AT1- Case Studies

Due: Due: Week 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, 8

Weighting: 50%

This is an individual task that involves three components 1) preparation, 2) In class written submission and 3) class participation.

Each week your lecturer will upload a case study on ilearn for your reading. These case studies will be based on your weekly lecture topics provided in the unit schedule section of the unit guide.

Your lecturer will facilitate the case study discussion and provide you with A4 size papers to write your responses to case study questions. A rubric for marking criteria your written submission will be provided on ilearn.

Since this is an in class activity that involves both written and participation component.

No extensions will be granted. There will be a deduction of 10% of the total available marks made from the total awarded mark for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late (for example, 25 hours late in submission – 20% penalty). This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for disruption of studies is made and approved. No submission will be accepted after solutions have been posted.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- To critically evaluate the formulation of marketing strategies and tactics that can be used in an international setting.
• To research and critically evaluate various cultural, social, economic and legal factors that influence the choice of market entry.
• To develop advanced and sophisticated skills in creatively building on existing research in the formulation and writing of a professionally presented (including a solid demonstration of scholarly skills) international marketing assignment.

AT2- Seminar

Due: Week 9, 10,11
Weighting: 20%

This task involves group research work and a sequence of tasks. You will be required to identify a current hot topic in international marketing/international business following lecture week topics 7, 8, 9 and 10. (Channels of distribution and foreign market entry; Product management and adaptation in international markets; The role of services in international marketing; and Pricing in international marketing). Then, present and facilitate a class discussion on the topic. At the end of the discussion provide two questions for students to write and submit their one-page analysis on the topic. Please note that students only choose one seminar topic/ one set of questions to address, if there are more than one seminar topics in one lecture.

You need to work closely with your group and lecturer for this presentation. Each group will discuss the potential presentation topic with the lecturer prior to the seminar. You will be assessed based on the novelty of the topic, quality of your topic and your ability to engage the audience and facilitate a class discussion (see detailed marking criteria for AT2 on iLearn).

The actual ONE HOUR per group presentations/seminars take place in week 9, 10 and week 11. A simple presentation on the topic will receive a zero mark. Facilitating a class discussion is a must for this task. The group presentations will be scheduled in week 2 and or week 3.

Since this activity requires your physical presence, all group members should be present for the task. Marking, however, will be individually accessed.

No extensions will be granted. There will be a deduction of 10% of the total available marks made from the total awarded mark for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late (for example, 25 hours late in submission – 20% penalty). This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for disruption of studies is made and approved. No submission will be accepted after solutions have been posted.

On successful completion you will be able to:

• To critically evaluate the formulation of marketing strategies and tactics that can be used in an international setting.
• To research and critically evaluate various cultural, social, economic and legal factors that influence the choice of market entry.
• To critically analyse a number of academic journal articles and to develop in-depth appropriate strategies and tactics for each of the marketing mix elements, based on solid research.

• To develop advanced and sophisticated skills in creatively building on existing research in the formulation and writing of a professionally presented (including a solid demonstration of scholarly skills) international marketing assignment.

AT3- Creative Production

Due: Week 12 and 13
Weighting: 30%

This task gives you the opportunity to work with a group and come up with a creative product/outcome that can be marketed internationally. A creative product could be anything like a film, advertisement, website, physical product, service, market research that can make an international impact. Use your explicit and tacit knowledge to facilitate creatively. Think big, surprise us. Focus on continents instead of countries like Asia (South East Asia), Europe, Latin America. Don’t restrict yourself to lecture topics only - think beyond.

All you have to do is maintain a weekly reflective journal on your group meetings, discussions/agenda, outcomes that lead you to your creative production. Then write a 2000 word (approximately 10 pages excluding references) report and present your creative product in class (30 mins presentation). In the report and presentation tell us about your creative product, its marketability and how you come up with this idea/your research to support the idea.

Reports should be submitted to Turnitin by one group member only on Friday 3rd June in Week 12 by 5pm. A hard copy is submitted to the lecturer in Week 12 lecture.

No extensions will be granted. There will be a deduction of 10% of the total available marks made from the total awarded mark for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late (for example, 25 hours late in submission – 20% penalty). This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for disruption of studies is made and approved. No submission will be accepted after solutions have been posted.

Presentation groups should be allocated in week 2 and week 3. The actual 30 mins per group presentations take place in week 12 and week 13.

Your creative production will be assessed based on the marking criteria posted on iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

• To critically evaluate the formulation of marketing strategies and tactics that can be used in an international setting.

• To research and critically evaluate various cultural, social, economic and legal factors that influence the choice of market entry.

• To critically analyse a number of academic journal articles and to develop in-depth appropriate strategies and tactics for each of the marketing mix elements, based on solid research.
• To develop advanced and sophisticated skills in creatively building on existing research in the formulation and writing of a professionally presented (including a solid demonstration of scholarly skills) international marketing assignment.

Delivery and Resources

CLASSES
This unit consist of lectures and tutorial activities. It is essential to prepare in a persistent manner.

The lecturer-to-students 'traditional style' lectures are video recorded. It is students' responsibility to conduct self study prior to the lectures. Our lectures for this unit will be run as a seminar and will cover important topics for the unit. The tutorial activities will consist of case study discussion, presentation/ seminars and creative work (please refer to unit schedule for more details).

The timetable for classes can be found on the University web site at: http://www.timetables.mq.edu.au/ Students are required to form groups in Week 2 of semester. It is therefore important that, once you are enrolled in a group, you should remain in that group as changing would be disruptive to your fellow students, both those in the group you have left and those in the group you aim to join anytime after Week 2.

ABSENCE IN LECTURES AND TUTORIALS
Attendance will be taken in the lectures and tutorials. You must attend all tutorials and lectures. Medical certificates must be provided if you are to able to attend a class without incurring a penalty.

If you have a recurring problem that makes you late, or forces you to leave early, have the courtesy to discuss this with your lecturer/tutor, this will not be allowed as it interrupts the class.

Mobile phone must be turned OFF and not simply set to SILENT during class. To satisfactorily complete this unit students must participate in class discussions and complete all there assessment tasks.

TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED
Students are required to learn how to use power point, word processing, iLearn, and media players to play lecture videos. No recording devices are to be used by students to record lecture notes without the permission of the lecturer.

Unit web page The web page for this unit can be found at: iLearn http://iilanlearn.mq.edu.au

Research and Practice; Global and Sustainability

This unit draws on extensive research from real world case studies. Students will be provided extensive case studies every week prior to the lectures. This will allow them to relate these cases to their own practical experiences and considerably expand their knowledge of International Marketing through adequate pre-class preparation.

Conducting research independently is strongly encouraged.

Issues of sustainability are integrated in the units through case studies, readings, class discussion, and presentations.

International marketing is creating students' awareness of marketing in the global context. The diversified aspects that one should consider while marketing globally.
