Unit description
This unit examines current approaches to language teaching theory and practice, and their application to syllabus requirements in New South Wales primary and secondary schools. Topics to be covered include planning for effective teaching; developing communication skills; integrating language and culture; appraisal of teaching materials; negotiating the curriculum; and classroom management.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://students.mq.edu.au/important-dates

Learning Outcomes
1. Understand the concepts and features of the New South Wales K-10 Languages syllabuses and the proposed Australian Curriculum Languages
2. demonstrate an understanding of the appropriate pedagogy, through effective lesson plans. This involves: (a) incorporating a range of media/ICT technology (b) design appropriate assessment tasks and report on student achievement

3. create a variety of differentiated learning resources and activities and adapt existing resources effectively to suit different learners’ needs: consideration of students’ prior knowledge, needs and interests and ability and learning style

4. devise sequence of lessons and larger units of work grounded in syllabus outcomes and using a variety of effective teaching/learning and assessment strategies

5. integrate the modelling of personal intercultural reflection, in using questioning techniques to elicit intercultural learning, which is fundamental approach to NSW syllabuses and proposed Australian Language curriculum

Graduate Capabilities

Effective Communication
We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

• integrate the modelling of personal intercultural reflection, in using questioning techniques to elicit intercultural learning, which is fundamental approach to NSW syllabuses and proposed Australian Language curriculum

Assessment tasks

• Intercultural reflection
• unit of work

Commitment to Continuous Learning
Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- integrate the modelling of personal intercultural reflection, in using questioning techniques to elicit intercultural learning, which is fundamental approach to NSW syllabuses and proposed Australian Language curriculum

Assessment task

- Intercultural reflection

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:
