Unit description

The purpose of this unit is to provide students with an understanding of the process that an entrepreneur employs to develop an idea into an opportunity and then into a thriving, valuable business. We will see how the application of sound principles of business strategy underpins the entrepreneurial process and is critical in achieving a successful outcome. Successful completion of this unit will provide students with knowledge and tools that will support them in their own entrepreneurial endeavours or equip them to contribute as part of an entrepreneurial team. The learning outcomes of this unit focus on applying the entrepreneurial process model to analyse entrepreneurs' venture creation; understanding and practising idea generation and screening including opportunity analysis of trends, feasibility and competitive analysis; understanding the process of how to write up a feasibility analysis and business plan to launch the new venture successfully; and finally understanding the basics of entrepreneurial finance including the raising funds, financing for growth, financial evaluation of opportunities, and acquisition financing.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Recognise and communicate the economic, technological, societal, and global dimensions of entrepreneurship.

Identify and explain a range of concepts, models and approaches that represent the theory of entrepreneurship and apply them to practical situations.

Work effectively in teams to experience all aspects of a new venture start-up and demonstrate interpersonal, leadership and communication skills, both written and verbal.

Critically reflect and write on the theory and nature of entrepreneurship and your associated learning experience

General Assessment Information

Please take advantage of the applied format in the delivery of this Unit. Practical application is a key cornerstone of entrepreneurial behaviour. At the same, focus on the leanings from this unit. Students are expected to complete all assessment tasks for this subject. Successful completion of this unit requires the student to achieve at least 50% in total in the assessment tasks offered

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
New Venture Start-up	50%	No	Weeks 2 through to 14
Critical Essay and reflections	50%	No	Week 14, November 16 by 9am

New Venture Start-up

Due: Weeks 2 through to 14

Weighting: 50%

Team project. New Venture ideas and start-up

Due: Weeks 2 to Week 14

Weighting: 50% (25 + 25)

This assessment comes in two parts. The first part is the pitch presentation of your business and the second part is the written business report of your new venture project.

All students will join a team to form a new venture. You will remain together in your team for the entire duration of the unit. It is important that you assemble a team of diverse, energetic, creative and vibrant team members each with different skill sets and drive that they bring to your new venture. Actively seek diversity as it improves innovativeness.

Part 1: Business Pitch Presentation (Individual mark worth 25%)

Due: Week 11

15-minutes per team presentation during class time. BEFORE the pitch presentation (i.e., by 31 Oct), you must submit your team's powerpoint slides on iLearn Discussion Forum. Your powerpoint presentation must not contain more than 12 slides. Penalty applies if powerpoint slides are not uploaded before the pitch presentation. All students must be present in during Pitch presentations. Absence without approved "Special Considerations" will be awarded 0 marks. Refer to Assessment guidelines posted on iLearn.

Each entrepreneurial team must give a stand-up presentation of its new business venture in a pitch presentation. This presentation aims to impress and convince "investors" to invest in your venture. Marks are awarded based on individual presentation even though this assessment is a team business pitch presentation. Strategize and make every effort to capture the confidence and imagination of your audience, your potential investors. Be creative, professional and credible. Each and every team member must be involved in the pitch presentation. The feedback from the presentation will be useful in refining the written report, which is part 2 of the team project.

More details about this assessment will be presented in class and on iLearn.

Part 2: Written report (Team mark worth 25%)

Due: The written report is due Week 14, Monday 12 Nov by 9am. Submit through turnitin on our iLearn site.

Late reports will incur a 10% penalty per 24-hour period that they are late. Weekend days and public holidays each count as one day. Penalty does not apply in cases in which an application for Special Consideration is made and approved prior to the submission due date. If the revised extended deadline is not met, late penalty applies. Refer to Assessment guidelines posted on iLearn.

