Unit description
Drawing on both theoretical texts and works of fiction, this unit examines the critical application of key aspects of narrative theories to children’s fiction. Topics include: types of narration, point of view and focalisation in narrative; beginnings and endings; narrative time; characterisation; theory of genres and modes; metafiction and experimental fiction.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://students.mq.edu.au/important-dates

Learning Outcomes

1. Develop an understanding of and an ability to apply concepts employed in narrative theory in order to extend understanding of children’s fiction beyond the conventional elements of plot, character and theme.
2. Gain an understanding of the implications different narrative forms and processes have for readers.

3. Developed skills in applying the analytical resources available from narrative theory: cognitive narratology; the discourse-story-significance triad; point of view and focalization; structure and organization; genre and its implications for analysing literature; represented conversation in fiction.

4. Attain a conceptual language with which to discuss narrative forms.

Discussion Essay

Due: Week 2 - 6

Weighting: 25%

One minor essay based on a seminar topic from Week 2 to Week 6, of about 1500 words, due two weeks after the relevant week. (Students may wish to focus on a particular aspect of the topic, or a particular text).

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Develop an understanding of and an ability to apply concepts employed in narrative theory in order to extend understanding of children’s fiction beyond the conventional elements of plot, character and theme.
- Gain an understanding of the implications different narrative forms and processes have for readers.
- Developed skills in applying the analytical resources available from narrative theory: cognitive narratology; the discourse-story-significance triad; point of view and focalization; structure and organization; genre and its implications for analysing literature; represented conversation in fiction.

Literature Review

Due: 1st May, 2015

Weighting: 25%
Write a critical evaluation of two articles of literary criticism specified for this task, in 1500-2000 words. The review will evaluate the usefulness of these articles as a guide to understanding narrative. Their claims may be tested in relation to a couple of works set for study in this unit.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

• Developed skills in applying the analytical resources available from narrative theory: cognitive narratology; the discourse-story-significance triad; point of view and focalization; structure and organization; genre and its implications for analysing literature; represented conversation in fiction.
• Attain a conceptual language with which to discuss narrative forms.

Major Essay

Due: 12th June, 2015
Weighting: 40%

One major essay of 2500–3000 words which addresses one of the supplied topics. Draw examples from What the Dickens or from three or four of the short stories set for study. (Do not use any stories analysed in your first assignment).

NB: part of the discipline of advanced academic writing is observation of designated word limits. Do not exceed the specified maximum word limit by more than 10%.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

• Develop an understanding of and an ability to apply concepts employed in narrative theory in order to extend understanding of children’s fiction beyond the conventional elements of plot, character and theme.
• Gain an understanding of the implications different narrative forms and processes have for readers.
• Developed skills in applying the analytical resources available from narrative theory: cognitive narratology; the discourse-story-significance triad; point of view and focalization; structure and organization; genre and its implications for analysing literature; represented conversation in fiction.
• Attain a conceptual language with which to discuss narrative forms.

Class participation

Due: N/A
Weighting: 10%

Internal students: attendance at and active participation in seminars.
External students: active participation in the unit’s online discussion forum.
