Unit description

This unit relates to and continues on from LAW316 and focuses on equitable notions of property, with a particular emphasis of the law of trusts, but also covering the historical development of equity and its relationship to common law, the assignment and other dispositions of property in equity, the obligation of confidence in equity with respect to information, equitable estoppel and fiduciary obligations. This unit will provide students with a theoretical grounding in the relevant principles as well as equip them with the capacity to apply these principles in practice.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Demonstrate a thorough understanding of legal principles relating to equity and trusts

Demonstrate an enquiring, critical, analytical and thoughtful approach to equitable property interests and their place in the overall scheme of property interests

Formulate, present and evaluate oral and written arguments about equity and trusts, drawing upon relevant precedent and policy considerations

Analyse hypothetical fact situations, identify legal and factual issues involving the law relating to equity and trusts, and apply relevant principles to solve legal problems

Demonstrate sophisticated research, writing and referencing skills appropriate to students undertaking a unit at this level

Take responsibility for one's own learning by managing one's time effectively so as to be able to undertake readings for weekly seminars on time as well as complete and submit assessment items on time

General Assessment Information

Marking Rubrics

Detailed marking rubrics will be made available on iLearn. Markers in this unit undertake a process of 'blind marking' to establish a common marking standard and all Fail papers are double marked.

Late Submission Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests

Special Consideration

In the absence of a successful application for special consideration due to a disruption to studies, any assessment task submitted after seven (7) days will not be graded and will receive a mark of zero. Applications for a Disruption to Studies are made electronically via ask.mq.edu.au and should be accompanied by supporting documentation. Students should refer to the Disruption to Studies policy for complete details of the policy and a description of the supporting documentation required.

Word Limits

Word limits will be strictly applied and work above the word limit will not be marked.

Assessment Submission

All assessments in the unit except for the exam are to be submitted electronically. Plagiarism detection software is used in this unit.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Assignment	30%	No	12pm 14 September 2018
Final Examination (Take Home)	40%	No	2 pm, 16 November 2018
Quiz	30%	Yes	Weeks 4 and 11

Assignment

Due: 12pm 14 September 2018

Weighting: 30%

The answer provided must be a properly referenced response with appropriate analysis and argument supported by relevant authoritative cases and commentary. The response must be typed and must be kept to a maximum 1,500 words (excluding footnotes and the bibliography). The word limit will be strictly applied and work above the word limit will not be marked.

The assignment must be electronically submitted. Plagiarism detection software is used in this unit.

In completing their answer, students must comply with the Australian Guide to Legal Citation, compiled by the Melbourne University Law Review. The guide is available for download free at:

https://law.unimelb.edu.au/__data/assets/pdf_file/0007/1586203/FinalOnlinePDF-2012Reprint.pdf

Further instructions and information in relation to the assignment, including detailed marking rubrics, will be made available on iLearn. Markers in this unit undertake a process of 'blind marking' to establish a common marking standard and all fail papers are double marked.

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline, and an assignment submitted after this date, without special consideration will receive zero.

If, for justifiable reasons, a student is unable to submit the assignment on time, he or she may submit an application for special consideration pursuant to the University's Disruption to Studies Policy. If special consideration is granted the student may be given a different research question to be completed at a time determined by the unit convenor in consultation with the student.

Applications for special consideration pursuant to the Disruption to Studies Policy are made electronically via ask.mq.edu.au and should be accompanied by supporting documentation. Students should refer to the Disruption to Studies Policy for complete details of the policy and a description of the supporting documentation required.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Demonstrate a detailed and thorough knowledge of legal principles relating to equity and trusts;
- Analyse hypothetical fact situations, identify legal and factual issues involving the law relating to equity and trusts, and apply relevant principles to solve legal problems:
- Take responsibility for one's own learning by managing one's time effectively so as to be able to undertake readings for weekly seminars on time as well as complete and submit assessment items on time;
- Formulate, present and evaluate oral and written arguments about equity and trusts, drawing upon relevant precedent and policy considerations; and
- Demonstrate sophisticated research, writing and referencing skills appropriate to students undertaking a unit at this level.

On successful completion you will be able to:

Final Examination (Take Home)

Due: 2 pm, 16 November 2018

Weighting: 40%

The final examination in this unit will be a take home examination.

The final examination will be based on material covered in the unit, ie all topics and materials covered in the unit.

The final examination will be in the form of one problem question and one essay question. All questions will have to be answered.

Students will be able to access the final examination paper on iLearn from 10 am on Friday 16 November 2018 and must submit their answers to the final examination paper by 2 pm on Friday 16 November 2018. The assignment must be electronically submitted. Plagiarism detection software is used in this unit.

A student's answers to the final examination paper's questions cannot exceed 2,000 words (exclusive of footnotes). This is an upper word limit and a student need not write 2,000 words if he or she can answer the questions in less than 2,000 words. A bibliography is not required. The word limit will be strictly applied and work above the word limit will not be marked. The answers to the examination questions must be typed.

Students are not required to comply with strict AGLC referencing, however must provide authority which can be provided via footnotes.

Further instructions and information in relation to the final examination will be made available on iLearn.

If, for justifiable reasons, a student is unable to do the final examination at the above time or his or her performance in the final examination is adversely affected, he or she should submit an application for special consideration pursuant to the University's Disruption to Studies Policy, which, if granted, will enable the student to complete an alternative assessment. The alternative assessment may not be in the form of a take home examination - it may take some other form such as a formal sit down examination.

