Unit description

This unit is a study of religious thought and its development in Ancient Egypt. It covers topics such as the concept of god, creation accounts, cosmology, divine kingship, polytheism, monotheism, pantheism, myths, temple cult, oracles and personal religion.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Identify Egyptian deities from their iconography and interpret the significance of their various iconographic forms.

Demonstrate in-depth knowledge of the primary sources on specific issues in Egyptian religion and the ability to evaluate what has been written on the topic against your own analysis of the primary sources.

Analyse and interpret literary and archaeological evidence and demonstrate an understanding of the rich and complex literary imagery and material expression of the religious thought and practice of the ancient Egyptians.

Demonstrate a broad understanding of Egyptian religion as an expression of the ancient Egyptians' attempt to make sense of the world in which they lived and find answers to the challenges it presented to them.

General Assessment Information

All tutorials are compulsory and non-attendance will result a deduction of 5% for each missed tutorial from the mark gained for the tutorial component of the unit. For external students, attendance is active participation in the online discussion group for each tutorial topic.

Participation must be in the week in which the topic is being discussed.

SUBMISSION of ASSIGNMENTS: The Tutorial Paper and Essay will be submitted through Turnitin.

ASSESSMENT CRITERIA: (for detailed grade descriptors see the Unit iLearn site under Assessment):

The Tutorial Paper will be marked against the following criteria:

1. Analysis of the primary text
2. Structure of argument
3. Formal presentation including correct referencing, English language (grammar, spelling and punctuation)

The Essay will be marked against the following criteria:

1. Knowledge of relevant subject matter
2. The range of primary sources used and the depth of their analysis
3. The range of secondary works consulted and the depth of engagement with them.
4. Correct Citation of sources
5. Structure of argument
6. Formal presentation including correct referencing, English language (grammar, spelling and punctuation)

Extensions

Tasks 10% or less. No extensions will be granted. Students who have not submitted the task prior to the deadline will be awarded a mark of 0 for the task, except for cases in which an application for Special consideration is made and approved.

Tasks above 10%. No extensions will be granted. Students who submit late work without an extension will receive a penalty. This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for special Consideration is made and approved.

Late Submission Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline.

No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Applying for Special Consideration go to <https://students.mq.edu.au/study/my-study-program/special-consideration>

Assessing Active Participation Active participation is assessed by a student's engagement in activities such as discussions facilitated by the lecturer/tutor, contributions to online discussion forums, or general questions asked during lectures or tutorials and involvement in set activities. Participation is expected to be well considered and relevant to the unit of study.

Assignment tasks handed in early will not be marked and returned before the due date.

Successful completion of unit To successfully complete the unit students must complete ALL assessment tasks and achieve an overall mark of 50%.

Results Results shown in iLearn, or released directly by your Unit Convenor, are not confirmed as they are subject to final approval by the University. Once approved, final results will be sent to your student email address and will be made available in eStudent. For more information visit ask.mq.edu.au.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Quizzes	10%	No	Weeks 3 - 7, 9 - 11
Tutorial paper	20%	No	Week 4, 6 or 9
Essay	40%	No	Friday Week 8
Exam	30%	No	Week 13

Quizzes

Due: Weeks 3 - 7, 9 - 11

Weighting: 10%

Students will be required to complete 8 on-line quizzes on the primary text(s) prior to their discussion in the tutorial sessions.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate in-depth knowledge of the primary sources on specific issues in Egyptian religion and the ability to evaluate what has been written on the topic against your own analysis of the primary sources.

Tutorial paper

Due: Week 4, 6 or 9

Weighting: 20%

Students write one tutorial paper (1000 words) on the topic set for Week 4 or 6 or 9). The paper is the preparation in written form for that week's tutorial and involves the analysis and interpretation of the primary text set for that week on a theme in Egyptian religion.

All tutorial sessions are compulsory and non-attendance will result a deduction of 5% for each missed tutorial from the mark gained from the tutorial component of the unit. For external students, attendance is active participation in the online discussion group for each tutorial topic.

Participation must be in the week in which the topic is being discussed.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Identify Egyptian deities from their iconography and interpret the significance of their various iconographic forms.
- Demonstrate in-depth knowledge of the primary sources on specific issues in Egyptian religion and the ability to evaluate what has been written on the topic against your own analysis of the primary sources.
- Analyse and interpret literary and archaeological evidence and demonstrate an understanding of the rich and complex literary imagery and material expression of the religious thought and practice of the ancient Egyptians.

Essay

Due: Friday Week 8

Weighting: 40%

A detailed study of a topic in Egyptian religion: emphasis is on the analysis of primary sources and critical evaluation of secondary studies against the primary sources.

Your answer to the essay question should demonstrate extensive use of ancient sources. Bibliographies provided give you a starting point for developing a reading list of secondary literature relevant to the essay topic. In order to locate further material (both ancient and modern) on particular issues you should consult the footnotes and indices of modern works.

