Unit description

This is a practical unit with a focus on visual communication and design for the web. Students undertaking this unit will develop practical and creative web skills, and learn principles of screen-based design and communication, including graphics, interaction, user experience, and responsive design.

The unit develops interconnected creative and technical literacies and teaches designers to code, and coders to design. Students will develop complementary skills that enable them to move from concept to execution, including wireframing and user experience design with industry standard creative tools, and design implementation using open standards.

Students will develop critical insight and practical understanding of creative technologies used in designing for web and screen, which will give them a foundational understanding of concepts explored in subsequent interactive design units.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: demonstrate a functional understanding of design prototyping and design implementation.

ULO2: develop effective and efficient means of communicating visually through the browser.

ULO3: understand the iterative processes of prototyping and implementing design for the web and screen-based viewports.

ULO4: communicate ideas effectively in a variety of contexts (including written, visual, and oral) for a variety of audiences.

ULO5: analyse, critically evaluate, and apply 20th and 21st century design approaches to place creative practice within historical and theoretical frameworks.

General Assessment Information

Assessment marks are aligned with the university's grade descriptors.

Attribution

In original creative works, any non-original 'borrowed' code, text, or media files should be appropriately attributed or referenced as you would in a formal written assignment. Submission of work that is primarily copied from resources outside of content provided in the unit is subject to the same Academic Integrity Policy as written works.

Special Consideration

If you experience serious and unavoidable difficulties when assessment tasks are due, you can consider applying for Special Consideration. Please read the information available here and, if you are eligible, apply via ask.mq.edu.au.

Late Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of '0' (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue.

This late penalty will apply to written reports and recordings only. Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs will be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special Consideration application).
