Unit description

This unit is aimed at teaching students to apply knowledge and skills gained in human resources management (HRM) in an integrated way to organisations. The unit reviews and applies theoretical perspectives on strategic HRM to case studies of organisations. It provides the intellectual and practical tools for students to evaluate various approaches to the conception, planning, implementation and evaluation of strategic policy and practice in key functional areas of HRM. Students will develop graduate capabilities in critical, analytical and integrative thinking and effective communication in relation to the development of strategic responses to contemporary HR issues.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Critically analyse and communicate key HR theories and practices and their potential contribution to the strategy and success of the organisation.

Demonstrate an in-depth understanding of the role of HR metrics in strategic decision making, both within HR, and as part of the overall strategic direction of an organisation.

Work in teams to provide solutions to the challenges facing HRM in specific contexts.
 Demonstrate an understanding of team processes.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Tutorial Participation	10%	No	Weeks 3-12
Individual Essay	20%	No	04/09/2018
Case study/group presentation	20%	No	weeks 8-12
Final Examination	50%	No	Exam period

Tutorial Participation

Due: Weeks 3-12

Weighting: 10%

The tutorial programme is an integral part of this unit. Tutorials give students an opportunity to clarify material covered in lectures and readings, explore and apply key concepts in discussion, exercises and case studies, and prepare for the assessment for this unit. The tutorial program is divided into two parts.

PART ONE: (6 marks allocated) Weeks 3-7 will involve discussions in class. From Week 3, these discussions will be based on set readings located on iLearn. Completion of tutorial homework encourages students to be engaged and active learners in discussions. Students are required to complete three (3) one page (A4 size 12 font or hand written) answers to questions set between week 3 and 7 inclusive. These questions will be based on the readings set for the class. The questions are set out in the Lecture and Tutorial Schedule on iLearn. Three of these five weekly exercises will be sighted for a mark allocation of 2% each. This amounts to 6% of the total marks for the Unit. Students may choose which weeks (between weeks 3 and 7) they have their homework sighted. Students will be asked to show the work to the tutor at the start of the class as evidence of completion - this will be registered on the roll. Students will also be required to hand in their page of work to the tutor at the end of the tutorial. You are required to remain in class for the duration of the tutorial, during which time the material will be discussed collectively. No e-mail submission will be accepted. No extension will be granted. While all students are encouraged to participate in every tutorial, those students who have registered their homework for the given tutorial can expect to be asked questions pertaining to the material. Where students are unable to answer questions relating to their homework, the mark of 2% may be reduced but a minimum mark of 1% (per tutorial homework) will nonetheless apply.

Students who do not submit the task during their designated tutorial time will be awarded zero for this activity. This penalty does not apply in cases where an application for Special Consideration has been made and approved.

PART TWO: (4 marks allocated) In weeks 8-12 case study presentations will be conducted. All other students (non-participants in the presentation) will be required to be attentive as they will be expected to ask meaningful questions. Students are required to participate asking and/or answering questions after the presentations. Questions will be based on the readings and cases set for weeks 8-12. Students who do not attend and participate in these tutorials will be awarded zero for this part of the participation marks. This penalty does not apply in cases where an application for Special Consideration has been made and approved

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critically analyse and communicate key HR theories and practices and their potential contribution to the strategy and success of the organisation.
- Demonstrate an in-depth understanding of the role of HR metrics in strategic decision making, both within HR, and as part of the overall strategic direction of an organisation.
- Work in teams to provide solutions to the challenges facing HRM in specific contexts.

Individual Essay

Due: 04/09/2018

Weighting: 20%

Submission Details:

Students must submit their essays electronically through Turnitin using the link on iLearn by 4:00pm on the due date (04/09/2018, by 4.00 pm). A hard copy of your essay must also be submitted to BESS by 4:00pm on the due date. Hard copies must be identical to the electronic version submitted. Otherwise the essay will not be marked.

