Unit description This unit covers concepts in investment management including asset pricing, fixed income, industry analysis and derivatives contracts. Students will acquire the analytical tools and financial theory necessary for making sound investment decisions and understanding the methodologies by which financial securities are valued. Students learn the principles of modern portfolio theories and apply them to empirical asset pricing models.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

- ULO1: Apply the fundamentals of investment and asset pricing theory to portfolio management and performance evaluation.
- ULO2: Source and analyse real financial data as applied to an investment problem and communicate the findings clearly and effectively in a professional environment.
- ULO3: Apply macroeconomic and industry analysis, and financial statement analysis to the valuation of equity securities.
- ULO4: Evaluate ethical principles and their application in the investment profession.

General Assessment Information

Late Submission Penalties

If you submit your assessment late, 5% of the total possible marks will be deducted for each day (including weekends), up to 7 days. Submissions more than 7 days late will receive a mark of 0.

Example 1 (out of 100):

If you score 85/100 but submit 20 hours late, you will lose 5 marks and receive 80/100.

Example 2 (out of 30):

If you score 27/30 but submit 20 hours late, you will lose 1.5 marks and receive 25.5/30.

Extensions

Automatic short extension: Some assessments are eligible for automatic short extension. You can only apply for an automatic short extension before the due date.

Special Consideration: If you need more time due to serious issues and for any assessments that are not eligible for Short Extension, you must apply for Special Consideration. Need help? Review the Special Consideration page for further details.

Delivery and Resources

Required Text

Bodie, Z., Kane, A. and Marcus, A.J. (2024), Essentials of Investments, McGraw-Hill

Learning and Teaching Activities

There will be four components each week, i.e., lecture, homework, tutorial, and consultation.

Lecture

Students are strongly encouraged to attend the lecture each week. Please read the lecture slides and related textbook chapters before attending a lecture to get the most benefits from the lecture.

Homework

After each lecture, please review the material before attempting the homework. The homework for each lecture is designed to help you understand the lecture on a basic level. It is a good practice to evaluate your review and to prepare for the tutorial in the following week.

Tutorial

The tutorial questions are more challenging than the homework. It is important that you review the lecture and practice the homework questions before attempting the tutorial questions. Your tutor will discuss the tutorial questions during the tutorial to help you understand the material on a deeper level. Please note that your final exam questions will be at a similar difficulty level as the tutorial questions.

Students will need to register for a tutorial. Tutorials are considered compulsory, but no marks are allocated. Tutorial enrolment or change of tutorial must be requested through the Student Portal in the first two weeks of the session. No tutorial changes are allowed after Week 2.

Students should attend their allocated tutorial, but exceptions may occur on a one-off basis. That is, where circumstances prevent you from attending your scheduled tutorial in a given week, you may attend an alternative tutorial if available.

Consultation

Additional learning support will be available in tutor consultation times. The lecturer and tutors have regular weekly consultation hours each week. The schedule will be posted on iLearn. You are free to attend any of them that fit you best when you require extra help.
