Unit description

This unit introduces students to professional screen production practices, with a focus on creative development of ideas, cinematography, visual & aural style, and editing. The unit is delivered through seminars, screenings, practical workshops, in-class and online exercises, and equipment and software demonstrations. The 'hands-on' and experiential intensive mode of delivery exposes students to real-world practices and fosters development of collaboration and communication skills. Students work individually and in groups, as part of production crews, to generate original screen media when completing assignments. This unit aims to develop students' ability to critically analyse and evaluate their own and others' work and to place it within a historical, creative and theoretical context.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Demonstrate a foundational grasp of both theoretical concepts and practical skills essential for the planning and execution of screen productions.

ULO2: Employ specialised terminology in screen production to critically assess and interpret works within the field.

ULO3: Utilise adept planning and problem-solving strategies within a screen production environment.

ULO4: Critically appraise both personal and peer-produced works, identifying creative and technical aspects requiring enhancement or adjustment.

ULO5: Foster effective collaboration and communication with peers while adhering to set production deadlines.

ULO6: Analyse and synthesise contemporary production workflows, crew responsibilities, foundational on-set protocols, and industry-specific safety measures.

ULO7: Recognise the potential of screen productions to serve as platforms for raising awareness on societal issues.

ULO8: Integrate and synthesise prior professional experience and cognate learning to produce an in-depth, original piece of media research/project.

General Assessment Information

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of '0' (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue. This late penalty will apply to written reports and recordings only. Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs will be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special consideration application.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Screen Production	30%	No	Fri 11/4/25 11.55 PM
Portfolio	20%	No	Sun 8/6/2025 11.55 PM
Production Documentation	50%	No	Sun 8/6/2025 11.55 PM

Screen Production

Assessment Type 1: Creative work

Indicative Time on Task 2: 35 hours

Due: Fri 11/4/25 11.55 PM

Weighting: 30%

Students will collaborate in small production teams to create a screen production of under 5 minutes in any form or genre. Each team member will take on a specific crew role (Director, Producer, Cinematographer, etc.). In exceptional circumstances, subject to unit convenor approval, students may undertake individual productions. Refer to iLearn for further information.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate a foundational grasp of both theoretical concepts and practical skills essential for the planning and execution of screen productions.
- Utilise adept planning and problem-solving strategies within a screen production environment.
- Critically appraise both personal and peer-produced works, identifying creative and technical aspects requiring enhancement or adjustment.
- Foster effective collaboration and communication with peers while adhering to set production deadlines.
- Analyse and synthesise contemporary production workflows, crew responsibilities, foundational on-set protocols, and industry-specific safety measures.
- Recognise the potential of screen productions to serve as platforms for raising awareness on societal issues.
- Integrate and synthesise prior professional experience and cognate learning to produce an in-depth, original piece of media research/project.

Portfolio

Assessment Type ¹: Portfolio

Indicative Time on Task ²: 40 hours

Due: Sun 8/6/2025 11.55 PM

Weighting: 20%

Students are required to maintain a portfolio that documents their learning including completing set weekly tasks on iLearn. The purpose of the portfolio is to engage in reflective learning and to assist in developing and documenting critical screen production skills. Refer to iLearn for further information.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate a foundational grasp of both theoretical concepts and practical skills essential for the planning and execution of screen productions.
- Employ specialised terminology in screen production to critically assess and interpret works within the field.
- Utilise adept planning and problem-solving strategies within a screen production environment.

- Critically appraise both personal and peer-produced works, identifying creative and technical aspects requiring enhancement or adjustment.
- Foster effective collaboration and communication with peers while adhering to set production deadlines.
- Analyse and synthesise contemporary production workflows, crew responsibilities, foundational on-set protocols, and industry-specific safety measures.
- Recognise the potential of screen productions to serve as platforms for raising awareness on societal issues.