Length: 1500 words excluding the reference list.

Details and marking criteria are provided in the Assessment Guidelines Document available on iLearn and questions on this assessment will be answered in the lecture.

Note on extensions: No extensions will be granted. Late tasks will be accepted up to 72 hours (3 days) after the submission deadline. There will be a deduction of 10% per day for late submissions for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late (for example, 25 hours late in submission – 20% penalty). This means the total mark will be deducted 2 marks per day. This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for Special Considerations is made and approved.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critically analyse and communicate key HR theories and practices and their potential contribution to the strategy and success of the organisation.
- Demonstrate an in-depth understanding of the role of HR metrics in strategic decision making, both within HR, and as part of the overall strategic direction of an organisation.

Case study/group presentation

Due: weeks 8-12

Weighting: 20%

The purpose of this assessment is to develop your skills in team building and case analysis. You will be allocated a case study relating to a particular organisation and a specific aspect of strategic HR. Topics and organisations will be provided on iLearn by the end of Week 1.

In weeks 8 - 12 students will conduct a 25 minute group presentation. Groups will have a minimum of 4 members and a maximum of 5 members. The formation of groups will occur in the week 3 and 4 tutorials and allocation of topics/organisations will occur by the end of week 4 tutorials. In addition, your group should prepare a 2000 words report and submit it online (turnitin) and hardcopy. Groups must submit their reports electronically through Turnitin using the link on iLearn the day of the presentation before the tutorial time. A hard copy of the report must also be provided to your tutor before the presentation on the due date. Hard copies must be identical to the electronic version submitted. Otherwise the report will not be marked. There will be a deduction of 10% per day for late submissions for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late (for example, 25 hours late in submission – 20% penalty). This penalty does not apply in cases where an application for Special Consideration has been made and approved.

The group presentation consists of 2 components – collective (10%) and individual (10%). Each group member receives the same mark for the collective component of the group presentation (report). Each group member may receive a different mark for the individual component (individual performance in the presentation).

Students are expected to use Powerpoint or Prezi for their presentation and provide a print-out copy of the power point and the report. Details and marking criteria are provided in the Assessment Guidelines document available on iLearn. Questions on this assessment will be answered during the lectures and tutorials.

As with all aspects of this unit, students must keep in mind that this is a Strategic Human Resource Management unit. Theoretical concepts concerning strategic HRM, and particular issues and challenges concerning the formation, implementation, effectiveness etc of HRM strategy will be relevant. Demonstrating an understanding of this relevance will be rewarded. Using examples of existing organisations (in addition to the company in the case) may also make a strong contribution to a team's report and presentation - you can find illustrations of how particular companies approach the different aspects and issues of strategic HRM through looking at company websites, case study excerpts in text books, periodicals and journals.

Note on extensions: No extensions will be granted. Students who are not present for their group's presentation will be awarded a mark of 0 for the presentation, except for cases in which an application for Special Considerations is made and approved.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critically analyse and communicate key HR theories and practices and their potential contribution to the strategy and success of the organisation.

- Demonstrate an in-depth understanding of the role of HR metrics in strategic decision making, both within HR, and as part of the overall strategic direction of an organisation.
- Work in teams to provide solutions to the challenges facing HRM in specific contexts.
- Demonstrate an understanding of team processes.

Final Examination

Due: Exam period

Weighting: 50%

A two hour exam (closed book) will be held during the university exam period. Exam questions will assess students' understanding of the theoretical concepts covered in the course, functional areas of SHRM, and issues associated with management and organisation of SHRM in different corporate contexts. More details about the exam will be posted on iLearn and presented in class after the mid-semester break.

The only exception to not sitting an examination at the designated time in the University Examination Timetable is because of documented illness or unavoidable disruption. In these circumstances you may wish to consider applying for Special Consideration. The University's policy on the Special Consideration process is available at <https://staff.mq.edu.au/work/strategyplanning-and-governance/university-policies-and-procedures/policies/special-consideration>.

