Unit description
This unit deals with writing for screen media including film, television and mobile devices. It explores techniques for generating and developing ideas for drama, documentary, video essays and hybrid forms. Over the course of the unit, students will be guided through the process of writing and editing their own scripts. There will be opportunities to work both individually and collaboratively. Together, students will explore the purpose and role of screen storytelling around the globe. The unit is best suited to those interested in screenwriting, screen production, script editing and creative process.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://students.mq.edu.au/important-dates

Learning Outcomes

1. Demonstrate an understanding of the practices and aesthetics of developing screenplays from generating ideas to production-ready.
2. Synthesise and build visual storytelling skills through the development of a Screen Idea Dossier.
3. Critically analyse selected screenplays
4. Develop further skills in creative media projects by taking an idea through several key stages and working with text and images.

5. Engage in the process of learning

General Assessment Information

Unit Requirements and Expectations

Students attend and participate in a three-hour seminar each week from Weeks 1-6 and 7-8 of Semester 1. Classes begin in Week 1. You are required to attend all seminars. As participation in the process of learning is linked to and underpins the unit Learning Outcomes, you will need to either apply for Disruptions to Studies to cover any missed seminars (if the disruption is greater than three days) or supply appropriate documentation to your unit convenor for any missed tutorial (if less than three consecutive days).

Students are expected to read and view materials posted by the Lecturer at the iLearn page for this course.

Assessment tasks are aligned to the unit Learning Outcomes. Timely submission of assessment tasks is a unit requirement or penalties apply. 10% per day (including weekends) will be deducted for all late submissions unless Disruption to Studies (including a request for an extension) is approved.

There is no examination for this unit.

Submitting Assignments

Assignments should be submitted via the link at the Course's iLearn page.

They will be returned to students in class.

Screen Idea Dossier

Due: 24th March 2016
Weighting: 30%

This dossier is a record of work-in-progress for your proposed script for a short film, web episode, documentary, hybrid work (10-12 minutes, a maximum of 3 locations). The dossier should contain:

Research materials : A brief 2 page account of the research you have undertaken. It could include reading, viewing, listening. Include 4-6 images of a proposed key location/setting and an account of its role in your story/idea.

Script materials: a 150 word outline for your video idea and a 2 page treatment. Visual scripts offer an alternative for students who have advanced skills in drawing, graphics etc. Examples will be discussed in seminars.

Assessment criteria

- the suitability of idea as the basis for an engaging and innovative short film, web episode, documentary
- evidence of research undertaken in more than one mode (eg. listening, viewing, reading)
- demonstrated understanding of modes of writing used for an outline and treatment
- clarity of written expression and presentation

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Demonstrate an understanding of the practices and aesthetics of developing screenplays from generating ideas to production-ready.
- Synthesise and build visual storytelling skills through the development of a Screen Idea Dossier.
- Develop further skills in creative media projects by taking an idea through several key stages and working with text and images.
- Engage in the process of learning

Video Essay or Audio Podcast

Due: 26th April 2016

Weighting: 30%

1. A short video or podcast response (8-10 minutes) to a produced screenplay that particularly resonates for you. Alternatively, you may discuss an aspect of screenwriting that especially interests you. Ensure that you have researched your topic, read the screenplay and viewed the film carefully before scripting your own response. Ensure that you discuss at least one scene in more depth. You may choose to speak to camera or use voiceover. You may choose to shoot/record this on your smartphone – or to use MQ cameras and editing facilities available. The assignment will be discussed in seminars and production advice/support is available. You will be asked to present and discuss your work on Thursday 28th April.

Assessment Criteria

- evidence of in-depth research
This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:
- Demonstrate an understanding of the practices and aesthetics of developing screenplays from generating ideas to production-ready.
- Critically analyse selected screenplays
- Develop further skills in creative media projects by taking an idea through several key stages and working with text and images.
- Engage in the process of learning

Script and Scene Sketches

Due: 12th May 2016
Weighting: 30%

First Draft Script

Students will prepare a First Draft Script developed from the materials in your Screen Idea Dossier. A Visual Script may offer an alternative – depending on your subject and preferred method of working. (If so, please discuss your plans in advance with the Convenor). Consider how you might draw on the insights on screenwriting practices developed in your Podcast/Video in your own screenplay. It should be noted that a First Draft Screenplay is not your first attempt at ‘writing up’ an idea but shows evidence of substantial consideration and revisions.

Examples of screenplays will be discussed throughout the course and a guide to layout provided on the course’s iLearn page.

Assessment criteria

- the degree to which the screen idea has developed from Assignment 1
- the suitability of the script as the basis of an engaging and innovative short video, we episode, documentary
- clarity of expression and use of imagery, dialogue, narration suited to screen media
- suitability of work to be realised via images and sound

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:
- Demonstrate an understanding of the practices and aesthetics of developing screenplays from generating ideas to production-ready.
- Synthesise and build visual storytelling skills through the development of a Screen Idea Dossier.
• Develop further skills in creative media projects by taking an idea through several key stages and working with text and images.
• Engage in the process of learning

Participation
Due: Throughout Semester
Weighting: 10%

Engage in the process of learning by actively participating in all seminars via preparation and contribution to discussion.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:
• Demonstrate an understanding of the practices and aesthetics of developing screenplays from generating ideas to production-ready.
• Critically analyse selected screenplays
• Engage in the process of learning

Delivery and Resources
E-Readings
MAS 202 e-readings for this course will be available via the Library. The e-readings contain information necessary to completing assignments for this course.

Please read the Week 1 readings before our first seminar. A full list of ratings will be available via iLearn in Week 1.

Links and Videos
Key links and videos relevant to seminar tasks and assignments will be available through the MAS 202 iLearn page each week.

Technologies/resources required.
Students will be required to use their own computers for development of treatments, storyboards and scripts. It is recommended that MAS 202 students become familiar with Celtx (free script software). Microsoft Word can also be used for scriptwriting.
