Unit description

The objective of this unit is to develop practical public relations and social media skills, including: strategy writing, budgeting and professional presentations. The focus will be on employee, volunteer, and member strategies for engaging with key publics outside of the organisation. Students will work in small teams to establish their own PR agency, which will pitch for the business of commercial and not-for-profit organisations.

Visit Employability Connect for important information on this unit.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: participate actively, professionally and ethically in team activities and in client meetings in a way that supports the development of a communications strategy for a client.

ULO2: utilise disciplinary knowledge and theory to identify, research, and analyse a communications problem and opportunity for a client campaign.

ULO3: communicate theoretical and practical strategies for a public relations and/or social media campaign via a range of communication channels (e.g. pitch, report, email).

ULO4: demonstrate high level English language writing, oral and visual skills that provide evidence of a capacity to tailor materials to target audiences.

General Assessment Information

#MQAgency

When you sign up to PACE: MMCC3090 you are agreeing to undertake client-based work in teams for #MQAgency. Each year students work directly for real clients on behalf of #MQAgency to develop awareness, donation, community outreach and other communication campaigns around a social, health or environmental cause.

All assessment tasks relate to the client brief. Clients will normally attend the student pitches and the final comprehensive communications strategy report, including sample mock-ups (e.g. media releases, social media posts, emails, website content, posters, event schedules etc.) are expected to be of a professional standard, and will be delivered to the client to implement a future campaign.

The convenor works with clients to develop suitable briefs before the semester and each client is assigned to one tutorial class. Students in each tutorial will form up to 6 groups and work together to develop their pitch and strategy report for the client.

Late Assessment Submission Penalty

*Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of '0' (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue. This late penalty will apply to written reports and recordings only. Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs will be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special consideration application.

ALL students must submit their full group report to Turnitin for marking. You will be marked individually on your sections which must be clearly marked.

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- Academic Success for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation.

³ An automatic short extension is available for some assessments. Apply through the Service Connect Portal.

Delivery and Resources

Lectures

- Live lectures will run via Zoom from weeks 1-8, with a final lecture in week 11.
- It is vital that students watch the lecture before their tutorial. The lectures will provide step-by-step guidance on each part of your campaign planning and will be tied to your assessment tasks.
- Please make sure to catch up on demand if you are unable to watch it live. If you are unable to watch the lecture before your class please make sure you review the slides in advance and catch up with the recording as soon as possible.
- Recordings will be made available after the lecture.

Tutorials

- Tutorials begin in week 2, and run until week 12.
- You are expected to attend a 1-hour tutorial each week either online or on campus.
- Exercises relating to the same week's lecture will be discussed in the tutorials. Please ensure you engage with the lecture before your tutorial.
- There will be a heavy focus on client-based group work in tutorials. Your tutorials are important for collaborating with your #MQAgency team members on your client project so it is vital to attend so as not to let your group down. See these as essential work meetings.
- In Week 2 (your first tutorial): You will need to sign up for your client group (a sign-up link will be available on ilearn). You will work in the same small group across the semester to serve your client.

- In Week 4: There will be a briefing meeting with the client during your tutorial.
- In Weeks 9, 10 or 11: You will pitch your ideas to your client during your tutorial. The presentation weeks will be run online for online classes and in-person for on-campus classes, except where the client is unable to attend campus. Where the client is unable to attend on-campus presentations, presentations may be run on Zoom. Your convenor and tutor will keep you posted. If there are any technical issues it is possible that the presentation tutorial weeks may run a little over time. Your flexibility regarding the date of your presentation week and format (in person or online) is expected. Please discuss with your tutor well ahead of time if there are any potential issues with timing.
- Week 12: Your last tutorial.
- In week 13: There will be no tutorial. Your final report will be due to Turnitin and your client.

Readings

- Set readings will be available on ilearn under the Unit Readings/Leganto tab.
- It is recommended you download readings well ahead of assessment due dates to ensure access to the readings as some recommended textbooks have a limited user licence.

