Active Participation

Due: Weeks 1-13
Weighting: 20%

Students are expected to attend all lectures and tutorials. Attendance at tutorials is compulsory and any missed tutorial must be accompanied by appropriate documentation. Marks are awarded through a point-system, where students can achieve two points per week (one for attendance, one for active participation).

As tutorial attendance is required for the active participation component of unit assessment, please apply for Disruption to Studies if you are unable to attend a tutorial.

Assessment criteria:

Attendance: Regular attendance at tutorials.

Active participation: Evidence of engagement with the unit readings, active participation in class activities, thoughtful contribution to class discussions.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Understand the main debates relevant to a specific sub-region of film studies
- Develop an expanded historical knowledge of genre film and theory
- Develop skills in film-critical research and film-textual analysis

In-class Presentation

Due: Weeks 2-13
Weighting: 20%

Students will prepare a 10-minute individual presentation where they link an assigned reading to the week’s screening. Each student is assigned a specific week, film and a reading for the presentation. The presentation is not a summary of the arguments made in the readings, but a reflection on how those ideas apply to the film of the week.
The aim of the presentation is to:

1. Analyse the screened film from a theoretical point of view.
2. Explicate the connections between the assigned film and reading.
3. Identify and use appropriate academic arguments in relation to screen media.

The presentation consists of:

1. 10 minutes of time. Pay extra attention to the timing of your presentation. You will be cut off after 10 minutes.
2. A visual aid - such as powerpoint - with which you present your findings to the class.
3. A structure. Do not try and say everything there is to say about your chosen case. Choose key ideas and structure your presentation around them. Remember to introduce the media example properly and provide concluding remarks.

Assessment criteria:

Reading and argument. Students will be assessed based on their ability to evaluate, synthesize and explicate the key ideas of the assigned reading.

Film analysis. Students will be assessed based on their ability to analyse the details and scope of the assigned film. Assessment will also focus on the application of the key ideas of the assigned reading to the film.

Clarity of the presentation. The presentation will be assessed based on the clarity of its delivery. This includes the structure of the presentation, legibility of powerpoint slides and other (audio-)visual support as well as keeping to the timeframe. Students must submit their powerpoint slides to their tutor in class or via email on the day of presentation.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Understand the main debates relevant to a specific sub-region of film studies
- Develop an expanded historical knowledge of genre film and theory
- Develop skills in film-critical research and film-textual analysis

Short Essay 1

Due: 15 Sep 2017 (11:59 PM)
Weighting: 30%

Students will write an academic essay of 1,000 words (not including footnotes or bibliography) that covers unit materials from week 1-7. Students will write about a film that they have seen in class and analyse the representation of travel with regards to a specific theme or concept.
introduced in the unit. In the essay, social, political, and/or historical contexts must be discussed in relation to the formal elements of the film. Bibliography must include at least four academic references, and two of them must be from the unit readings.

The short essay is to be submitted electronically via Turnitin on ilearn.

Assessment criteria:

Reading and research: Evidence of critical engagement with key concepts, themes, and social, political, and historical contexts introduced in the unit. Ability to identify key concepts in the readings and apply those concepts to the chosen film. Evidence of independent research outside the unit readings.

Argument and analysis: Ability to formulate a clear and specific thesis about how travel is portrayed in the chosen film. Ability to interpret ideas and support it with examples from the film. Ability to relate formal elements of the film and the larger contexts.

Writing and structure: Logical and coherent structure; clarity of expression; appropriate referencing; length.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Understand the main debates relevant to a specific sub-region of film studies
- Develop an expanded historical knowledge of genre film and theory
- Develop skills in film-critical research and film-textual analysis
- Evaluate and appreciate different stylistic modes of writing about films
- Produce and communicate work in a manner consistent with accepted academic standards

Short Essay 2

Due: 15 Nov 2017 (11:59 PM)
Weighting: 30%

For the second short essay, students will engage with unit materials from weeks 8-13. Students will choose two scenes from two different films and compare the ways in which fact and fiction intertwine in the chosen scenes. Students are expected to analyse the chosen scenes closely, relate their analysis to the academic arguments discussed in weeks 8-13, as well as reflect on the importance of the scenes on the films’ overall meaning. Students must refer to 4 unit readings. The essay length is 1000 words excluding the bibliography. The films screened in weeks 8-13 are accessible online through Macquarie University’s library (Kanopy or EduTV).

The short essay is to be submitted electronically via Turnitin on ilearn.

Assessment criteria:

Reading and research: Evidence of critical engagement with set course materials (unit readings and unit topics). Evidence of independent research on the films the chosen scenes are from.
Ability to relate the chosen scenes to larger tendencies in film and to contextualise the films themselves to specific cultural contexts.

Argument and analysis: Evidence of critical thinking in relation to fact and fiction in the documentary. Detailed analysis of the audiovisual strategies used in the chosen examples. Evidence of relational thinking through making connections between key ideas from the course and the analysed scenes, and supporting this position.

Writing and structure: Logical and coherent structure; clarity of expression; appropriate referencing; length.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Understand the main debates relevant to a specific sub-region of film studies
- Develop an expanded historical knowledge of genre film and theory
- Develop skills in film-critical research and film-textual analysis
- Evaluate and appreciate different stylistic modes of writing about films
- Produce and communicate work in a manner consistent with accepted academic standards

Delivery and Resources

Classes

Lectures: Tuesdays, 4:30-5:30, E7B T2 Theatre

Screenings: Tuesdays, 2-4:30pm, E7B T2 Theatre

Tutorials: Please check with MQ Timetables for the time and location of your tutorial.

ATTENDANCE

Students are required to attend each screening and tutorials.

TECHNOLOGIES USED AND REQUIRED

Unit lectures will be delivered as videos online and will be accessible via iLearn. Details on readings, assessments and screenings will be available on iLearn. Students are expected to regularly check iLearn and their MQ email addresses for announcements.

SUBMISSIONS

All written work must be submitted to Turnitin, via the link on iLearn. Please make sure your full name and student number appears on the first page of your document. All written work should be double spaced and justified to the left of the page.
LATE SUBMISSION

Students who submit late work without an extension will receive a penalty of 10% per day. This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for Disruption to Studies is made and approved.

Student Support

Macquarie University provides a range of support services for students. For details, visit http://stu
Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Understand the main debates relevant to a specific sub-region of film studies
- Develop an expanded historical knowledge of genre film and theory
- Develop skills in film-critical research and film-textual analysis
- Evaluate and appreciate different stylistic modes of writing about films

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

• Understand the main debates relevant to a specific sub-region of film studies
• Develop an expanded historical knowledge of genre film and theory
• Develop skills in film-critical research and film-textual analysis
• Evaluate and appreciate different stylistic modes of writing about films
• Produce and communicate work in a manner consistent with accepted academic standards

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

• Understand the main debates relevant to a specific sub-region of film studies
• Develop an expanded historical knowledge of genre film and theory
• Develop skills in film-critical research and film-textual analysis
• Evaluate and appreciate different stylistic modes of writing about films

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

Changes from Previous Offering

The unit has been developed to reflect a new direction. It examines ‘travel’ and ‘documenting a life’ as two intertwined ideas on screen throughout the history of cinema. New course readings have been developed, and assessment tasks have been modified to ensure that students fully grasp these two major ideas.
