Unit description
This unit focuses on music and movement experiences for children aged from birth to five years. Course materials explore research and theory on the role of music in children's lives, adopting a socio-cultural perspective on young children's development and early childhood curriculum. On-campus classes will provide practical experiences of music and dance from a range of cultures, including that of Australia, giving you the opportunity to explore creative approaches to music and dance for young children.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://students.mq.edu.au/important-dates

Graduate Capabilities
Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens
As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Understanding of the key elements and principles of music and dance
- Increased confidence in participating in a range of games, dances, songs and other movement and music activities suitable for young children