Your new venture business report is a professional document that presents your business opportunity within a framework that includes business models. These business models should show how value is created, delivered and captured. Your new venture will encompass entrepreneurial creativity in solving a problem and/or identifying gaps that are not filled by the current market. Your entrepreneurial new venture can be a commercial venture focused on financial rewards or a social venture to deliver social good.

More details about this assessment will be presented in class and on iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Recognise and communicate the economic, technological, societal, and global dimensions of entrepreneurship.

- Identify and explain a range of concepts, models and approaches that represent the theory of entrepreneurship and apply them to practical situations.
- Work effectively in teams to experience all aspects of a new venture start-up and demonstrate interpersonal, leadership and communication skills, both written and verbal.

Critical Essay and reflections

Due: Week 14, November 16 by 9am

Weighting: 50%

Individual Essay with reflective insights

Due: Week 14, Friday 16 November by 9am

Weighting: 50%

Maximum 2000 +/- 10% word limit, excluding references and appendices. Penalty of 10% applies for exceeding word count. Word count must be indicated on the first page of your report.

This assessment requires you to write an essay that must include two sections.

The first section is where you provide an academic analysis of entrepreneurs and entrepreneurship. You will need to choose one topic or metaphor from class that interests you the most and develop a hypothesis that you will need to substantiate theoretically with literature research and by providing empirical examples. Source from multiple areas of information such as academic peer-reviewed journals, web links, industry reports, government report, and popular media to support your analysis. All sourced content must be referenced appropriately using Harvard style format.

The second section is a reflective report. Reflective writing encourages you to examine your personal learning and experience about specific situations such as your learning in relation to taking this unit and participating in team work. It helps you to think about how your experience can apply to future projects you might be working on.

All students must submit their Essay with reflections through turnitin using the link on iLearn by Friday November 16, 9am. No extension will be granted. Late reports will incur a 10% penalty per 24-hour period that they are late. Weekend day and public holidays each count as one day. Penalty does not apply in cases in which an application for special consideration is made and approved. If the revised extended deadline is not met, late penalty applies. Refer to Assessment guidelines posted on iLearn.

More details about this assessment will be presented in class and on iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Recognise and communicate the economic, technological, societal, and global dimensions of entrepreneurship.
- Identify and explain a range of concepts, models and approaches that represent the theory of entrepreneurship and apply them to practical situations.

- Critically reflect and write on the theory and nature of entrepreneurship and your associated learning experience

Delivery and Resources

The delivery of this Unit incorporates a 3-hour seminar. Classes may vary due to public holidays. The timetable can be found on the University website at: http://students.mq.edu.au/student_admin/timetables.

This Unit is taught by a mix of lecture-style and interactive delivery with group discussions. Lectures are used to present concepts, theories and tools to provide the framework to pursue entrepreneurial activities. Class activities will be interactive and students can learn best by actively participating in these activities. Participation and learning will be most productive if students complete the required readings BEFORE class.

Required Textbook:

Scarborough, N and Cornwall, J (2017) Essentials of Entrepreneurship and Small Business Management, Global Edition (8e). Pearson Education Ltd. England.

Additional readings:

Additional required or suggested readings will be made available on iLearn.

Weekly attendance and active participation are critical to your learning outcomes and performance in this Unit. Students are expected to arrive on time and not leave until the class ends. If you have a recurring problem with class attendance, please seek advice and apply for special considerations.

Changes from Previous Offering

There is a different prescribed text, additional required readings and changes in assessments.

Global context and sustainability

This Unit introduces well established theories in the discipline of entrepreneurial behaviour and business strategy. The Unit offers students the opportunities to apply the disciplinary knowledge in the context of a challenging domestic and global business environment. Students are reminded to incorporate corporate governance, sustainability and ethics as they pursue entrepreneurial activities.

Research and Practice

This Unit requires students to conduct research which involves sourcing data and information from a wide range of sources including academic journals, websites, media news, industry and government reports. Students are reminded to be ethical and truthful in conducting and interpreting research. Academic honesty is to be adhered to at all times.
