Unit description

This unit is about the common (yet often scandalous) dilemmas or big issues we confront or have to ethically decide upon in our everyday lives. For example, why do we, or would we, decide to have an affair or a one night stand? Why do we decide to have kids, or not? Why do we decide to work, or be educated? Why do we decide it is important to prolong human life, or not (euthanasia)? Why do we choose to eat or not eat animals? Selecting from topics such as health, environment, science, to adultery, marriage, abortion, euthanasia, religion, war, sport, and work, this unit will draw on a number of key thinkers, ethical and practical approaches, and media representations, to debate how and why we make the decisions we do, why we think some decisions are more important than others, and how our decisions are influenced by media and politicians, religion and society, family and friends.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: analyse, identify, and communicate broad and specific arguments in contemporary media, cultural, political, and ethical debates.

ULO2: evaluate various media representations and/or media practices that contribute to cultural, social, and ethical values.

ULO3: apply theoretical arguments underpinning contemporary issues and debates to specific ethical decision making in everyday life.

ULO4: apply problem solving and enquiry based learning to contemporary social, cultural, and ethical issues and debates.

ULO5: reflect critically on the impact and consequence of one's arguments on others, while respecting the difference of counterarguments.

General Assessment Information

The position paper and self-reflective essay are submitted as MS Word or PDF files to Turnitin (links will be made available on the unit iLearn page). To submit the video presentation portion of the panel debate (discussion panel), students must upload their video to Echo or YouTube, then submit an MS Word document with a link to the video and brief statement of the student's position. More information will be available on the unit iLearn page.

Students who require an extension or modification to their assessment should submit a special consideration application. All reasonable requests shall be granted. Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of '0' (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue. This late penalty will apply to non-time sensitive assessment (incl. essays, reports, posters, portfolios, journals, recordings etc). Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs etc) will only be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special Consideration application. Special Consideration outcome may result in a new question or topic.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Position Paper	30%	No	13/04/2025
Panel Debate	40%	No	Video presentation: 9/5; panels: tutorials, wks 10 to 12.
Self-Reflective Essay	30%	No	08/06/2025

Position Paper

Indicative Time on Task <sup>2</sup>: 38 hours

Due: 13/04/2025

Weighting: 30%

Students will choose a class topic and write a position paper in the form of an essay that develops a particular argument. The essay needs to respond to a clearly identified case study / media representation of a particular topic and build on course reading, analysis of relations of power and individual research. Refer to iLearn for further information.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- analyse, identify, and communicate broad and specific arguments in contemporary media, cultural, political, and ethical debates.
- evaluate various media representations and/or media practices that contribute to cultural, social, and ethical values.
- apply theoretical arguments underpinning contemporary issues and debates to specific ethical decision making in everyday life.
- apply problem solving and enquiry based learning to contemporary social, cultural, and ethical issues and debates.

Panel Debate

Indicative Time on Task <sup>2</sup>: 35 hours

Due: Video presentation: 9/5; panels: tutorials, wks 10 to 12.

Weighting: 40%

Students will participate in a panel debate, which will focus on a topic specified in class. Students will submit a short video presentation articulating a position and then participate in a randomly assigned panel to discuss this in class. The panels will take place during class hours (tutorials) where possible. Refer to iLearn for further information.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- analyse, identify, and communicate broad and specific arguments in contemporary media, cultural, political, and ethical debates.
- evaluate various media representations and/or media practices that contribute to cultural, social, and ethical values.
- apply theoretical arguments underpinning contemporary issues and debates to specific ethical decision making in everyday life.
- apply problem solving and enquiry based learning to contemporary social, cultural, and ethical issues and debates.

- reflect critically on the impact and consequence of one's arguments on others, while respecting the difference of counterarguments.

Self-Reflective Essay

Assessment Type <sup>1</sup>: Reflective Writing

Indicative Time on Task <sup>2</sup>: 25 hours

Due: 08/06/2025

Weighting: 30%

Students will write a scholarly essay on the nuances and complications that arose when arguing for a specific position before an audience of peers. Refer to iLearn for further information.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- analyse, identify, and communicate broad and specific arguments in contemporary media, cultural, political, and ethical debates.
- evaluate various media representations and/or media practices that contribute to cultural, social, and ethical values.
- apply theoretical arguments underpinning contemporary issues and debates to specific ethical decision making in everyday life.
- apply problem solving and enquiry based learning to contemporary social, cultural, and ethical issues and debates.
- reflect critically on the impact and consequence of one's arguments on others, while respecting the difference of counterarguments.