Expectations

Out-of-class commitment

- MMCC3090 is a 10-credit point unit. This means that you should allocate approximately 10 hours of study per week for this unit (including in non-teaching weeks). Roughly speaking each week this time should be spent on:
 - engaging with the lectures (1 hr)
 - participating in the tutorial (your group time) (1 hr)
 - engaging with the set readings (2 hrs)
 - application of key lessons from lectures, tutorials, and readings to project work/ assessments (4 hrs)
 - writing drafts, preparing mock-ups e.g. sample social media posts, proofreading, editing (1 hr)
 - sharing updates of your individual contributions with your team members and the client where relevant e.g. via email, extra Zoom meetings etc. (1 hr)

Teamwork

- Teamwork is an essential component of this unit. Every student is expected to contribute fully to the project, keep in touch with group members via email and extra meetings, and take responsibility for their parts. Students should use their tutorial times productively to work on their strategy as well as time outside of class.

- Please do not let your group down. If there are issues affecting your ability to contribute to the group (we understand things come up), please let your group and your tutor know asap so that they can make appropriate accommodations.
- All students should bring a positive and professional attitude towards collaboration with peers and clients.
- Students should expect to drive their projects with a high degree of autonomy and should proactively reach out to tutors for extra support as needed.
- While you will ultimately be marked on your own parts of the presentation and report, you will need to work effectively in a team to ensure the various parts are cohesive and fit together well.
- If you are having trouble with your team, please contact the convenor or tutor for extra support.
- While every effort has been made to highlight the expectations of both students and clients, this unit involves working with live clients and in student teams, which can lead to unforeseen issues e.g. client or team-member sudden unavailability. Your convenor and tutor will do their very best to minimise impacts on your assessments, but we encourage all students to approach this unit with a degree of professionalism and flexibility, which are key skills for success in the public relations and social media industry. Your ability to pivot and respond professionally to unexpected circumstances are part of the learning process.

Emails

- Students in the unit are expected to be able to write professional emails to their clients, team members and teaching staff. One student in each team will be the client liaison and responsible for emailing the client as needed. If you have not received a response from your client within one week you may politely follow up.
- Generally, student emails to teaching staff will be replied to within 48 business hours. Students should not expect emails to be returned on weekends and after hours. If you are having trouble contacting your client, please inform your convenor and tutor.
- Students should ensure that they can receive emails sent to their MQ email addresses.
- Please also regularly check ilearn for unit announcements.

Professional Presentation/Design Tools/AI

- While the teaching of graphic design skills is not the focus of this unit, students are expected to present their work with a high degree of professionalism.
- Canva is a useful graphic design tool for this unit.
- As students come to this unit with different skill sets we would most appreciate you being open to sharing your relevant skills and resources with your team members.
- Please check with the convenor and your client before using any GenAI tools for this unit. A key consideration is client confidentiality - you should not put confidential client information into any AI tool.

Feedback in this Unit

Feedback in this unit to individuals, groups, and the class/cohort may be made available in multiple forms, including:

- Announcements on iLearn - please make sure you are checking the announcements.
- Feedback from clients - during the briefing meeting you will be able to ask questions to your client to check you are on the right track; it is important to respond to any feedback from your client, especially on your pitch, and apply these to your report.
- Q&A sessions in lectures and tutorials - please don't hesitate to raise your hand, speak up, or ask questions in the chat function for online and on-campus classes.
- Via email - please don't hesitate to ask any questions via email as they arise. For general assessment questions, please email the convenor and CC in your tutor, noting which class (day and time) you are in.
- Individual or group Zoom or face-to-face consultations with the convenor - to arrange a private consultation please email to make an appointment to meet with the convenor.
- Peer-to-peer feedback during tutorials and group sessions
- Within Turnitin - see textbox, comments on the actual submission, mark-up on assignments, and via the marked-up rubric.
- Samples of past assessments, as well as detailed assessment guidelines and marking rubrics for all assessment tasks, will be made available on iLearn.

Please ensure you engage with all these forms of feedback and hesitate to request feedback as you need it.

Technology Required

This unit will make extensive use of iLearn <https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/>. Required readings, comprehensive information on assessment tasks and important announcements will be posted to iLearn. Make sure you check iLearn and your Macquarie University email account regularly during this unit.