If a Supplementary Examination is granted as a result of the Special Consideration process the examination will be scheduled after the conclusion of the official examination period. The Macquarie University examination policy details the principles and conduct of examinations at the University. The policy is available at: <http://mq.edu.au/policy/docs/examination/policy.htm>

The timetable will be available in draft form approx. eight weeks before the commencement of examinations and in final form approximately four weeks before the commencement of the examinations. <http://www.timetables.mq.edu.au/exam>

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critically analyse and communicate key HR theories and practices and their potential contribution to the strategy and success of the organisation.
- Demonstrate an in-depth understanding of the role of HR metrics in strategic decision making, both within HR, and as part of the overall strategic direction of an organisation.

Delivery and Resources

Classes

This Unit is taught through lectures and tutorials. Classes are held each week of semester unless the class falls on a public holiday. Each lecture is two hours and tutorial, one hour. Lectures provide not only a consolidated account of major concepts and issues in relation to each topic - they also include discussion, questions and answers, brainstorming and other activities. The powerpoint slides posted on iLearn provide the framework for the material covered in classes, but are not and are not intended to be a complete record.

The timetable for classes can be found on the University web site at:
<https://timetables.mq.edu.au>.

There is a high degree of correlation between attendance and success in the unit.

Unit Schedule

A Unit schedule is included as a separate document on iLearn. This is where students will find the weekly schedule of lectures and tutorials as well as details of the required reading.

Required and Recommended Reading

Please note: This is a capstone course. Students are required to take considerable responsibility for their own learning. It is expected that every student will already know how to locate materials in the library, using e-journals and other resources. There is a textbook set for the Unit (see below) but this does not cover every topic. A detailed reading list pertinent to each topic is located on iLearn. Students are responsible for locating these readings in the library – teaching staff will not be doing this basic research task for students. Readings with an asterisk are those which provide the most substantial cover of a topic and/or the most crucial issue(s). Students need to make their own judgments about how much reading they do, and which readings they select.

All required readings will be available through eReserve.

Textbook

Boxall, P and Purcell, J., (2015) Strategy and Human Resource Management, 4th ed., Palgrave Macmillan, Basingstoke.

Technology Used and Required

Access to a personal computer is required in order to access announcements, course documents and learning materials on iLearn. Students should check iLearn at least once a week. Messages may also be posted to your Macquarie University student email accounts, so these should be checked at least weekly also.

Unit Web Page

The web page for this unit can be accessed via <http://ilearn.mq.edu.au> Please check the iLearn site at least weekly for announcements and to access teaching and learning materials loaded onto the site as the course progresses.

Research and Practice

This unit provides practice in applying research findings in your assignments. It also provides opportunities to conduct your own research through journal articles, texts and online data bases.

Satisfactory completion of this Unit will require:

- participation in group work

- attendance at classes. Note. It is assumed that students who fail to attend are undertaking considerable independent study to make up for material not accessed through classes
- Students are expected to complete all assessment tasks for this subject. Successful completion of this unit requires the student to achieve at least 50% in total in the assessment tasks offered.

Unit Schedule

A Unit schedule is included as a separate document on iLearn. This is where students will find the weekly schedule of lectures, tutorials and details of required readings.

Policies and Procedures

Macquarie University policies and procedures are accessible from Policy Central \(https://staff.mq.edu.au/work/strategy-planning-and-governance/university-policies-and-procedures/policy-central\). Graduate Capabilities

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Critically analyse and communicate key HR theories and practices and their potential contribution to the strategy and success of the organisation.
- Demonstrate an in-depth understanding of the role of HR metrics in strategic decision making, both within HR, and as part of the overall strategic direction of an organisation.
- Work in teams to provide solutions to the challenges facing HRM in specific contexts.
- Demonstrate an understanding of team processes.

