Unit description
This unit will introduce students to the entrepreneurial process of identifying opportunities and the development of a new business venture. Students will learn about the management, organisation, financial, marketing and legal challenges required to successfully operate an entrepreneurial venture via building their independent business or undertaking a new initiative within an existing firm. This unit will be taught through the experiential teaching method where students learn by doing. Students will sketch out a proposal for an entrepreneurial project and prepare a business plan for launching their own small business. The unit will enable students to explore entrepreneurship as a career choice and will contribute to their ability to be creative and innovative.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://students.mq.edu.au/important-dates

Individual Essay

Due: Wk 4, 24 March by 9am

Weighting: 20%

The individual essay is a critical reflection of the definition of entrepreneurship, the origin of entrepreneurial ideas and opportunities and the entrepreneurial mindset that is often, a characteristic of an entrepreneurs. The essay is based on secondary research and may include primary research.

Your task is to track the start-up and early development of two entrepreneurs of your choice. You can choose to source both the entrepreneurs from secondary sources OR choose one from secondary source and the other one from primary source. The primary source means that you need to interview an entrepreneur. Making use of your primary and secondary sources, describe the types of entrepreneurs they are and critically discuss the entrepreneurial characteristics of both your entrepreneurs. Compare and contrast both the entrepreneurs if it helps to enrich your arguments. Draw on theories to consider the characteristics of your entrepreneurs and the emergence of their business idea.

All students must submit their essays through Turnitin using the link on ilearn. No extensions will be granted. Late essays will incur a 10% penalty per 24-hour period that they are late. Saturday and Sunday each count as one day. Penalty does not apply in cases in which an application for disruption is made and approved. Late penalty applies to the revised deadline if an application for Disruption to Studies is made and approved.

See the essay instructions on ilearn for additional details and the marking criteria.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Demonstrate knowledge of key entrepreneurship concepts and principles, including knowledge of different types of entrepreneurs
- Actively seek new ideas, evaluate entrepreneurial opportunities and critically analyse entrepreneurship business issues.
- Display competence in the technical skills required to apply the key concepts and principles of entrepreneurship.

- Demonstrate communication skills to integrate key management, marketing and operations models to create a coherent and feasible new venture business plan.

Active Participation
Due: Ongoing in class and online
Weighting: 10%

Students are expected to contribute to discussions in class (lectures and tutorials) and in-class group work. In addition there are opportunities to participate in the various discussion forums on iLearn. Students are expected to share and exchange ideas in constructive ways. Students’ entrepreneurial skills will be developed by active engagement and exchange of ideas on the planning, development and evolution of multiple business concepts. Tutors will evaluate and award participation marks based on the quality and quantity of contributions to the work of peers. While attendance is a prerequisite for participation, presence does not constitute participation. Students who do not verbally contribute to the discussion will receive 0 out of 10 marks.

Participation assessment guideline is available on iLearn. Please refer to it for more details.

Business Concept Development
Due: From Week 6, ongoing
Weighting: 30%

Working in groups, students identify a business opportunity, assess the business idea, and develop the plan for building a business venture. Groups present their business proposal in three sections. Every member of the group takes a leadership role for at least one section. At the time of each presentation, group members submit peer evaluations of all fellow group members. In situations of unsatisfactory contributions by a group member, individual grades for group work will be moderated based on peer evaluation and tutor/lecturer judgment. The lecturer has the final say in all group mark adjustments. Groups present sections of their business concept in tutorials. On the first two presentations, the group submits a 1-page summary of their presentations to the tutor. The third presentation is a 5-minute pitch presentation from each group. Before the tutorial the group submits their written business concept through Turnitin.

Graduate Capabilities

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate knowledge of key entrepreneurship concepts and principles, including knowledge of different types of entrepreneurs
- Actively seek new ideas, evaluate entrepreneurial opportunities and critically analyse entrepreneurship business issues.
- Develop, review and revise strategies for creating new ventures and develop solutions to entrepreneurship problems.
- Demonstrate communication skills to integrate key management, marketing and operations models to create a coherent and feasible new venture business plan.

Assessment tasks

- Individual Essay
- Business Concept Development
- Exam

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate knowledge of key entrepreneurship concepts and principles, including knowledge of different types of entrepreneurs
- Actively seek new ideas, evaluate entrepreneurial opportunities and critically analyse entrepreneurship business issues.
- Develop, review and revise strategies for creating new ventures and develop solutions to entrepreneurship problems.
- Display competence in the technical skills required to apply the key concepts and principles of entrepreneurship.
- Demonstrate communication skills to integrate key management, marketing and operations models to create a coherent and feasible new venture business plan.

Assessment tasks

- Individual Essay
- Active Participation
- Business Concept Development
- Exam

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate knowledge of key entrepreneurship concepts and principles, including knowledge of different types of entrepreneurs
- Actively seek new ideas, evaluate entrepreneurial opportunities and critically analyse entrepreneurship business issues.
- Develop, review and revise strategies for creating new ventures and develop solutions to entrepreneurship problems.
• Display competence in the technical skills required to apply the key concepts and principles of entrepreneurship.
• Demonstrate communication skills to integrate key management, marketing and operations models to create a coherent and feasible new venture business plan.

Assessment tasks

• Individual Essay
• Active Participation
• Business Concept Development
• Exam

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

• Demonstrate knowledge of key entrepreneurship concepts and principles, including knowledge of different types of entrepreneurs
• Develop, review and revise strategies for creating new ventures and develop solutions to entrepreneurship problems.
• Display competence in the technical skills required to apply the key concepts and principles of entrepreneurship.

• Active Participation
• Business Concept Development

Changes from Previous Offering

Some changes in assessments' criteria and grading. Participation opportunities and awarding of marks for active contributions are now available in class (lectures and tutorials) as well as online on various discussion boards and forums on iLearn.
Global and Sustainability
This Unit draws on global practices of sustainability in addressing entrepreneurial projects. Students have the opportunity to engage in sustainable issues that affect community and society at large.

Research and Practice
This Unit builds on entrepreneurial principles of understanding the external and internal environment which provide the platform to seek opportunities and to launch new ventures. This perspective requires students to source secondary and/or primary data from Macquarie University library and other external sources and to apply the research findings to their assessments. Students are reminded to consider ethical implications of conducting research.
