Unit description
Acquiring advanced research knowledge and developing research skills is integral to and a core element in master of research program. In this unit students will be exposed to main research methodologies including quantitative, qualitative, and mixed-methods; they will also be involved with research activities through learning and assessment tasks. By completing this unit, it is anticipated that students master critical concepts in research and be able to apply different research methods by preparing research proposals on topics of their interest.

Assignment 1

Due: 25/03/2016
Weighting: 25%

This assignment is an expository essay in which you describe and explain your area of interest, its significance and why you have chosen the area. You may discuss the significance of the chosen area theoretically and practically by citing related literature, and support your selection of the topic by showing how it is important to you personally, professionally and contextually (where you work or what you’ll be doing). Detailed instructions will be provided in Week 1.
All assignments for APPL902 should follow American Psychological Association (APA) writing style manual (use LibGuide from MU library page for information on APA style).

http://libguides.mq.edu.au/content.php?pid=78683&sid=1438141

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

• 1. Identify areas of interest and express appropriate research questions

Assignment 2

Due: 24/04/2016
Weighting: 30%

An annotated bibliography (AB) is a list of sources and annotations (summary and evaluation) on a selected topic arranged in alphabetical order. Each annotation will have three parts. The first part is the bibliographic information of the source, which should strictly follow APA style. The second part of each annotation includes a concise summary of the content and methodology of the study. The third part of the annotation is a critical evaluation of the study and its relevance to the theme of the AB (your chosen topic or area of interest). Further detailed instructions will be provided early in the semester.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

• 1. Identify areas of interest and express appropriate research questions

Assignment 3

Due: 10/06/2016
Weighting: 40%

Assignment 3 is a proposal for a research project and is based on Assignments 1 and 2 with some additional sections. Use assignments 1 and 2 and the comments and feedback you received to prepare your proposal. Further detailed instructions will be provided early in the semester.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

• 2. Demonstrate a coherent knowledge of the principles and concepts of research
• 3. Explain various processes and procedures that are integral to language-related research
• 4. Conduct advanced searching of different databases and critically evaluate the relevance of the sources
• 5. Synthesise relevant literature in selected area and communicate the outcomes
• 6. Apply ethical issues in research
• 7. Demonstrate the ability to collect and analyse data
• 8. Apply advanced skills in research proposal writing

Active participation
Due: Semester wide
Weighting: 5%

Both internal (on-campus) and external (distance) students should take part in learning and teaching activities throughout the semester.

For internal students, this will include attending lectures, presentations, and participation in class discussion. If you are an internal student, participation in online discussions is optional (although you are most welcome do so).

For external students, active participation will include the 'topic' presentation in Week 3, and at least three other initial postings in response to the discussion topics posted throughout the semester. This excludes your responses to other students’ postings and the initial introduction of yourself and your topics.

For all students (internal and external), I'd encourage you to use the “Glossary” tool to provide brief definitions and/or descriptions of key research concepts and terms. This will help you to consolidate your understanding of key terms and will give others a chance to read and understand those concepts. There is also a Wiki where you can post more lengthy definitions as well as useful sources that you come across. Glossary and Wiki contributions are not included in the active participation grade, but will enhance your learning.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:
• 3. Explain various processes and procedures that are integral to language-related research

Delivery and Resources
Teaching and Learning Strategies

The learning and teaching strategies used in this Unit are individual study, in-class face to face lectures and in-class and online discussions through the discussion forum. Online discussion provides students (especially distance/external students) the opportunity to interact and exchange ideas with other classmates to consolidate their understanding of theoretical concepts. Both internal and external students are encouraged to take part in online discussion of different topics.

Should you have any personal issues (e.g. requests for extensions, etc.), these should be addressed directly to the unit convenor (peter.roger@mq.edu.au)

Resources

We use the following texts in this unit. The first one is “required” (you must have a copy), and the other ones are “optional” (you may or may not have a copy) for further reading.

Many of the other resources that you need for this unit will be available electronically through the Macquarie University Library, and our session in Week 2 will cover this in detail.
