Unit description

This unit introduces students to basic approaches to guitar playing in particular styles. No previous experience in guitar playing is necessary (internal streams will be run appropriate to individual skill levels). The unit combines study tutorials and practical workshops.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Incorporate historical, social and technical knowledge of the guitar in a personal approach to learning the instrument

Participate, evaluate and gain a practical understanding of the role of the contemporary guitarist as soloist and in an ensemble

Develop personal playing skills through selection, rehearsal and performance of appropriate repertoire.

Develop an understanding of relevant music theory for guitar playing

General Assessment Information

Late Submissions

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (including weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Ensemble Performance	25%	No	week 9, week 13
Solo performance	25%	No	Continuous
Quizzes	30%	No	Weeks 4, 7, 10
Critical listening	20%	No	Week 5, 11

Ensemble Performance

Due: week 9, week 13

Weighting: 25%

Assessment consists of ensemble group participation in tutorials, independent rehearsals out of class time and a final performance in front of a peer audience.

Marking criteria:

A (60%) Application of appropriate guitar technique and evaluation of musicianship including dynamics, phrasing, rhythm, tone and stylistic integrity, through ensemble performance.

B (40%) Evidence of group preparation, organisation, effective collaboration and attendance at rehearsals

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Incorporate historical, social and technical knowledge of the guitar in a personal approach to learning the instrument
- Participate, evaluate and gain a practical understanding of the role of the contemporary guitarist as soloist and in an ensemble
- Develop personal playing skills through selection, rehearsal and performance of appropriate repertoire.

Solo performance

Due: Continuous

Weighting: 25%

Assessed continuously through performance of technical exercises, tablature reading, and solo pieces and extracts set in class. These exercises and pieces will be provided by tutors at least two weeks in advance to allow for practice and preparation. Assessment will then take place in solo and group performance contexts in tutorials.

Marking criteria:

A (60%) Application of appropriate guitar technique and evaluation of musicianship including dynamics, phrasing, rhythm, tone and stylistic integrity, through ensemble performance.

B (40%) Evidence of regular, effective preparation through individual instrumental practice

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Incorporate historical, social and technical knowledge of the guitar in a personal approach to learning the instrument
- Participate, evaluate and gain a practical understanding of the role of the contemporary guitarist as soloist and in an ensemble
- Develop personal playing skills through selection, rehearsal and performance of appropriate repertoire.
- Develop an understanding of relevant music theory for guitar playing

Quizzes

Due: Weeks 4, 7, 10

Weighting: 30%

A series of quizzes will be presented throughout the semester testing knowledge of essential theory, history, listening to suggested repertoire and engagement with fundamental guitar related knowledge presented in the lecture material.

Marking criteria: Multiple choice, correct or incorrect.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Incorporate historical, social and technical knowledge of the guitar in a personal approach to learning the instrument
- Develop an understanding of relevant music theory for guitar playing

Critical listening

Due: Week 5, 11

Weighting: 20%

Students are to demonstrate engaged and analytical listening to appropriate repertoire through completion of a number of iLearn exercises spaced throughout the semester.

Marking criteria: Evidence of ability to listen critically to relevant musical examples and express this in written form.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Incorporate historical, social and technical knowledge of the guitar in a personal approach to learning the instrument
- Participate, evaluate and gain a practical understanding of the role of the contemporary guitarist as soloist and in an ensemble
- Develop an understanding of relevant music theory for guitar playing

Graduate Capabilities

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Participate, evaluate and gain a practical understanding of the role of the contemporary guitarist as soloist and in an ensemble
- Develop personal playing skills through selection, rehearsal and performance of appropriate repertoire.
- Develop an understanding of relevant music theory for guitar playing

Assessment tasks

- Ensemble Performance
- Solo performance

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Participate, evaluate and gain a practical understanding of the role of the contemporary guitarist as soloist and in an ensemble

Assessment task

- Ensemble Performance

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Incorporate historical, social and technical knowledge of the guitar in a personal approach to learning the instrument
- Develop personal playing skills through selection, rehearsal and performance of appropriate repertoire.

Assessment tasks

- Ensemble Performance
- Solo performance

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Incorporate historical, social and technical knowledge of the guitar in a personal approach to learning the instrument
- Participate, evaluate and gain a practical understanding of the role of the contemporary guitarist as soloist and in an ensemble
- Develop personal playing skills through selection, rehearsal and performance of appropriate repertoire.
- Develop an understanding of relevant music theory for guitar playing

Assessment tasks

- Ensemble Performance
- Solo performance
- Quizzes
- Critical listening

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Develop personal playing skills through selection, rehearsal and performance of appropriate repertoire.
- Develop an understanding of relevant music theory for guitar playing

Assessment tasks

- Quizzes
- Critical listening

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Incorporate historical, social and technical knowledge of the guitar in a personal approach to learning the instrument
- Develop an understanding of relevant music theory for guitar playing

Assessment task

- Quizzes

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Incorporate historical, social and technical knowledge of the guitar in a personal approach to learning the instrument
- Participate, evaluate and gain a practical understanding of the role of the contemporary guitarist as soloist and in an ensemble
- Develop personal playing skills through selection, rehearsal and performance of appropriate repertoire.

Assessment tasks