Your essay should be based on an analysis and discussion of primary (ancient) sources. Secondary literature should be used to aid you in your analysis and interpretation of the ancient sources and to place your interpretation within the context of previous scholarship. All opinions included in the essay, whether quoted directly or paraphrased, should be referenced according to the guidelines, Essay Presentation & Conventions: Style Guide, available from the Departmental office (W6A 540) or online at www.mq.edu.au/pubstatic/public/download.jsp?id=292059

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Identify Egyptian deities from their iconography and interpret the significance of their various iconographic forms.
- Demonstrate in-depth knowledge of the primary sources on specific issues in Egyptian religion and the ability to evaluate what has been written on the topic against your own analysis of the primary sources.
- Analyse and interpret literary and archaeological evidence and demonstrate an understanding of the rich and complex literary imagery and material expression of the religious thought and practice of the ancient Egyptians.
- Demonstrate a broad understanding of Egyptian religion as an expression of the ancient Egyptians' attempt to make sense of the world in which they lived and find answers to the challenges it presented to them.

Exam

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 30%

The closed-book, invigilated exam (1 hour with 10 mins reading time) at the end of the unit covers the material presented and discussed in the lectures. The exam has two parts with a selection of questions to choose from. Students answer one question from each part in essay style.

External students have the option to do the exam on campus; it will be held in the last class (Week 13) at the regular lectures time in the regular lecture room (see www.timetables.mq.edu.au). Details re exam for those taking it externally will be made available on the iLearn site.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate in-depth knowledge of the primary sources on specific issues in Egyptian religion and the ability to evaluate what has been written on the topic against your own analysis of the primary sources.
- Analyse and interpret literary and archaeological evidence and demonstrate an understanding of the rich and complex literary imagery and material expression of the religious thought and practice of the ancient Egyptians.

- Demonstrate a broad understanding of Egyptian religion as an expression of the ancient Egyptians' attempt to make sense of the world in which they lived and find answers to the challenges it presented to them.

Delivery and Resources

Delivery: Lectures - Day, on-campus; tutorials - Day, on-campus

Technologies used: This unit uses iLearn and Echo 360. Students are expected to have good and regular access to the internet; mobile devices alone are unlikely to be sufficient. All students in all modes have access to the unit's iLearn site.

Times and location for campus Lectures and Tutorials: for current updates, lecture times and classrooms please consult the MQ Timetables website: www.timetables.mq.edu.au

There are twelve 2-hour Lectures on campus (Weeks 1-12) that introduce students to the themes of ancient Egyptian Religion. These lectures are recorded and made available through Echo360 . The material covered in lectures and the accompanying readings from the textbooks are the basis for the final exam in Week 13.

For the 9 Tutorials students read, analyse and discuss primary texts.

For each tutorial students will be required to do an on-line quiz which will be due the day before the tutorial is held.

Required texts

Learning and Teaching Activities

Preparing for and attending lectures

Preparing for lectures through doing the set readings. Students will gain an overview of the major themes to be dealt with in the lectures and will thereby be able to better follow the lectures.

Preparing for Tutorials

Students are expected to prepare for the tutorials by carefully reading the set texts and doing the online quiz.

Participating in tutorials

On the basis of their reading and analysis of primary texts, students will contribute to the group discussion on the online discussion forum and develop their communication skills.

Researching an essay topic

In preparing for the essay, students gain familiarity with the primary sources and secondary studies on ancient Egyptian religion and develop their skills in the interpretation of ancient sources and the critical evaluation of secondary works.

Applying interpretive skills to the knowledge acquired

In the tutorial discussions and the written work, you will apply interpretive skills to the knowledge acquired and practice skills of interpretation and evaluation.

Graduate Capabilities

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Identify Egyptian deities from their iconography and interpret the significance of their various iconographic forms.
- Demonstrate in-depth knowledge of the primary sources on specific issues in Egyptian religion and the ability to evaluate what has been written on the topic against your own analysis of the primary sources.

- Analyse and interpret literary and archaeological evidence and demonstrate an understanding of the rich and complex literary imagery and material expression of the religious thought and practice of the ancient Egyptians.
- Demonstrate a broad understanding of Egyptian religion as an expression of the ancient Egyptians' attempt to make sense of the world in which they lived and find answers to the challenges it presented to them.

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Identify Egyptian deities from their iconography and interpret the significance of their various iconographic forms.
- Demonstrate in-depth knowledge of the primary sources on specific issues in Egyptian religion and the ability to evaluate what has been written on the topic against your own analysis of the primary sources.

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate in-depth knowledge of the primary sources on specific issues in Egyptian religion and the ability to evaluate what has been written on the topic against your own analysis of the primary sources.
- Analyse and interpret literary and archaeological evidence and demonstrate an understanding of the rich and complex literary imagery and material expression of the religious thought and practice of the ancient Egyptians.

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Analyse and interpret literary and archaeological evidence and demonstrate an understanding of the rich and complex literary imagery and material expression of the religious thought and practice of the ancient Egyptians.
