark	Final mark
1 day (1-24 hours)	100	5	75	70
2 days (24-48 hours)	100	10	75	65
3 days (48-72 hours)	100	15	75	60
7 days (144-168 hours)	100	35	75	40
>7 days (>168 hours)	100	-	75	0

Late submissions for an assessment task will not be accepted once that assessment task has been marked and returned to students.

Late submission of time sensitive tasks, such as timetabled tests/exams, scheduled performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs, will be addressed by the Unit Convenors in a Special Consideration application.

Use of Generative Al

Please refer to instructions from your Unit Convenors on the use and acknowledgement of use of Generative AI in your submitted assignments.

Special Consideration

If you are unable to complete an assessment task on or by the specified date due circumstances that are unexpected, unavoidable, significantly disruptive and beyond your control, you may apply for special consideration in accordance with the special consideration policy. Applications for special consideration must be supported by appropriate evidence and submitted via ask.mq.edu.au.

- 1. You should only attempt an exam if you are well enough to do so. Note: Special Consideration is not normally granted if an exam has already been attempted. If you are unfit/unable to attempt the exam due to an eligible disruption, please do not attempt the exam. For information regarding Special Consideration and how attempting an exam will impact your application, refer to the Special Consideration webpage
- 2. In the event of illness or significant disruptions during an examination, you must promptly cease your work. If the incident occurs in an invigilated exam setting, you must inform the supervisor or invigilator immediately. If the disruption takes place outside an invigilated setting (e.g. non-invigilated timed assessment), it should be reported immediately to the appropriate course authority. Subsequently, you should promptly consult the Special Consideration webpag e to review the FAQs and eligibility requirements and follow the steps to apply.
- 3. If you attempt an exam or timed assessment without reporting any issues during the assessment process to the supervisor or invigilator (in the case of invigilated exam) or appropriate course authority (unit convenor for example in the case of non-invigilated exam) and then apply for Special Consideration based on illness during the exam, the application will generally not be considered.

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
A research report (2400 words)	30%	No	2024-10-25
A written task critically reviewing a published research article (1000 words)	20%	No	2024-08-30

multiple choice questions

Assessment Type 1: Examination Indicative Time on Task 2: 40 hours

Due: exam period Weighting: 45%

Exam questions assessing knowledge from the unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- · Describe and evaluate theories and research in psycholinguistics
- · Identify questions and issues raised in the field of Psycholinguistics.
- · Identify the methods of data collection that psycholinguists use
- Interpret empirical data in relation to theoretical questions/issues
- · Analyse language disorders, including linguistic disorders in reading.

Brief outline of a research report (300 words)

Assessment Type 1: Design Task Indicative Time on Task 2: 4 hours

Due: 2024-10-11 Weighting: 5%

Students will plan out information for their class project report

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Describe and evaluate theories and research in psycholinguistics
- Identify questions and issues raised in the field of Psycholinguistics.

A research report (2400 words)

Assessment Type 1: Report

Indicative Time on Task 2: 26 hours

Due: 2024-10-25 Weighting: 30%

The report is based on a class experiment for which each student is encouraged to participate.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Describe and evaluate theories and research in psycholinguistics
- Identify questions and issues raised in the field of Psycholinguistics.
- · Identify the methods of data collection that psycholinguists use
- Critically analyse empirical research articles in psycholinguistics.
- Interpret empirical data in relation to theoretical questions/issues
- · Analyse language disorders, including linguistic disorders in reading.
- Evaluate psycholinguistic theories of typical language processing using data from people with disordered language

A written task critically reviewing a published research article (1000 words)

Assessment Type 1: Literature review Indicative Time on Task 2: 18 hours

Due: 2024-08-30 Weighting: 20%

Students need to answer 15 questions based on a research article.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Describe and evaluate theories and research in psycholinguistics
- Identify questions and issues raised in the field of Psycholinguistics.
- Identify the methods of data collection that psycholinguists use
- · Critically analyse empirical research articles in psycholinguistics.
- Interpret empirical data in relation to theoretical questions/issues
- Analyse language disorders, including linguistic disorders in reading.

Inclusion and Diversity

Social inclusion at Macquarie University is about giving everyone who has the potential to benefit from higher education the opportunity to study at university, participate in campus life and flourish in their chosen field. The University has made significant moves to promote an equitable, diverse and exciting campus community for the benefit of staff and students. It is your responsibility to contribute towards the development of an inclusive culture and practice in the areas of learning and teaching, research, and service orientation and delivery. As a member of the Macquarie University community, you must not discriminate against or harass others based on their sex, gender, race, marital status, carers' responsibilities, disability, sexual orientation, age, political conviction or religious belief. All staff and students are expected to display appropriate behaviour that is conducive to a healthy learning environment for everyone.

Professionalism

In the Faculty of Medicine, Health and Human Sciences, professionalism is a key capability embedded in all our courses.

As part of developing professionalism, students are expected to attend all small group interactive sessions including clinical, practical, laboratory, work-integrated learning (e.g., PACE placements), and team-based learning activities. Some learning activities are recorded (e.g., face-to-face lectures), however you are encouraged to avoid relying upon such material as they do not recreate the whole learning experience and technical issues can and do occur. As an adult learner, we respect your decision to choose how you engage with your learning, but we would remind you that the learning opportunities we create for you have been done so to enable your success, and that by not engaging you may impact your ability to successfully complete this unit. We equally expect that you show respect for the academic staff who have worked hard to develop meaningful activities and prioritise your learning by communicating with them in advance if you are unable to attend a small group interactive session.

Another dimension of professionalism is having respect for your peers. It is the right of every student to learn in an environment that is free of disruption and distraction. Please arrive to all learning activities on time, and if you are unavoidably detained, please join activity as quietly as possible to minimise disruption. Phones and other electronic devices that produce noise and other distractions must be turned off prior to entering class. Where your own device (e.g., laptop) is being used for class-related activities, you are asked to close down all other applications to avoid distraction to you and others. Please treat your fellow students with the utmost respect. If you are uncomfortable participating in any specific activity, please let the relevant academic know.
