Unit description This unit examines intertextuality in Japanese literature and other art forms, focusing on the Japanese classical masterpiece 'The Tale of Genji' from the early eleventh century. The novel itself is rich in intertextuality derived widely from Japanese and Chinese resources. It has also inspired a diverse range of art and literature in later periods, such as poems, stage performances (Noh, Takarazuka), novels, manga/anime and other visual media. Through this unit, students are introduced to major Japanese literary works as well as 'The Tale of Genji'. This unit is conducted in English, although some Japanese materials may be included with English translations or explanations.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Demonstrate an insight into The Tale of Genji, especially its literary and psychological depiction

Demonstrate an insight into the historical, socio-cultural, aesthetic and psychological background of The Tale of Genji, mainly of the Heian noble society

Apply the concept of 'intertextuality' to understand the creation of The Tale of Genji and diverse art forms and scholarly works inspired by the tale

Generate informed and original analysis of The Tale of Genji and express this in a focused, analytical and cohesive manner in oral and written form

Demonstrate initiative and competence in research, including locating relevant materials and writing in an efficient and timely manner with correct referencing

Enhance communication skills through in-class/online discussions and presentations.

General Assessment Information

Indicative examples of assessment tasks will be available on iLearn.

Assessment tasks are compulsory and must be submitted on time. Assessment tasks handed in early will not be marked and returned before the due date.

If a student is prevented by serious and unavoidable disruption from completing unit requirements in accordance with their ability, they may apply for support under the Special Consideration Policy. To access this support, students must notify the university via ask.mq.edu.au. Students should refer to the Special Consideration Policy for further information (see the link provided in the 'Policies and procedures' section of this unit guide).

Late Assessment Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Delivery and Resources

REQUIRED AND RECOMMENDED TEXTS AND/OR MATERIALS

No Textbook or Course Note is required for this unit.

Students will be required to read Murasaki Shikibu's The Tale of Genji in any language.

Norma Field's The Splendor of Longing in the Tale of Genji (Princeton University Press, 1987) is strongly recommended, although currently out of print (it is worthwhile to obtain a second-hand copy, if possible. A Japanese translation of the book is also available).

TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED

Online Unit

Login is via: <https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/>

Is my unit in iLearn?: <http://help.ilearn.mq.edu.au/unitsonline/> to check when your online unit will become available.

Technology

Students are required to have regular access to a computer and the internet. Mobile devices alone are not sufficient.

For students attending classes on campus we strongly encourage that you bring along your own laptop computer, ready to work with activities in your online unit. The preferred operating system is Windows 10.

Students are required to access the online unit in iLearn by the end of Week 1 and follow any relevant instructions and links for downloads that may be required. If applicable, students are required to download the relevant language package prior to Week 2.

Please contact your course convenor before the end of Week 1 if you do not have a suitable laptop (or tablet) for in-class use.

Graduate Capabilities

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Apply the concept of 'intertextuality' to understand the creation of The Tale of Genji and diverse art forms and scholarly works inspired by the tale
- Generate informed and original analysis of The Tale of Genji and express this in a focused, analytical and cohesive manner in oral and written form

Assessment tasks

- Research Database
- Your Genji Presentation
- Essay Presentation
- 2,000-word Essay

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate initiative and competence in research, including locating relevant materials and writing in an efficient and timely manner with correct referencing
- Enhance communication skills through in-class/online discussions and presentations.

Assessment task

- 2,000-word Essay

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate an insight into The Tale of Genji, especially its literary and psychological depiction
- Demonstrate an insight into the historical, socio-cultural, aesthetic and psychological background of The Tale of Genji, mainly of the Heian noble society
- Apply the concept of 'intertextuality' to understand the creation of The Tale of Genji and diverse art forms and scholarly works inspired by the tale

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate an insight into The Tale of Genji, especially its literary and psychological depiction
- Demonstrate an insight into the historical, socio-cultural, aesthetic and psychological background of The Tale of Genji, mainly of the Heian noble society

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate an insight into the historical, socio-cultural, aesthetic and psychological background of The Tale of Genji, mainly of the Heian noble society

- Apply the concept of 'intertextuality' to understand the creation of The Tale of Genji and diverse art forms and scholarly works inspired by the tale

- Demonstrate initiative and competence in research, including locating relevant materials and writing in an efficient and timely manner with correct referencing

Assessment task

- 2,000-word Essay

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Generate informed and original analysis of The Tale of Genji and express this in a focused, analytical and cohesive manner in oral and written form
- Enhance communication skills through in-class/online discussions and presentations.

Assessment tasks

- Unit Participation

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Generate informed and original analysis of The Tale of Genji and express this in a focused, analytical and cohesive manner in oral and written form

Socially and Environmentally Active and Responsible

We want our graduates to be aware of and have respect for self and others; to be able to work with others as a leader and a team player; to have a sense of connectedness with others and country; and to have a sense of mutual obligation. Our graduates should be informed and active participants in moving society towards sustainability.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Enhance communication skills through in-class/online discussions and presentations.