Production Documentation

Assessment Type ¹: Reflective Writing

Indicative Time on Task ²: 20 hours

Due: Sun 8/6/2025 11.55 PM

Weighting: 50%

Each student will submit individual production documentation that demonstrates their pre-production preparation, details their contribution in their specific crew role, and provides a critical evaluation of both the final film and their role within the production team. This documentation should demonstrate understanding of professional screen production practices and the ability to critically reflect on creative and technical decisions.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate a foundational grasp of both theoretical concepts and practical skills essential for the planning and execution of screen productions.
- Employ specialised terminology in screen production to critically assess and interpret works within the field.
- Utilise adept planning and problem-solving strategies within a screen production environment.
- Critically appraise both personal and peer-produced works, identifying creative and technical aspects requiring enhancement or adjustment.
- Foster effective collaboration and communication with peers while adhering to set production deadlines.
- Analyse and synthesise contemporary production workflows, crew responsibilities, foundational on-set protocols, and industry-specific safety measures.

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

Computer Requirements:

- Personal Computer: It is encouraged that students have a computer or laptop capable of video editing.
- Desktop Access: Access to high-performance desktop computers is available in 10HA. These computers are equipped with AVID Media Composer, the preferred video editing software for all screen units. Familiarisation with the Mac OS is encouraged as most computers in Building 10HA are Apple computers.

Software Access:

- AVID Media Composer: Installed on 10HA desktops and it is preferred for use in all screen units.
- Adobe Suite: Includes Premiere Pro.

Equipment and Software Usage: Access to the necessary equipment and software will be provided by the university. Students will be required to work with a variety of departmental digital and mechanical technologies, including:

- Video Recording Equipment: Such as Sony PXW-FS5 and FX6 cameras.
- Audio Equipment: Including sound recorders and microphones.
- Editing Software: Digital editing tools for both still and moving images.
- Supporting Equipment: Image stabilising gear, tripods, dollies, and various portable lighting tools.

Online Learning Resources: The university provides access to online platforms for learning about screen production technologies:

- Udemy Business https://multisearch.mq.edu.au/permalink/61MACQUARIE_INST/1c87tk9/alma99245374432302171.
- O'Reilly Learning Platform – business and technology courses, video and ebooks
- ClickView – which has recently expanded its content to include a Tertiary Library collection (over 2700 educational videos including foundation skills, business, finance, health & science, video & media production)

Health and Safety:

- Footwear: Flat-heeled, closed shoes are mandatory in the screen production studio.
- Headphones: Students must use their own headphones when working on desktop computers in 10HA.
- Safety Guidelines: Adherence to health and safety guidelines is required during workshops and production activities. A safety report is mandatory for all productions.

Unit Schedule

MMCC6212 is not delivered in a standard mode like many other units. The activities for this unit include:

SEMINAR – Seminars will be delivered live online via Zoom on Tuesdays from 6-8 pm in Weeks 1,2,3,4,6 & 7. These seminars will be a mix of lectures, discussions, film screenings and practical demonstrations. Link provided on iLearn. Although recordings are available, the seminars are an excellent opportunity to ask questions, pose queries about assignments and discuss potential filmmaking ideas. You are highly encouraged to attend these sessions live online.

STUDENT-LED LEARNING – These are activities and exercises that will be uploaded on iLearn. Students engage with them at a time and venue of their choice. It is advised that students engage in the activities in the weeks suggested in the schedule. These activities must be completed for the Portfolio Assignment (Journal).

WORKSHOP – This is a 2-hr activity held in Weeks 5, 11 and 12. In class sessions are held at 10HA RM 189 (Screen Production Studio). Students need to attend all 3 Workshops. Students need to stick to the same time for all 3 Workshops. In the Week 5 workshop students will get into production groups and be assigned production roles. Students who fail to attend this workshop may not be able to complete assignments.

PRACTICAL – Practicals will be held during the 1st week of the mid-semester break for 2 days (10 am to 5 pm). Students have to attend this activity face-to-face. Sessions are not recorded. Students can either attend the session on Mon 14th and Tues 15th April OR Wed 16th and Thurs 17th. They have to attend the session with their production group. Group will register for which session they attend in Week 5.