Assessment tasks

- Tutorial Participation
- Individual Essay
- Case study/group presentation
- Final Examination

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Critically analyse and communicate key HR theories and practices and their potential contribution to the strategy and success of the organisation.
- Demonstrate an in-depth understanding of the role of HR metrics in strategic decision making, both within HR, and as part of the overall strategic direction of an organisation.
- Work in teams to provide solutions to the challenges facing HRM in specific contexts.
- Demonstrate an understanding of team processes.

Assessment tasks

- Tutorial Participation
- Individual Essay
- Case study/group presentation
- Final Examination

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Work in teams to provide solutions to the challenges facing HRM in specific contexts.
- Demonstrate an understanding of team processes.

Assessment tasks

- Tutorial Participation
- Case study/group presentation

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Critically analyse and communicate key HR theories and practices and their potential contribution to the strategy and success of the organisation.
- Work in teams to provide solutions to the challenges facing HRM in specific contexts.
- Demonstrate an understanding of team processes.

Assessment tasks

- Tutorial Participation
- Individual Essay
- Case study/group presentation

Additional Recommended Reading

On the ilearn site, students will find a Reading List which contains recommended readings for each topic covered in the Unit. The Unit relies heavily on recent scholarly journal articles and also classic theoretical and research publications.

There are also a number of excellent texts on the subject which cover some, but rarely all the topics in the course. Strongly recommended books include:

- * Boselie P., (2010), Strategic Human Resource Management: A Balanced Approach, McGraw-Hill, Berkshire. (*)
- * Armstrong, M. (2011) Armstrong's Handbook of Strategic Human Resource Management, Kogan Page Publishers.
- Marchington, M. and Wilkinson, A., (2002) People Management and Development: Human Resource Management at Work, 2nd ed, CIPD, London.
- Mello, J. (2010) Strategic Human Resource Management, Cengage Learning.
- * Millmore, M, Lewis, P. et al (2007) Strategic Human Resource Management, Prentice-Hall, Essex.
- Salaman, G. Storey, J., and Billsbery, J., (2005) Strategic Human Resource Management: Theory and Practice, Sage, London.
- Schuler, R. and Jackson, S., (2007) Strategic Human Resource Management, 2nd ed, Blackwell.
- Stone, R., (2010) Managing Human Resources, John Wiley & Sons, Milton.
- Storey, J., Wright, P., and Ulrich, D., (2009) The Routledge Companion to Strategic Human Resource Management, Routledge, Abingdon.

Note. * where this book examines topics covered in the course, the relevant chapter is listed in the reading guide.

Journals recommended for HRM study include:

- Human Resource Management Journal
- International Journal of Human Resource Management
- Academy of Management Journal
- Asia Pacific Journal of Human Resources
- Work, Employment and Society
- Australian Journal of Management
- California Management Review
- Economic and Labour Relations Review
- Harvard Business Review
- International Journal of Employment Studies
- Labour & Industry
- Personnel Journal
- Personnel Management
- Personnel Review

Key research databases for your study of human resource management include:

- Ebsco host: Academic Search Elite Business Source Premier
- Psychology and behavioral sciences collection

Also search the websites of well-known consulting organisations such as Watson Wyatt, PWC, Deloitte, DDI, Hewitt Associates etc. These can be an excellent source for information on contemporary techniques and practices.

Sustainability

Students should be aware that sustainability has a much broader meaning than 'green' issues, such as renewable energy and recycling. Companies today must consider their Triple Bottom Line, which means that they must focus on the sustainability of People, Profits and the Planet. Clearly, the people aspect is of interest to HR practitioners and will include discussions on flexible working, employee rights, equity, diversity and inclusion. In turn, these topics may inform discussion on outsourcing, offshoring and recruitment practices, to name a few. Students should familiarise themselves with the ten principles of the UN Global Compact and the Principles of Responsible Management Education, as well as company annual reports that provide insights into these areas.