Applications for special consideration pursuant to the Disruption to Studies Policy are made electronically via ask.mq.edu.au and should be accompanied by supporting documentation. Students should refer to the Disruption to Studies Policy for complete details of the policy and a description of the supporting documentation required.

Any student who does not submit answers to the final examination or supplementary examination, as the case may be, on time or at all, will receive a zero mark for the this assessment item.

This assessment task relates to the following learning outcomes:

- Demonstrate a thorough understanding of legal principles relating to equity and trusts;
- Analyse hypothetical fact situations, identify legal and factual issues involving the law relating to equity and trusts, and apply relevant principles to solve legal problems;
- Formulate, present and evaluate oral and written arguments about equity and trusts, drawing upon relevant precedent and policy considerations; and

Quiz

Due: Weeks 4 and 11

Weighting: 30%

This is a hurdle assessment task (see assessment policy for more information on hurdle assessment tasks)

Students will sit two online quizzes, the first in Week 4, the second in Week 11. Each quiz is worth 15%. The questions will be based on work covered in any of the weeks prior to the quiz.

This assessment relates to the following learning outcomes:

- Demonstrate a thorough understanding of legal principles relating to equity and trusts;
- Analyse hypothetical fact situations, identify legal and factual issues involving the law relating to equity and trusts, and apply relevant principles to solve legal problems; and
- Take responsibility for one's own learning by managing one's time effectively so as to be able to undertake readings for weekly seminars on time as well as complete and submit assessment items on time.

Delivery and Resources

DELIVERY OF UNIT

Weekly Lectures (Internal and Distance Students)

Weekly lectures in this unit will be pre-recorded and available to students on iLearn. Weekly lectures will commence in Week 1 and go through to Week 12.

Weekly Seminars (Internal Students)

For internal students, weekly tutorials of two (2) hours duration commence in Week 1 of the semester (ie the week beginning Monday 30 July 2018). The last seminar will be in Week 13. Seminar attendance is compulsory.

For seminar times and classrooms students should consult the MQ Timetable website.

Students are required to complete the set readings prior to the seminar in preparation for the seminar The problem and discussion questions for each seminar will be made available in the seminar.

Additional readings may be added from time to time via Leganto (available on ilearn).

On Campus Sessions (Distance Students)

For distance students there are two days of on campus sessions. Attendance at the on campus sessions is compulsory. On campus sessions will run from 9 am to 12 noon and 1 pm to 4 pm on each of the two days.

Students who are unable to attend must apply for a disruption to studies. If that application is accepted, alternative work will be set in lieu of on-campus attendance.

For the dates and venues of the on campus sessions students should consult the MQ Timetable website.

The topics for the on campus sessions will be selected from the topics covered in the semester.

The problem and discussion questions for the on campus sessions will be made available on iLearn prior to the on campus session dates.

Graduate Capabilities

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Formulate, present and evaluate oral and written arguments about equity and trusts, drawing upon relevant precedent and policy considerations
- Take responsibility for one's own learning by managing one's time effectively so as to be able to undertake readings for weekly seminars on time as well as complete and submit assessment items on time

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Take responsibility for one's own learning by managing one's time effectively so as to be able to undertake readings for weekly seminars on time as well as complete and submit assessment items on time

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate a thorough understanding of legal principles relating to equity and trusts
- Demonstrate an enquiring, critical, analytical and thoughtful approach to equitable property interests and their place in the overall scheme of property interests
- Analyse hypothetical fact situations, identify legal and factual issues involving the law relating to equity and trusts, and apply relevant principles to solve legal problems

Assessment tasks

- Assignment
- Final Examination (Take Home)
- Quiz

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate a thorough understanding of legal principles relating to equity and trusts
- Demonstrate an enquiring, critical, analytical and thoughtful approach to equitable property interests and their place in the overall scheme of property interests
- Formulate, present and evaluate oral and written arguments about equity and trusts, drawing upon relevant precedent and policy considerations
- Analyse hypothetical fact situations, identify legal and factual issues involving the law relating to equity and trusts, and apply relevant principles to solve legal problems
- Demonstrate sophisticated research, writing and referencing skills appropriate to students undertaking a unit at this level

Assessment tasks

- Assignment
- Final Examination (Take Home)
- Quiz

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate a thorough understanding of legal principles relating to equity and trusts
- Demonstrate an enquiring, critical, analytical and thoughtful approach to equitable property interests and their place in the overall scheme of property interests
- Formulate, present and evaluate oral and written arguments about equity and trusts, drawing upon relevant precedent and policy considerations
- Analyse hypothetical fact situations, identify legal and factual issues involving the law relating to equity and trusts, and apply relevant principles to solve legal problems
- Take responsibility for one's own learning by managing one's time effectively so as to be able to undertake readings for weekly seminars on time as well as complete and submit assessment items on time

Assessment tasks

- Assignment
- Final Examination (Take Home)
- Quiz

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate a thorough understanding of legal principles relating to equity and trusts
- Demonstrate sophisticated research, writing and referencing skills appropriate to students undertaking a unit at this level

Assessment tasks

- Assignment
- Final Examination (Take Home)
