Unit description

This unit provides a capstone experience through the critical survey of key texts in the multidisciplinary field of security studies. The unit is not lecture-based, but is conducted as a reading-intensive seminar. Students will read a selection of classic texts and, through a series of review essays, glean, apply, critique, and compare insights from those texts as they relate both to the academic discipline of security studies and to real-world security questions. The readings will develop the intellectual history of the field, allowing for an examination of shifting conceptual frameworks and research traditions, and for a comparison of alternative methodological approaches. And they will highlight important substantive questions that matter for security policy and practice. In particular, students will be encouraged to undertake a critical examination of the assumptions that underlie important debates and issues in the field today. Students are required to read three or four full texts over the course of the unit.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Demonstrate specialized knowledge and cognitive skills in their chosen field of study by mastering important concepts, ideas and debates in the field of Security Studies, and aligning them with key scholars and dominant paradigms.

Demonstrate high levels of independent and advanced reading and research skills.

Produce sophisticated academic written research of both a theoretical and empirical nature, towards making an original contribution to the students' chosen field of study.

Demonstrate the ability to analyze critically, reflect on, and synthesize complex information relating to their field of study, and apply it to practical problems in a contemporary setting.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Essay 1	25%	No	Variable (Weeks 2 - 6)
Essay 2	25%	No	Variable (Weeks 7 - 9)
Essay 3	25%	No	Variable (Weeks 10 - 13)
Active Engagement	25%	No	Weekly

Essay 1

Due: Variable (Weeks 2 - 6)

Weighting: 25%

A key aim of this unit is to critically engage with a number of classic texts in the field of Security Studies. Analytical essays that address core questions arising from these texts are a very good method for achieving this aim. Students will write three such essays over the course of the unit--one for each text studied. In responding to a set question, students should exhibit a mastery of the book under review, showcase their ability to analytically and systematically think through a problem, and develop a reasoned argument about the nature of strategic thinking. As with any piece of writing, a clear, persuasive thesis and thematic coherence are of utmost importance. Essays should reflect that the student has completed the readings, but they should not be mere summaries of the readings.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate specialized knowledge and cognitive skills in their chosen field of study by mastering important concepts, ideas and debates in the field of Security Studies, and aligning them with key scholars and dominant paradigms.
- Demonstrate high levels of independent and advanced reading and research skills.
- Produce sophisticated academic written research of both a theoretical and empirical nature, towards making an original contribution to the students' chosen field of study.
- Demonstrate the ability to analyze critically, reflect on, and synthesize complex information relating to their field of study, and apply it to practical problems in a contemporary setting.

Essay 2

Due: Variable (Weeks 7 - 9)

Weighting: 25%

See Essay 1 for a description of this assessment task.

On successful completion you will be able to:

Active Engagement

Due: Weekly

Weighting: 25%

The unit is discussion-based rather than lecture-based and as such its success relies on the full participation of all students. Active engagement by students will increase the unit's value as an exercise (both individual and collective) in critical thinking, analysis, and communication. Internal students are expected to read the assigned materials in advance of each class, attend each class, and actively contribute to the discussion in each class. External (including OUA) students will participate via iLearn discussion forums. All students will take turns leading the classroom or online discussions. Grades are dependent on criteria such as (but not limited to) the quality of the engagement with the text and any other supplementary reading materials, new lines of inquiry posed, and engagement with peers and the convenor.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate specialized knowledge and cognitive skills in their chosen field of study by mastering important concepts, ideas and debates in the field of Security Studies, and aligning them with key scholars and dominant paradigms.
- Demonstrate high levels of independent and advanced reading and research skills.
- Demonstrate the ability to analyze critically, reflect on, and synthesize complex information relating to their field of study, and apply it to practical problems in a contemporary setting.

Delivery and Resources

UNIT REQUIREMENTS AND EXPECTATIONS

- You should spend an average of 12 hours per week on this unit. This includes reading weekly required materials, actively participating in the unit either in class (internal students) or via the iLearn discussion forum (external, including OUA, students), and preparing assessments.
- Internal students are expected to attend all seminar or tutorial sessions, and external students are expected to make significant contributions to on-line activities.
- In most cases students are required to attempt and submit all major assessment tasks in order to pass the unit.

REQUIRED READINGS

- Students should obtain a copy of each of the three books to be read in this unit. There are various editions of the three books in (and out of) print; students can obtain any edition. Physical copies of the books are available at Macquarie University Co-op bookstore.

- Thucydides, History of the Peloponnesian War
- E. H. Carr, The Twenty Years' Crisis, 1919-1939
- George F. Kennan, American Diplomacy
- The citations for all other required readings for this unit are available to enrolled students through the unit iLearn site, and at Macquarie University's library site. Electronic copies of required readings may be accessed through the library or will be made available by other means.

TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED

- Computer and internet access are essential for this unit. Basic computer skills and skills in word processing are also a requirement.
- This unit has an online presence. Login is via: <https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/>.
- Students are required to have regular access to a computer and the internet. Mobile devices alone are not sufficient.
- Information about IT used at Macquarie University is available at http://students.mq.edu.au/it_services/.

SUBMITTING ASSESSMENT TASKS

- All text-based assessment tasks are to be submitted, marked and returned electronically. This will only happen through the unit iLearn site.
- Assessment tasks must be submitted as a MS word document by the due date.
- Most assessment tasks will be subject to a 'Turnitin' review as an automatic part of the submission process.
- The granting of extensions is subject to the university's Disruptions Policy. Extensions will not in normal circumstances be granted by unit conveners or tutors, but must be lodged through Disruption to Study: http://www.students.mq.edu.au/student_admin/manage_your_study_program/disruption_to_studies/.

LATE SUBMISSION OF ASSESSMENT TASKS

- If an assignment is submitted late, 5% of the available mark will be deducted for each day (including weekends) the paper is late.

- For example, if a paper is worth 20 marks, 1 mark will be deducted from the grade given for each day that it is late (i.e. a student given 15/20 who submitted 4 days late will lose 4 marks = 11/20).
- The same principle applies if an extension is granted and the assignment is submitted later than the amended date.

WORD LIMITS FOR ASSESSMENT TASKS

- Stated word limits include footnotes and footnoted references, but not bibliography, or title page.
- Word limits can generally deviate by 10% either over or under the stated figure.
- If the number of words exceeds the limit by more than 10%, then penalties will apply. These penalties are 5% of the awarded mark for every 100 words over the word limit. If a paper is 300 words over, for instance, it will lose $3 \times 5\% = 15\%$ of the total mark awarded for the assignment. This percentage is taken off the total mark, i.e. if a paper was graded at a credit (65%) and was 300 words over, it would be reduced by 15 marks to a pass (50%).
- The application of this penalty is at the discretion of the course convener.

REASSESSMENT OF ASSIGNMENTS DURING THE SEMESTER

- Macquarie University operates a Grade Appeal Policy in cases where students feel their work was graded inappropriately: <http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/gradeappeal/policy.html>
- In accordance with the Grade Appeal Policy, individual works are not subject to regrading.

STAFF AVAILABILITY

- Department staff will endeavour to answer student enquiries in a timely manner. However, emails or iLearn messages will not usually be answered over the weekend or public holiday period.
- Students are encouraged to read the Unit Guide and look at instructions posted on the iLearn site before sending email requests to staff.

Unit Schedule
